Chicago was full of wonderful and exciting things last week during the ACP Convention. There was "Inherit the Wind," "Hiroshima, Mon Amour," "The World of Alps," an Italian film I wanted to see, and several plays produced by local groups and road companies.

In the midst of all this, I got to see "Bulterfield 8." Please, don't envy me too much. You too can see this work, if you care to bother. Mostly it is an exploitation film, it exploits Elizabeth Taylor's intense beauty and lack of acting ability. It screams with Edie Fisher's inane acting. And it is a perfect example of wasted talent in the roles assigned to Laurence Harvey, Kay Medford and Mildred Dunnock.

There was one good scene in the "film"—one between Miss Taylor, her mother and a neighbor. But I think that the price of movie theaters are too high to go and see one scene. Miss "Bulterfield 8" and save your money. I also saw a very tired road show of "Flower Drum Song" while in the Windy City. The sets, designed by Oliver Smith, were tremendous and beautifully done. The girls in the show were fair. Miss Marjorie Stewart and Mr. James Scully, advisors to the class, will also be introduced. Any sophomores wishing to work on a class project, either as a committee member or host, will be able to obtain petitions at this meeting.

The Sophomore Class held its first meeting of the year Tuesday, Dec. 6, at 1 p.m. in Annie Law Auditorium. This meeting is designed to unite sophomores and acquaint them with the aims and future activities of the class. Among the plans of the class is a caroling party, to be held during the Christmas season. The event was initiated by last year's class, as all traveled together to entertain patients at General Hospital. So good was the response that it is hoped that the Christmas caroling party will eventually become a tradition.

The meeting offers all sophomores a chance to meet their officers and cabinet members.

"The Intelligence Quotient of Ned Futty"

Chloe McFeters was a beautiful soul who majored in psychology and worked in the L.Q. testing department of the University. She worked there because she loved and admired intelligence above all things, "Love and admire intelligence above all things," is the way she put it.

Ned Futty, on the other hand, was a man who could take intelligence or leave it alone. What he loved and admired above all things was girls. "What I love and admire above all things is girls" is the way he put it.

One day Ned saw Chloe on campus and was instantly smitten. "I know her face," he said, tracing at his forehead, "Will you marry me?"

She looked at him, shook her ample black-stemmed glasses, her two-day beard, his grizzly T-shirt, his tattooed jeans, his discomposing tennis shoes. "You are unattractive," she admitted, "but for some reason I am not enough. Intelligence is what I'm looking for. Come to the L.Q. testing department with me."

"Of course, my tiger," cried Ned and gripped and smote his blue beard and bit Chloe's ear and spanked gentiles after her to the L.Q. testing department.

"First, I will test your vocabulary," said Chloe.

"It's my guess," laughed Ned and licked her palm.

"What does judoexposition mean?"

"Plato," he said, confused and muddled her knuckles.

"How are you feeling?"

"Never heard of it," gruffed Ned, plucking his face into bridge.

"Fortissimo!"

"With fur on it," said Ned dubiously.

"Oh, Ned Futty," said Chloe, "you are dumb. Consequently I cannot be your girl because I love and admire intelligence above all things."

"But," he flung himself on the floor and clapped her ankles. "But I love you," he cried in anguish. "Do not send me from you or you will be the world's number one."

"Oh," she said coldly. "Love and mate, it was his painful way to the door. There he stopped and lit a cigarette. Then he opened the door and started away to his grey and gristy future.

"Sorry?" asked Chloe.

"I am," he said.

"Then come to me and be my love," cried Chloe joyously.

"You are not dumb. You are not dumb. Anybody is smart to smoke Marboro, the filter cigarette with the unfiltered taste which comes to you in soft pack or flip-top box at prices all can afford at tobacco counters, drugstores, groceries, restaurants and tobacco counters all over America. Ned, lover, give me a Marboro and marry me."

And they married happily ever after.

Four Coeds Will Vie In Debate Contest

The Wean's State Debate Tournament will be held this year at Capital University in Columbus on Dec. 3. Fifteen teams, all from Ohio, will compete in three rounds of debating on Friday and Saturday.

The topic this year is "Resolved That the United States Should Adopt a Program of Community Health Insurance for all Citizens."

Janet Miller, N.A.H. 60, and Juan Thompson, A&S-TU 60, will debate the affirmative, while Pat Boyen, N.A.H. 63, and Linda Schaffner, A&S-TU 60, will debate the negative. These girls had debated last year.

