Sen. Goldwater To Speak Mon. At Cincy Garden

"When is Love Enough?" will be in Cincinnati to deliver his first major policy speech of the campaign. The speech is entitled "One Year of the Frontier - A Critical Analysis."

The speech will be given at the Cincinnati Garden and will start at 8:30 p.m. Admission is free and seating will be on a first-come, first-served basis. The Republican Club of Hamilton County is sponsoring the event.

Sen. Goldwater is one of the foremost proponents of conservation in the country. Born in 1909 in Phoenix, Arizona, he attended the University of Arizona where he was a member of Sigma Chi fraternity. Upon his father's death, Judy went to work as a telephone operator. In 1937 he became president of the company.

Preliminary war and Senator Goldwater served as a pilot with the Air Force rising to the rank of Lt. Col. During the Korean War he was aide General in the Air Force Reserve.

Senator Goldwater broke into politics in 1949 by being elected to the Phoenix city council. In 1952 he ran for the Senate against Matthew Wilder and won an "impossible" victory. On the election eve the odds were ten to one, but Senator Goldwater won.

In 1958 he again ran against McFarland, a former senator, and won easily, carrying all but three counties.

Senator Goldwater's political career has been distinguished by his fight against labor union corruption and big government. Through Senator Robert Taft of Ohio he obtained a seat on the Senate Labor and Public Welfare Committee his first year.

Many times Senator Goldwater has been a lone voice. He was the only one to oppose the Kennedy-Edin labor reform bill of 1959. He spoke out for states' rights and opposed the use of federal troops in the Little Rock segregation issue of 1957.

Ottawa was a leader of the conservative movement in the United States. Senator Goldwater possesses a charming personality and a brilliant speaking voice. He is in great demand by organizations and universities throughout the country.

University Glee Club Returns From Tour

The University Glee Club has returned from a very successful tour of the Northeast Ohio, Western Pennsylvania area. Seven programs were given in the four day period.

"The Play's the Thing." First annual concert before an enthusiastic high school audience. The Glee Club members toured the main business district of Galion and returned to a local church for an evening dinner in high spirits. An evening concert was given for the Galion populace at the school.

Starting out the next morning, the Glee Club traveled to Wooster, Ohio where a high school assembly was presented. That afternoon an assembly was given in Medina.

Traveling on to Warren, Ohio for an evening performance, the Glee Club was hosted by the Warren area UC alumni group at a local church.

At dinner, a special preview performance was given at the request of the management. After an evening concert, the reception was held for Warren alumni.

Surfing at eight o'clock Saturday morning, the two buses departed for Bradford, Pennsylvania, one hundred and fifty miles away. Arriving late in the afternoon, a dinner was given for the members of the Glee Club at the Hotel Emily in Bradford. This last concert was presented to an overflow audience and was followed by a reception in the high school cafeteria.

The sponsors of the concert, the Exchange Club of Bradford, showed their appreciation for a successful concert by taking many members of the group and the chaperones on a tour of the city. The buses left early Sunday morning for the hundred mile trip home.

Chauvenet for the trip included Mr. and Mrs. Robert L. Garretson and Miss Sherry Barnum of the College of Nursing and Health.

The concerts, presented before more than five thousand people, included a diversified selection of musical selections, ranging from the sacred to the secular. A highlight of the concert was the appearance of the University Singers and the Men's Octet.

Senior Gifts In Place; Five Given University

This year marks the beginning of a new organization at UC—the UC Student Section of the American Institute of Physics. There are about 100 such Student Sections at universities and colleges all over the country with a total membership of approximately 4,000 students.

The Student Section is designed to “foster an interest in the advancement and diffusion of knowledge of the science of physics” and to give young physicists the opportunity of meeting and talking with professional physicists in various industries and fields of research.

The Section is open to junior, senior and graduate students majoring in physics at UC. Meetings are held once a month during the academic year and the program includes lectures, demonstrations, and tours of industries in which physics is being actively applied.

Anyone who is interested in the UC Student Section of the AIP should contact me of the officers: Peter Horny, president; Ben Blackburn, vice president; Don Galvin, treasurer; or Peggy Helset, secretary.

RING IN THE NEW

Are you still writing “1961” on your papers and letters? I bet you wish you didn’t! It is foolish to write with those who forget we are in a new year, for I myself have long been guilty of the same lapses. In fact, in my senior year at college, I wrote 1872 on my papers until nearly November of 1874! (It turned out, incidentally, not to be such a serious error because, as we all know, 1874 was later repealed by President Chester A. Arthur in a fit of pique over the Black Tom Explosion. And, as we all know, Mr. Arthur later came to regret his hasty action. He does not recall that famous meeting between Mr. Arthur and Louis Napoleon when Mr. Arthur said, “Len, I wish I hadn’t of repealed 1874.” Whereupon Mr. Napoleon, in his immortal phrase, “Qui que vous etes et fleur,” said, “Well sir, they had many a good laugh about that.”)

But I digress. How can we remember to write 1962 on our papers and letters? Well sir, the best way is to find something memorable about 1960, something unique to fix it firmly in your mind. Happily, this is very simple because, as we all know, 1960 divided by 2 is 980; 1960 divided by 4 is 490 1/2; 1960 divided by 5 is 392 1/5. This mathematical curiosity will not occur again until the year 2079, but we will all be so busy then somewhere celebrating the Cluster A. Arthur bicentenary that we will surely have time to be writing papers and letters and like that.

Another clever little trick to fix the year 1962 in your mind is to remember that 1962 spelled backwards is 219. “Year spelled backwards is a “racy” Marlboro.” Spelled backwards, “Marlboro” is “robalm.” Marlboro mouthed backwards is no fun at all. Kindly do not light the filter. What you do is put the filter end in your lips, then light the tobacco end, then draw, and then find out what pleasure, what joy, what rapture serene it is to smoke the filter cigarette with the unfiltered taste. In 1962, as in ones and future years, you’ll get a lot to like in a Marlboro—available in soft pack and flip-top box in all 50 states and in once and future years, you’ll get a lot to like in a Marlboro—available in soft pack and flip-top box in all 50 states and Delilah.

But I digress. We were speaking of the memorable aspects of 1962 and high among them, of course, is the fact that in 1962 the entire House of Representatives stands for election. In 1962 the entire House of Representatives stands for election. There will, no doubt, be many lively and interesting contests, but none that I expect to be so indelibly imprinted on the memory of the voters in my own district where the leading candidate is none other than Chester A. Arthur!

Mr. Arthur, incidentally, is not the first ex-president to come out of retirement and run for the House of Representatives. John Quincy Adams was the first. Mr. Adams also adds another distinction: he was the first son of a president to serve as president. It is true that Martin Van Buren’s son, Walter “Billy” Van Buren, was at one time offered the nomination for the presidency, but, alas, he had already accepted a bid to become Mad Ludwig of Bavaria. James K. Polk’s son, on the other hand, became Benjamin P. Chase. Millard Filtmore’s son went into air conditioning. This later was known as the Missouri Compromise.

Close-up of one of the maps given by the Senior Class.

By Ron Brauer

Have you noticed the three-dimensional relief maps located at five strategic points on campus? They are vacuum-formed plastic maps formed from a master copy. The replicas of campus buildings are encased in aluminum under glass.

William Jenke, assistant dean of administration stated the maps total cost was $1,600. The money was donated by last year’s Senior Class. The money was donated through deposits from caps and gowns.

The money was donated in five, ten and fifteen dollar amounts by about 1200 students or approximately thirty per cent of the Seniors. "This is more than ever before," said Dean Nester, Student Council advisor.

The map stands have been constructed in front of the Administration Building, in front of Mr. Micken Hall, near the front of the Fieldhouse, on the North side of Wilson Auditorium and to the rear of the Law School near the walk.

The past three years the money was donated as part of these refunds. However in 1960 a unique insurance plan was created. Each student who donated ten dollars bought an individual policy. Each student who donated

Goldwater To Speak

Senator Barry Goldwater will speak at the Cincinnati Garden Monday night at 8:15 p.m. Senator Goldwater is one of the more controversial figures on the American political scene and is well-known for his out-spoken conservatism. He has been hailed as a savior by some and condemned as a heartless reactionary by others. His book, "The Conscience of a Conservative," has been read by liberals as well as conservatives and today remains as one of the top sellers.

Goldwater's political philosophy is relatively simple. He calls for a drastic reduction in government programs particularly in the areas of welfare and social services. He demands a win or die attitude towards Communism including the withdrawal of U.S. forces if they are demanded in an area, a reduction in the size of the United States Armed Forces and an aggressive offensive in Communist-threatened areas. He feels that the government should strictly follow the Constitution and states' rights be preserved at all costs. He attacks Republican and Democrat alike, and in return, is viciously attacked himself.

Whether you are liberal or conservative, there is no doubt that Senator Goldwater is indeed an outstanding man. He is a brilliant orator and is in great demand throughout the country. Therefore, Cincinnati should feel privileged to have the opportunity to hear this man, particularly we college students.

The News Record emphatically recommends that all students hear this speech.

Student Council A Bust?"All quiet on the western front" seems to be the dominant attitude as election time rolls around again. Such is the normal state of affairs on this campus, but this year conditions seem even quieter than normal.

Certainly Student Council has not helped the situation. Not only do they have to cope with the last minute rush to pass election rules, but they fall miserably to put out any advance publicity. Since a good number of the representatives do not attend the meeting anyway, little can be expected.