"Naturally they'll do their best," noted Dr. Randolph Verderber, speech director. "They have the ability, and should place high in the context."

Cagers To Face Broncos, Miami

By Steve Weber

A pair of Mid-American title contenders, Western Michigan and Miami, are second and third on the imposing list of Bearcat opponents this year.

Coach Don Bowen, starting his third year of coaching at Western Michigan, brings the 20-7-1 Bearcats into the Civic Auditorium Saturday night for the second battle of the longest series in the history of the Michigan school. The Citizens are considered to be the team to beat in the Mid-American Conference and the strength of this list勿 returning from last year's 19-5-1 club.

The probability of a thriller again is impossible to overstate. A match of the Bearcats will be more into their new Olympic pool than the Buckeyes and this team seems to know just when to modulate itself. It is also the opening of the first year of NCAA championships.

Four home meets will be held at the Central High pool with an at least outstanding line-up featuring.

In Volleyball Moves Ahead; Swimming Next

Swimming is the next sport on the schedule. The meet will begin on Wednesday, Dec. 7, and Thursday, Dec. 8 at 1 p.m. in the Gym. Entries close Friday.

The team winning most number of points wins 25 points for the meet. The second place adds to the additional points the .

Bearcats Close 1960 Season As They Fall Below 500

1960 football season ended on a note of frustration for the Cincinnati Bearcats, who barely missed a chance for a 500 season by dropping a 10-6 decision to Miami (Ohio) in the final.

Actually, the Cats 46 record barely can be called disappointing, given as it was considered something of a lucky gain, as the Bearcats lost 8 of 10 games, by winning their first three games, they actually had a shot of finishing in the top 8.

As it turned out, the "miss" of Miami's schedule was in the last two-thirds of the season. The 10 wins of the Bearcats included those by the usual suspects, but with 8 of the last 10 games, in the first half. The 10 losses of the season, all by conference teams.

Unseasoned Band Takes the Field

The 1960 Bearcats, with a strong 4-2-1 record, were led by the usual suspects, including Howard Dardeen who had 12 points. The Bearcats, who were expected to be strong, were led by Dardeen who had 12 points.

Wrestling Coach Looks Forward To New Season

UC’s second-year wrestling coach, Glenn Sample, is looking forward to the upcoming season with high optimism. Last year his charges compiled the most successful wrestling season in UC’s brief grappling history, but they compiled only a 2-5 mark.

This year Sample has a nucleus of five returning lettermen to mold a team around. The monogram winners and their weight classes are: Paul Flumming (123), Lou Thamer (157), Hurdle Phillips (147), Bill Marshall and John Medricka (177), and Jerry Phillips (approx.).

The 1960 schedule includes some of the better teams in the Mid-West. This is due to the fact that most of the opponents are from the neighboring state of Indiana where wrestling is a big sport in high school. However Sample says: “The class of wrestling at UC is definitely on the upgrade, and we aren’t playing easy for anyone this year.”

A total of 30 men reported for opening practices which is an encouraging sign in itself. Two of the boys, Jim Myron (147) and Bill Taylor (177), were intramural champions in their weight classes last year. Freshman Frank Shurt, New York State High School Champion in the 177-pound class should make the class the strong point of the team.

Still weak in the light weights with the Pending returning senior, Sample will attempt a juggling act to get the most points out of his boys.

Norm’s Notes

1960-61 UC Cagers — by Norm Aitken

With the 1960-61 Cincinnati basketball squad taking the floor tonight, the big question in the minds of most fans is how well the current Bearcat squad compares with the top-ranked Cincinnati teams of the past three years.

One can easily see that the Bearcats are in equal or the past performances of Coach Robertson, Ralph Davis and Co., but the 1960-61 Cincinnati team does have the potential to turn in a highly successful season record.

Even with the graduation of Oscar Robertson, Ralph Davis, and Larry Willey, new head coach Ed Jucker has a roster containing returning letterman and six standouts from last year’s freshman squad.

The guard position will be one of the strongest spots on the current Bearcat squad. Both Carl Bolden and Tom Suter played exceptionally last season, and their experience should prove beneficial in the current campaign. Furthermore, lettermen Jim Callhoun and sophomore Tony Yates and Larry Shingleton will provide the necessary depth at the guard spot.

Another veteran, 6-10 Paul “Dikie” Hogue will give the Bearcats the essential scoring and rebounding strength at the pivot position. Hogue, who showed continued improvement last year, will undoubtedly lead the Bearcat's scoring threat during the current campaign.

The tendency toward mediocre finds in rapid succession is Hogue’s only serious weakness and perhaps the most serious problem. If Hogue is forced to return to the bench, the ‘Cats will lack an ex-ured dorm to take the “Dikie” place. Returning lettermen Fred Decker and Ron Reis saw only limited action last season, while sophomore Dale Reddixing is completely new in varsity competition. Reddixing did average 14.8 points and 12.9 rebounds as a freshman, but it may take time for the lanky cager to adapt to varsity play.

UC will depend on veteran Bobbi Weinman and Sandy Pomoietz as well as fresh standouts Tom Thacker to carry the load at the forward spot. Weinman has always been a flashy competitor and will team up with Hogue in working the boards.

Thacker, who stands only 6-2 led last year’s freshman with a 1.87 scoring average and a 3.63 rebounding average. Thacker’s scoring ability should not be a starting hurdle before the season is very old. Promoters should also aid the Cincinnati scoring attack, although he still needs to improve his rebounding and defensive ability.

In summary, the Bearcats should have a solid starting unit, but lack an experienced bench, especially at the center position.

Bradley, St. Louis, Houston, Wichita, Daytona and Xavier should provide the stiffest competition for Cincinnati.

Two new plaques were added to the wall inside the lobby of the Multifields this week. One is inscribed with the more prominent accomplishments of Oscar Robertson as well as his three year scoring and rebound averages. The other plaque contains the honors and records gained by the 1959-60 Cincinnati basketball team.

Oscar Robertson currently holds 17 of the 21 types of individual UC basketball records kept by the Cincinnati Sports Potamir Office. The “Big O” also lays claim to 12 of the 19 present Missouri Valley Conference cup records.

Bearcat tackle Ron Kostelnik, who has been selected to play in the annual North-South All-Star game on December 20.

Malanga To Represent UC in National Poetry Anthology

Gerard Malanga, AA major, has been chosen by the National Poetry Award Committee of Ohio State University in Columbus, Ohio, for the University of Cincinnati in its "Annual Anthology of College Poetry." The anthology is a compilation of the finest poetry written by college students in the United States and Canada. It is not our intention here to dwell on the personal lives of the poets, but to emphasize the poetry itself. The Anthology is a publication of Creative Writing at Ohio State University. In addition to the poetry, it includes interviews with students and professors, and a foreword by the editor, Ms. Malanga. The anthology will be published in the Fall of 1960.

Mr. Malanga

If you have heard a radio or television ad for the "spicy," "hot" or "fizzy" drink, you may be interested in knowing that such drinks are often used as part of a marketing strategy. The Mayrabo, a non-alcohol drink, is a popular example of such a drink. It is advertised as being "spicy," "hot" or "fizzy" to appeal to consumers who are looking for a quick fix.

The Campus Bridge A Close Call
by Jerry Steuernagel

The following hand illustrates how far a pair can go with a little courage and a lot of bad bidding. This was played by Ward Wells (North) and the author (South) in a recent match held by the EC Bridge Club. The hand also shows how a winning player must take advantage of all situations which may arise in tournament competition.

North

S J 10976
H K Q 10
D K 10 4
C Q 10 8 7 6

East

K Q 5 3
Q 10 9 7
K 10 9 4
Q J 10 8 4

South

K 3
9 7 6 4
A 9 8 2

West

K 9 7
Q 10 9 8 7
A K 10 9 8 7

North opened the bidding with 1 Spade. This does not meet with the author's approval since the hand contains only 12 points and does not contain the requisite 2% quick tricks. It is noted, however, that the hand's distribution makes the overall picture of the hand look a little better. South responded with the standard jump shift of 3 Clubs. North now realized that the hand was getting out of control and therefore tried to slow things up with 4 Spades. Over this South showed the Clubs were rebiddable by saying 4 Clubs.

Dick Cotton knew he wanted to take the engineering route into management long before he joined New Jersey Bell Telephone Company. In fact, it was his goal when he was working for his engineering degree at Rutgers.

When he graduated, he had his lines out to eleven other companies. He came to New Jersey Bell because “I didn’t feel I was just a number to these people. There was no doubt in my mind that this job would be the best for the long pull.”

His first assignment was a tough one. A complicated multi-line telephone exchange in the path of the approach to the new traffic level of the George Washington Bridge on the Hudson. Dick’s job was to find the most practical and economical way to route these calls at the same time to provide for future telephone growth in the area around the bridge approach.