One wonders, too, why students run for office. It cannot be that they have any outstanding ideas or determination for action in regard to campus politics; for, if asked why they are running, they usually stutter and stammer for an answer and find some excuse to leave the scene. Probably most of them run just to see their name on the ballot or brag to their friends about how important they are. How can any expect student leaders to arise from such poor choices as these?

There is also the problem that most students do not bother to vote. This means that the groups that do push their candidates have a virtually open field; an independent has almost no chance to be elected except in the most minor offices. The largest group, GGG, will probably sweep the field again as they did last year simply because (as small as they really are) they control more students than anyone else. No big issue seems to be forthcoming which may in part account for the lack of interest. It would seem that an issue could be found if anyone would really look for one. Certainly there must be something on this campus that could excite students; if there is not, then elections should be done away with entirely.

With the exception of the News Record is going to ask candidates for Student Council several questions, the answers of those on the ballot for Section I will be printed in the next issue. Maybe then we shall learn what brilliant ideas the otherwise silent candidates have.

Letters To The Editor

To The Editor:

I have read with interest your editorial comments about right to opinion. I have had no disagreement about freedom of the press or about the opinions of presentment of a diversity of constructive opinions on various matters. I am sure that the N.R. is not a sewing circle bulletin and that various bits of wisdom and wit have contributed to its merit, by such authors as C. Ford, M. Z. and many others.

I am very glad to know that the repertoire of knowledge was published in 1960 by Krumholtz when he said: "We cannot expect the Americans to jump from capitalism to communism, but we can assist their elected leaders in giving Americans small doses of socialism until they suddenly awake and find they have communism."

Now, I suppose any American even an adolescent prophet of socialism has a right to his opinion. He might even write an article (or column) about socialism. Before accepting any such article for publication, however, any publication with respect to truth should require that the material be half- way found in fact. It would be of interest, I think, to know here in print the source of Mr. Hamilton's facts. Such sources as Dept. of Commerce, Internal Revenue Department, etc. would be most appreciated.

Smith H. Gibson, M. D.

To The Editor:

Conditions which should not occur are those which prevent the students of this university from assembling to express their opinion, or to publish those ideas which they feel are important. As an example, the restrictions on circulation of the Daily campus newspaper are annoying and prevent the students from expressing their views in an organized manner.

One of the most important restrictions is that the newspaper must be submitted to the review of the dean of the faculty before it can be published. This review is made by a committee which consists of the dean of the faculty and two unaffiliated members. The restrictions placed on the Daily campus newspaper are, in my opinion, a violation of the First Amendment of the U.S. Constitution and are a violation of the rights of the students to freedom of expression.

I hope that the Daily campus newspaper will continue to publish its opinions and ideas in a free and open manner.

Band Season Starts For '62 Saturday

Saturday, Feb. 10, 1962, brings up the curtain on the 1962 concert season of the University of Cincinnati Bands.

On this date the UC Concert Band, conducted by Professor R. Robert Hornsby, will present the Winter Pops Concert. During the past thirty years many gifted young American composers have seen their emerging symphonic or concert band music of the American colleges and universities, a very promising and challenging musical medium. As a result many important and interesting musical compositions have been added to the repertoire of the concert band. And it is from this imposing array of fine music that the UC Concert Band draws the featured music of the Winter Pops Concert. Don Gillis' Symphonic Portrait in Oil, Tulas, will open the Winter Pops Concert. This work from the pen of one of America's gifted young composers, typifies the native spirit of American music. In its many performances throughout the world TULSA has been received with great acclaim.

Its melodies, drawn from the American scene, have proved versatile and popular to concerts of all ages.

SYMPHONIC SUITE by Clifton Williams, which provides another work which has been proven to be very popular with audiences throughout America. The imposing title does not truly project the versatility of the work. One must hear the Suite to realize the talent of the composer, Clifton Williams, and the unmistakable American flavor Williams has injected into the work.

For those who favor the intensity of chamber music the collection of melodies of William Byrd, the 16th century Englishman, by Gordon Jacob into his 1962 at 8:15 p.m. There will be no admission charge.

MARGOLIS GETS NEW AWARD

The first fellowship ever awarded to a philosopher for psychiatric-philosophic study by the National Institute of Mental Health has been given to Dr. Joseph Margolis, of the University of Cincinnati's department of philosophy.

Announcement was made by Dr. Campbell Crockett, dean of the UC Graduate School. At the same time he awarded another "first" for UC. Establishment of a graduate program for doctoral study in the philosophical implications and presuppositions of psychiatry.

UC is believed to be the only university in the United States to inaugurate such a program.

The twin firsts are the natural outgrowth of the recognition of the close relationship between philosophy and psychiatry and its encouragement during the past 12 years by Dr. Maurice Levine, head of the UC College of Medicine's psychiatry department, Dr. Crockett said.

Associate professor of philosophy in the College of Arts and Sciences, Dr. Margolis is also senior research associate, department of psychiatry, College of Medicine, a position generally held by Dean Crockett.

Dr. Margolis joined the faculty at UC in 1959 as visiting professor in the departments of psychology, sociology, philosophy, and literature, and is now an associate in psychiatry. The National Institute of Mental Health, a division of the United States Department of Health, Education, and Welfare, has been giving awards in this field, he said, for many years.

Letters...

(Continued from Page 4) Some prominent realized that much of Paul's success is developed in the strenuous practices sessions. Here he is harassed and badgered by another 600—individual, an individual who, when he steps onto the court is greeted by all kinds of abuse, cat-calls, and, as of last night, a roaring mob of an equally large student body. We might recall the oft used quote of Paul Brodie, recently appointed associate in psychiatry, "A team is only as strong as it's weakest man, for it is in practice that All-Americans are born." If this type of cheerleading continues to persist, we, the ordinary students, can only blame ourselves for our team's failings.

In the future I hope the student body realizes the importance of every man and woman to the entire team, as each in a sense is, as All-Americans.

DANNY WAX '65

To the Editor:

While you're at it Mr. Hamlin, why not put all teachers, athletes, lawyers, doctors, and scientists under your command? We can come much more support or better yet, go to Russia. They have the system working in full efficiency.

According to your article, the objection to the medical profession is not that it is a monopoly which fixes its prices. Have you forgotten that all barbers get the same exorbitant price for cutting hair. In fact, milk drivers, automobile mechanics, and everyone else working under a union in a sense fixes their prices.

In relation to incompetent doctors, I am sure some patients who were also same incapable and incompetent of teaching the future citizens of America, I am quite sure that there are incompetent people in every profession, so why pick on medicine.

As far as doctors or the AMA charging too much, I'm sure that you would do the same if you went through four years of premed, four years of medical school, two years of internship, and a three to four-year residency before you made a single cent to offset the tremendous costs of your fifteen years of education. The doctors, people who have large medical bills are generally given all the time they need to pay their bills. For those who cannot afford to pay the doctor in full, I do not want any of my liberties, nor medical care.

In the past few years, my parents have both undergone major surgery and both were saved from death. Yes, the bills were high, but to keep them alive and well and we would have gone everyday, this same situation; if we went to the hospitals where our doctors hand to us are priceless gifts.

And furthermore, even if the expenses of competent medical care were reduced to the price of a pound of potatoes, I believe the majority of free Americans would not be able to pay the price of a specific doctor merely because he is in charge of their district.

Also your plan of paying doctors even a very substantial salary would be no less than giving the profession and its members to become doctors. A doctor has many more reasons to devote his life to the profession than just money and being told who and when he can cure or operate on is definitely not one of them. I, as a free American, don't want any of my liberties taken away; not speech, religion, nor medical care.

Mummers Announce Next Play

by Nancy Fundack

"The Play's the Thing," a high-brow Italian comedy by Frederic Molnar, is next in line for production by the Mummers Guild Feb-

uary 22, 23, and 24. It has a simple set and a small cast but is loaded with laughs.

The setting of the play is a castle and the first person across the moat is Sandor Turai, a cross between Sherlock Holmes and Maurice Chevalier. Sandor is a playwright who writes a play in a play for a play to save a love affair.

Turai's closest friend and collaborator is Manski, a veritable Dr. Watson. The song writer for this group is Albert Adam, a success at 25 but still unspoiled by idol crushers.

Together the three face the world and make money with the help of their talented prima donna. Enter Elena, the beautiful actress who lives her life with the same dramatic flair she uses on the stage. With her is Almedy, a enormously bad actor. The high spots of comedy come with two characters, Dornachec and Miss Mel, who are so funny that talking about them will spoil their effect.

Sets for the show will be designed by Bill Akin, A&S '63, who has done many shows including Mummers productions of "The Skin of Our Teeth" and "South Pacific."

The costumes, most of which will be full dress, are being designed by Sue Sassar, AA '62.

Turai will be played by Mike Uffords, AA '67; Manski by Mar-

Almedy will be played by Dick VonHofmen, A&S TC '62; Swormec by Ray Grunninger, KNO '65; and Miss Mel by Marcia Lewis, N&H '64.

UNION CELEBRATES
UC Center To Be Feted
In Month-Long Program

University of Cincinnati students and staff members have completed plans for a mammoth month-long birthday celebration. Observation of the 25th anniversary of the completion of the campus Union Building will begin Feb. 12.

With all anniversary events open to UC's campus public and many of them free to the general public, they will include features designed to show the diversified uses and services of the Union Building.