Dick found that one out and got a crack at another tough job.

Next stop: New Jersey Bell Headquarters Engineering Staff, Special Studies Group. Here Dick was a member of a four-man team whose job was to find ways to eliminate some of the routine work of field engineers to give them “more time to think.” Dick also helped plan and control a $100,000,000 annual telephone construction budget.

Presently, Dick is responsible for telephone equipment engineering projects in the Camden, New Jersey, area.

How does Dick look at it? “This is a growing business. I work with this growth every day. And growth means more room at the top. Of course, I don’t figure I’ll get there overnight—but on my jobs so far I’ve had a chance to take a good look at how this business is run. And I think the sky’s the limit for a man who really wants to work for it.”

If you’re a guy who can tackle a tough job and deliver the goods—then you’re the kind of man who should find out more about the Bell Companies. Visit your Placement Office for literature and additional information.

by O'Neill as the Average Woman. A recent UC graduate and ex-president of the Guild, Bob Sotcher was an extremely capable and effective Jones. Playbill's overall effect was good but a few moments of the cast missed the point of the play and their vocalizations showed it. With "The Sign of Jonah" as an opener and our Chicago experiences as the main course, I returned to Cincinnati for dessert. The Playbill in the production of George Bernard Shaw's "Androcles and the Lion" was adequately filling.

Dr. David Lipsitch, Associate Professor of Mathematics, will conduct a new television series on UC's Home beginning Sunday, Dec. 6. This program will be televised at 12 noon over WCVT, Channel 2.

Dr. Lipsitch will discuss new approaches developed for the teaching of mathematics over the last few years, and explain why parents find increasing difficulty in helping their children with homework in this field.

Personal Library

May Get Prize

Competition is now open at the University of Cincinnati for the Bernard SHounk book prize offered annually to UC students having outstanding personal library collections.

First prize is $50. One or more additional prizes totaling $50 may be awarded at the discretion of the judges. The book prize, a Hamlin Bannerman, is sponsored by the Library.洞 of the prizes is Bernard SHounk Jr., former owner of the UC Library and well-known Cincinnati bookstore proprietor.

Any full-time student under 25 years of age may enter by submitting to the committee by March 1 a list of the books in his collection, plus a 500-word statement describing the rationale of the collection.

Main consideration in selecting winners: Discrepancy with which the collection has selected books within the field of his choice and the uses to which these books have been put by the student.

YWCA Plans Tree Trimming

The University YWCA has planned a busy schedule for December, with a "tree-trimming" party on Dec. 5 headlining the list.

Ritman's Receiving Hospital for psychiatric patients will be the object of the Y's 1960-1961 Community Service Project directed by Sandy Reed, Pharm. '61. Volunteers are needed as receptionists and in recreational and physical therapy for one or more hours a week.

The main focus of the Project will be centered on two parties given by the Y at the hospital. The first of these will be held Dec. 10 at 2 p.m. Both members and non-members are urged to participate in the party by offering time and talent at the party itself, and in various skills to be presented. These directing transportation to the hospital on Dec. 19 can obtain it at the Y.

World Refugee Week will be one of the largest projects of the Y this year, with Sandy Krous, TC '62, as chairman. WRR will be held during the first two weeks of December, with accent upon the week of December 13-17. This final project of the year will begin at the all-membership dinner on Dec. 12.

During World Refugee Week, volunteers are needed to distribute information to religious foundations and social groups. An appeal also will be made to the campus for a small donation of money. Clothes will be collected at the Y, foundations, and Greek organizations. The money and clothes donated will then be sent to refugees here and abroad.

"OTHELLO"

by William Shakespeare

Lee Roy Roams, a freshman majoring in Theater Arts, will also appear in "Othello." Seen recently in "The Sign of Jonah" he is employed by a local television station where he performs weekly.

Jadene Barber, who received the Guild's best actress award last year for her performance in "Medea Saber" will play the part of Desdemona, Othello's wife.

Ed Gregg, Joe Zima and Dick Snyder are featured players in the Mummers Guild production of "Othello." Both Gregg and Snyder will be making their UC theatrical debuts. Zima was to have appeared in last year's production of "Othello," but had to drop out of the show because of illness. All will portray Venetian lords.

"Othello" is the first Shakespearean production for each of the three actors. Zima, Gregg and Snyder seem to feel the same about their roles. This detailed study of Shakespeare will enable them to understand and enjoy the Bard more thoroughly.