Among them will be open houses art shows, motion picture showings, chamber music and jazz programs, a banquet, and exhibitions of bridge and billiards.

Principal members of Dean Bishop's committee include these students: Misses Jennie Bohn, Sally McCoy, Lee Gwinnett, Mary Ellen McCann, Bonnie Bizzari, and Elaine Betz; and Messrs. Bruce Heyman and Frank Leo.

Dr. Floyd L. Brewer is director of the Union and Kenneth Niehaus, Bus. Ad. `62, is president of the Union Board, a student-faculty policy-making body governing operations of the Union Building.

When opened in June of 1937, the building was generally recognized as one of the finest of its type on any campus. Financed by a Federal Public Works Administration grant and a city bond issue, the building originally cost $2,350,000. It is now valued, with contents, at $2,3 million.

The Union is of Georgian design, topped by UC's only clock tower from which at quarter-hour intervals sound the Sanford Brown memorial chimes—tribute to a noted UC graduate who was a long-time member of the University's Board of Directors.

The chimes were the gift of the late Herbert Greer French, for many years Mr. Brown's associate on the Union board.

The play was first produced in Cincinnati by the UC Mummer's Guild Carousel Theater division. Staged in Annie Laws Auditorium March 16-18, 1961, it featured Bob Moak as the lathsome and errie Krapp. An actor-off Broadway, and in professional civic theater for over ten years, Mr. Moak is currently in residence with the Cleveland Playhouse.

A native Cincinnatian, Mr. Moak has appeared locally in "The Glass Menagerie" produced by the Western Hills Players and has appeared in many of the Children's Theater plays. A frequent visitor to the UC Carousel Theater, his unforgettable performance in Beckett's "Waiting for Godot" won a special Carousel Theater Award. Presented in 1960, it marks the only award made in the ten-year life of this popular division of Mummer's Guild.

"Krapp's Last Tape" became the sensation of the off-Broadway season when it was produced early in 1960. It evolves shattering drama out of the monologue of a man who, after 30 years, plays back the autobiographical tape he had recorded on his thirty-ninth birthday.

The play will be produced in the Union Music Lounge. Mummer's Guild president, Dick Von Hoene, will play this unique tape, parts of which are from the actual 1960 performance featuring Mr. Moak.

Von Hoene will also appear in the Feb. 22-24 Mummer's Guild production of Ference Molnar's "The Play's the Thing." Tickets for this hilarious comedy will go on sale at the Grill ticket booth Feb. 19. Reservations may be made by phoning the Guild at UN 1-8000, ext. 307.

UC Swamps Drake, Overcomes UD Lead

By Steve Weber

In one of their most impressive victories of the year, the Bearcats rolled over Drake, an important conference foe, to the tune of 73-52.

The Bearcat offense moved in its usual spurtig style, while the defense dodged the opposition's rearguard to give the Cats a 22-22 lead at halftime.

At halftime the Cats, led by Paul Hogue's 15 points, had a 55.6 shooting percentage, and dominated the boards 16-12.

In the first two minutes of the second half Drake executed a minor rally, pulling within nine points at 28-39, but the Bulldogs never got any closer. The Cats opened their biggest lead with six minutes to go at 69-61.

In the highest scoring game of his career, Hogue scored 23 points on 13 of 17 from the field, and grabbed 15 rebounds.

In the process he became third highest career scorer in Bearcat history.

Also in double figures were the sophomores, Ron Bonham with 14 and George Wilson with 11. Wilson's 19 rebounds were tops for the game, as Cincy outrebounded Drake 54-22.

In one of the "Little Valley" contests, the Bearcats came back to an impressive 90-61 victory over Dayton after being down 52-58 at halftime.

With Tony Yates, Paul Hogue, and Ron Bonham sparking a torrid comeback, the Bearcats outscored Dayton 54-26 in the second half.

The Cats came out in the second half, and with the ball, the Bearcats took the lead after 4:12 and with eight minutes had a 10-point lead.

Cagers Find Rough Sledding In Texas But Gain Wins Over Cougars, Eagles

The Bearcats found some rough sledding in the Lone Star State last week, especially at Houston, but timely fouling and their usual fastbreaks helped bring victories over Houston 60-52 and North Texas 75-60.

The two wins were the fifth and sixth straight for Cincinnati, and gave UC a 3-2 record overall.

The North Texas win left Cincy with a 6-2 slate in the Missouri Valley Conference as they remain one game behind Bradley, who defeated Tulsa 52-50 and St. Louis 72-67.

The Cougars, extremely well drilled, under Coach Guy Lewis, played a finely disciplined game, and a packed house of 9280 at Delmar Fieldhouse came close to seeing an upset.

In the first half of the game, the "Cats" had a torrid pace, changing a 6-4 deficit into a 39-29 lead at halftime.

For most of the second half, the game was pretty much the same, with "Big George" hitting on seven of nine from the field.

Wilson and Paul Hogue combination for 36 points, and Dick Harger led everyone in both departments with 10 assists.

Colonials Here For Tilt Monday

The George Washington Colonials, paced by their sharpshooting 5-10 guard, Jon Feldman, face Coach Ed Jucker's Cincinnati Bearcats Monday night in the Armory Physical Education Building.

The Colonials, who had posted a disappointing 5-10 mark entering last Monday's contest against Virginia, have been led this year by the 22.9 average of the Newark senior, who tallied 41 earlier this season against George Washington.

Muscle and height, as well as a swinging punch, are supplied by the 6-3, 225-lb. sophomore center, Joe Adams, who although redshirted last season is scoring at a 14.8 ppg clip.

Handling the forward spots are 6-3, 195-lb. sophomore Gene Smith, 6-6 forward, and Tom Thacker, their strength against former collegians.

Once again the Bearcats face this season, were the fifth and sixth straight games for a 18.7 point average.

The other three positions on the team should be filled by center Mac Morrison (6-4) and forwards Jerry Malloy (6-4) and Pete Arato (6-4). They are the highlight for the Hurricanes so far this season was a 68-77 victory over highly rated Wichita.

In the season Texas was humbled 85-77 at St. Louis in the first loss of the season.

The starting line-up for the 'Cats was the same as that which started last weekend: center, Paul Hogue; forwards, Tony Yates and Ron Bonham; and guards, Tom Thacker and Tony Yates.

Earlam, Miami Next For Cincy Grapplers

by Jack Pirozi

Coach Glenn Sample's matmen currently own a respectable 5-2-2 record including a quadrangular victory. This week's wrestling schedule finds UC entertaining both Earlham College and Miami.

Earlam will be at the Armory Fieldhouse Feb. 9 at 4 p.m. Thus far the men from Earham have only one loss, coming at the hands of Miami. Miami has already faced UC twice this season, losing once in a quadrangular meet, and tying them 13-13 in a recent dual meet. Larry Janis in the 137-pound class and Dick Ornest in the 157-pound class are the mainstays of a fine wrestling squad.

On Jan. 13, the matmen were defeated 17-11 by Denison University. The only UC men to post victories were Hurdie Phillips 7-3 in the 167-pound class, Frank Shaut on a pin in the 187-pound class, and Jerry Phillips in the heavyweight division.

The matmen next invaded Marshall Feb. 20, and defeated this squad 28-8. Winners for UC were Paul Fleming 5-2 in the 125-pound class, Lou Thaman 12-2 in the 157-pound class, Jim Mahan 9-5 in the 167-pound class, Phillips 6-6 in the 187-pound class, Shaut 9-5 in the 217-pound class, and Gus Schmidt 10-9 in the heavyweight class.

On Jan. 26, the matmen wrestled Ball State to a 16-14 draw. Winners for the day were Thaman on a pin in the 137-pound class, Mahan 4-1 in the 147-pound class, Shaut 7-1 in the 177-pound class, and Schmidt 10-9 in the heavyweight class.

The matmen invaded Kent State on Jan. 27, and lost the match 17-9.

Loop Titles At Stake As IM Play Enters Final Stage

With a little more than two weeks of play remaining in the All-University Basketball League each division leader is undefeated. The six current kings are: Sigma Chi, Sigma Phi Epsilon, Sigma Alpha Epsilon, Rummiers, Triangles, and Alpha Tau Omega.

Last week's rather light card saw Sig Epsilon with Phi Tau 45-16 in 10 minutes of play. Peace Corps, with Rick Rooney garnering 21 points, subdued Men's Dorm 61-31. Lambda Chi clipped Phi Kappa 37-35, while the Owls flogged outmanned Alpha Sig 64-29.

In other games Sigma Chi whipped Epsilon 54-28 at Byers. Northern Illinois lost 30-20 to the YMCA.

Wrestling at the University of Cincinnati until recently was not much more than a skeleton in the closet. The sport was stopped in the late nineteenth twenties and was not resumed until the 1966-67 season under the coaching of Lee Haslinger.

Cincinnati has a problem that is unique to it alone. There is no high school wrestling within 100 miles of UC. As a result the grapplers must get their tutelage from scratch and develop under the able coaching of Glenn Sample. "In the last couple of years we have been fortunate to have some boys who picked up the sport as freshmen and now have developed into talented matmen," says Sample.

There are no full wrestling scholarships at UC and only a couple of slim tuition grants are available. All-State high school performers usually get a sizable chunk of scholarship at state-supported colleges or go to the college or university who gives large athletic grants, thus leaving the pickings mighty lean for the University of Cincinnati. A good example of this is that two of the opponents the Bearcat grapplers have met so far this year have had a total of ten All-Staters on their respective teams.

To further complicate things, UC is one of the few schools in the nation who has the co-op plan. Seven of the Bearcat grapplers did not begin practice until Jan. 8, well after the season had begun.

All of the picture is not dark, for Sample is rapidly building winning teams and spectator enthusiasm around Cincinnati. When Sample took over the coaching reins in the 1959-60 season he produced the most victories ever for a UC wrestling team in one season with a 2-6 record. Last year the wrestlers posted a fine 10-3 slate. In addition the attendance has risen from a small group to about 500 people at every match.

Not only has Sample built up wrestling almost single handedly at UC, but has held wrestling clinics for the local high school coaches in order that they might inspire enthusiasm and build a full program of wrestling in their school. Seven schools in Cincinnati have begun intramural and varsity programs in the mat sport and "it is just a matter of time until all the schools will have installed wrestling as an athletic activity," says Sample.

Some of the top wrestling powers in the nation have been added to the Bearcat schedule in the last few years. Names like Ball State, Notre Dame, Miami, Denison and Kent State hold a prominent place in the realm of wrestling.
Indiana Mauls Mermen 70-24; Ohio U., Kenyon Coming Foes

by Bud McCarthy

Kenyon University provides the competition in the next home swimming meet on Saturday, Feb. 17, at 2:30 in the afternoon. The Bearcat swimmers will meet Ohio University at Athens, Ohio, on the afternoon before. Cincinnati beat Kenyon by five points last year but knows very little about this year's team. "They will be trouble; they always have been," related coach Hartlaub.

Indiana University was the topic of discussion last week as the Hoosiers came to town led by a bevy of world record holders including All-American Chef Jastremski. Bath Cindy and IU were undefeated on the season but when the last wave had settled Indiana had achieved a 70-24 victory.

In every single event a new pool record was set; two by Cincinnati, eight by Indiana. To this Indiana also added a first place in the diving.

Highlight of the afternoon as far as the 200 plus Cincinnati fans were concerned was the 50 and 100-yard freestyle events. It was UC all the way as sophomore Jim Norman and Jumper Jim Marchetti took first and second respectively in each race. Norman set a new school record of 22.2 and 49.3 in the events and received a huge ovation after each victory.

The Hoosiers were the only ones to sweep the 50 and 100," replied Hartlaub after the meet. "I am pleasantly surprised by Norman's performance. In fact most of the boys swam their best ever and that is all you can hope for."

On January 16, UC defeated Bowling Green University to bring their record to 7-0 before Jastremski. Both Cincy and IU brought their record to 7-0 before Jastremski. Both Cincy and IU tied Indiana had achieved a 70-24 victory. "I did not expect to sweep in form," said Norman. "I'm surprised by Norman's performance. In fact most of the boys swam their best ever and that is all you can hope for."

Other swimmers who contributed include Dave Brunell, Verth, Sintz, Hayden, who still have their training to do. "I think we can beat Indiana," said Brunell. "I think we can beat Indiana," said Brunell. "I think we can beat Indiana," said Brunell. "I think we can beat Indiana," said Brunell.

A complete summary of the weekend swimming meet follows: CINCINNATI VARSITY VS. INDIANA

“No Exit” Reviewed
by Roger LeCompte

In “No Exit” Jean Paul Sartre has created a contemporary hell which is far worse than the generally current conceptions of it. Instead of torture machines, brimstone and intense fire, Sartre’s hell is psychological, accompanied only by the oppressing heat not unlike that of a modern office building in New York City when the air-conditioning has failed in the middle of July.

Into a closed room in this environment, Sartre inserted his three heroes: Garcin, a coward and a deserter, Inez, a cold cruel lesbian, and Estelle, a flippant creature concerned only with her passion and vanity, who killed the illegitimate daughter she bore.

Sartre has decorated his room in contemporary bad taste. A hideous statue dominates the room. It cannot be moved nor can the light be switched off. There is nothing that can mirror the image of the three except one of the others. The three are absolutely incompatible. Therefore, each of these is the hell for the others. They cannot escape even though they are given the apparent opportunity. Estelle with her passion for men must depend upon Inez to put on her lipstick straight and tell her how she looks. But Estelle cannot trust Inez. None of them can trust the other. Inez is tortured by her ownness. She can approach neither Estelle nor Garcin.

The Playhouse in the Park has done an excellent job in producing this play. All of the players do sterling jobs with their parts and the intimacy of the theater gives the play further impact. Also with “No Exit” is Sean O’Casey’s “Bite Time Story,” a very funny farce.

Antioch College To Give “J. B.”
By MacLeish

“Looking around at the wreckage and misery of the modern world, Mr. MacLeish has written a fresh and exciting morality that has great stature,” wrote drama critic Brooks Atkinson when Archibald MacLeish’s “J. B.” first opened.

A retelling of the Book of Job, the drama is slated for production by Antioch College on Feb. 9, 10, 11, and again Feb. 15, 16, 17 at 8:30 p.m. in the Theatre building.

J. B. is a typical modern businessman whose devout faith is quickly questioned by Satan. Thus challenged, God allows a series of disasters to assault him. He loses most of his fortune and family. War and an auto accident kill four of his children, while the fifth and last is murdered by a juvenile psychopath.

“Show me my sin,” J. B. cries to God as he suffers the final torture of radiation skin disease.

But before God answers, three Comforters arrive: a cleric who pins J. B. guilt to the feet of his birth, a Marxist who tells him he is not responsible for his own predetermined actions, and a psychologist who tells him he wants to punish himself.

In the end, J. B. denies the existence of justice but affirms human love. He and his wife will live together and “blow on the coals of the heart.”

After the Feb. 15 performance, Antioch professor of literature Judson Jerome will conduct an audience discussion period.

Doctors Remain Popular

A recent survey revealed that 96 per cent of the people like and respect their own doctors. Almost unanimously, those questioned agreed that their physician was capable, intelligent, personally interested, and gives enough time to his patient and is frank.

Four out of five people questioned in a recent survey stated that they didn't believe their doctor kept them waiting any longer than necessary.

In a recent survey of the general public, five out of six people said that they thought their doctor's fees were reasonable. Only one person in eight thought that his doctor's charges had gone up too fast.

Doctors do not observe a 40-hour week. The average physician devotes 60 hours per week to his practice and gives one hour out of eight to charity causes.

Eighty-five per cent of editors in a recent survey said that their doctors' fees have not increased faster than living costs, while 82 per cent deny that their family doctor charges too much.

S.A.M. Hosts Padgett; Elects Society Officers

The Society for Advancement of Management at UC heard a speech at their meeting in the Union last Wednesday night. Dr. E. H. Padgett, Assistant Professor of political science, told society members of the involvements and relationships between government and business, particularly concerning international trade. The world-wide orientation of modern U. S. business men is a coming necessity, said Padgett pointed out. He used explanations and examples of balance of payments, balance of trade, off-shore procurement, and differing foreign value-systems during his featured program talk. The role of the public administrator, as it has recently developed in the field of political science, is destined to broaden into the all-inclusive international administrator. Dr. Padgett stated that the terms and qualifications of international friendships and foreign commercial trade with recognized common markets, government and business cooperation in United States is expected to become more involved and demanding.

Proceeding Dr. Padgett’s program talk, the assembled SAM members elected their 1962 society officers. The new officers are John McDonald, President; Paul Dunskin, Vice-president; Robert Knowles, Secretary, and Walter Pank, Treasurer. All the new officers are juniors in the college of business administration.

One certificate was the Membership Growth Award. This award was for significant increase in membership during 1961-62 first semester.

Also, a certificate for society membership in the exclusive “100 Club” was received. The Bearcat SAM group earned this with their membership that exceeds 100—the first time in Cincinnati history.

All benefits and advantages of second semester society membership are available to all interested business-students at half price. Membership includes a subscription to the national SAM monthly magazine Advanced Management, a society membership card, and participation in excellent business programs.

Peace Corp Wants Home Econ. Grads

Dr. Emma R. Whiteford, director of the School of Home Economics, University of Cincinnati, has been notified by the American Home Economics Association the group will encourage recruitment of women with home economics training for Peace Corps service.

The Peace Corps is now starting to enlist home economists, Mrs. Dorothy S. Lyle, Washington, D.C., AHEA president, said in her letter to Dr. Whiteford.

While the Peace Corps' goal of 500 home economists "is a staggering one when we think of the growing need for home economists right here on the home front, this Peace Corps opportunity for international service should be an exciting and challenging one for home economists," Mrs. Lyle wrote.

"In terms of professional and personal growth to the individual, the opportunities are unlimited."

Mrs. Lyle called attention to a Peace Corps statement indicating such countries as Brazil, Venezuela, Nigeria, and India want volunteers who can serve as home demonstration agents, 4-H club leaders, teachers in nutrition and health, clothing and textile designers, and similar assignments.

Films Society Presents 'Rififi'

"Rififi," directed by Jules Dassin, will be the next film presented by the UC Union Film Society on Feb. 11. Dassin, best known for his films, "Never On Sunday," and "He Who Must Die," has created a startling crime thriller.

"Rififi" is the story of the planning and execution of a $500,000 jewel robbery. The robbery scene is a dramatic and clever 3-minute sequence in which there is no dialogue or background music.

Some very capable acting by Jean Servais, Robert Manuel and M. Dassin and the excellent direction of Dassin make "Rififi" a film you won't want to miss.
