University News Record Receives Honor Rating For First Semester

by Glenn Stoup

The News Record received first class honor rating by the Associated Collegiate Press rating service for the first semester of the 1962-63 school year.

Four ratings are possible: All American, First Class, Second Class, Third Class, and Fourth Class.

The rating is done by judging the various aspect of the paper: news coverage, editorials, layout, sports, etc, and totaling these to arrive at the final score.

The editorial section received two "superior" scores in the paper on the editorials themselves and on editorial page features.

Nine "excellent" ratings were given to typography, headlines, schedule inside news pages layout, sports display, front page layout, numerals, headline, sports coverage, creativity, and news sources.

No poor, weak or fair ratings were given to any aspect of the paper.

HONOR RATING

For only $300 a day: No. 1

Summer vacation is just around the corner, and naturally all of you are going to Europe. Perhaps I can offer a handy tip or two. (I must confess that I myself have never been to Europe, but I do have a French poodle and a German shepherd, so I am not entirely unqualified.)

First let me say that no trip to Europe is complete without a visit to England, Scotland, Wales, Ireland, France, Germany, Spain, Portugal, Italy, Liechtenstein, Holland, Belgium, Luxembourg, Switzerland, Denmark, Sweden, Norway, Finland, Poland, Czechoslovakia, Latvia, Lithuania, Estonia, Russia, Greece, Yugoslavia, Albania, Crete, Sarabia, Sicily, Hungary, Romania, Bulgaria, Lapland, and Andorra.

Let us take up these countries in order. First, England.

HOW TO SEE EUROPE

On Campus with Max Shulman

(Author of "I Was a Teen-age Dwarf", "The Many Loves of Dobie Gillis", etc)

The old ones are thrown away.

The capital of England is London—or Liverpool, as it is sometimes called. There are many interesting things to see in London—chiefly the changing of the guard. The guards are changed daily. The old ones are thrown away.

Another "must" while in London is a visit to the palace of the Duke of Marlborough. Marlborough is spelled Marlborough, but pronounced Marboro. English spelling is very quaint, but terribly disorganized. The late George Bernard Shaw, author of "Pygmalion," fought all his life to simplify English spelling. They tell a story about Shaw once asking a friend, "What does g-h-o-t-i spell?"

"What's that?" said the friend.

Shaw answered, "Gag-o-die." "Gag-o-die does not spell goatee," said Shaw. "It spells fish." "How is that?" said the friend.

Shaw answered, "Gag-o-i-e, o-as in house, i-e as in motion. Put them all together, you get fish."

This was very clever of Shaw when you consider that he was a vegetarian. And a good thing he was. As Disraeli once remarked to the Duke of Marlborough, "If Shaw were not a vegetarian, we lamb chop in London would be safe."

But I digress. We were speaking of the palace of the Duke of Marlborough—or Marboro, as it is called in the United States. It is called Marlboro by every smoker who enjoys a fine, rich breed of tobacco, who appreciates a pure white filter, who likes a soft pack that is really soft, a Flip-Top box that really flips. Be sure you are well supplied with Marlboro when you make your trip abroad. After a long, tiring day of sightseeing there is nothing so welcome as a good flavorful Marlboro and a footbath with hot Epsom salts.

Epsom salts can be obtained at Epsom Downs, Kensington salts can be obtained at Kensington Gardens, Albert salts can be obtained at Albert Hall, Hyde salts can be obtained at Hyde Park, and the crown jewels can be obtained at the Tower of London. The guards at the Tower of London are called Beefeaters because they are always beefing about what they get to eat.

Let us see all the countries in order. First, England.

A 'New Year' .

Spring vacation for most UC students means the beginning of that "last lap" of another school year. For those concerned with the News Record, however, Spring Vacation annually brings a feeling of something new. For this coming year's staff, certainly no exception to the rule, is dedicated to continuing the tradition of a college newspaper—that of reporting, emphasizing and evaluating the happenings within the university community.

Reporting the news which directly or indirectly pertains to members of this college community involves a great deal of responsibility (as reporting does to any newspaper), as all events must be presented accurately and without bias. To this end the NR relies on the competency of its staff members in gathering the truth about "all the news that's fit to print."

Purging a pessimism on certain stories entails judgment on the part of the NR as, by necessity, all events cannot be given equal coverage. No newspaper can hope to please all of its public, and a college paper, because of its closeness to its readers, is going to be criticized frequently by those who feel that their group is being neglected.

Evaluating or analyzing the news puts the newspaper in the position of a stimulus to public opinion. Because of this the NR realizes that all of its editorial conclusions must be based on a thorough investigation of all issues being commented upon. Besides stating an opinion the underlying purpose of News Record editorials will be to evoke thought upon a certain subject—much more than a news story would produce. In addition, the editorials of the News Record reflect the combined opinions of the staff—not the opinion of a particular staff member, and not necessarily the opinion of the student body as a whole. Ideas reflected in personal columns are solely those of the columnist.

The NR heartily encourages the views of its readers and consequently will give much coverage to its "Letters-to-the-Editor." Letters must be restricted to no more than 300 words, as any letters over that length may be shortened. No unsigned letters will be printed and no names may be withheld from the NR office.

For all students wishing to contribute an article containing their personal views, the NR will continue its "Crackerbarrel" column. Students wishing to make use of this column should contact the NR before submitting their article.

And finally, from the NR staff. Happy "New Year."
most he is a Yugoslav. He will not, under present conditions, re-enter the Soviet Union, for he is not a Communist. He noted that the independence he demonstrated in 1948. The major danger in this area is a significant change in United States policy toward Yugoslavia. A new policy toward Yugoslavia, often students do not realize, has been achieved mainly the form of credits and deliveries of surplus farm products. At the same time there has been a great increase in technical and cultural exchanges. The Poles know that economic assistance from the United States has raised their living standards. The farm aid from the United States has allowed them to concentrate on exportable farm products and this growing trade, mainly with the West, has been an important factor in preventing their farms from being collectivized. In short, this aid helped to stem a free flow from Moscow. Vice-President Nixon, on his recent visit, was overwhelmed by the warmth and friendliness of the Poles.

It is true that we hear of discouraging new expressions at time, but never before have the forces of autonomy and independence been more evident in the Soviet Empire. Poland now enjoys a measure of freedom unknown in any other bloc country. Unlike other countries behind the iron curtain, the Polish farmers still own 85% of the land under cultivation.

Clearly Tito and Gomulka are Communists, but this is not the time to walk away from Yugoslavia. Bordering the Soviet Union, Yugoslavia has a complete rapport with Russia. The Poles are proud and independent people, but their location is different from Yugoslavia. Bordering the Soviet Union on the direct route to East Germany they cannot, unlike Yugoslavia, have a complete rapport with Moscow. Our relations with Poland, prior to 1956, were those like those toward any bloc country.

That's what we've designed into Tropic Star...the newest of the beautiful Artcarved diamond engagement rings. Like all Artcarved rings, it's styled for lasting beauty...guaranteed in writing for permanent value. Is Artcarved's beautiful new Tropic Star for you? See for yourself.

Softball Initiates Heavy IM Spring Schedule, May 1

by Steve Weber

The biggest weeks of the year will dominate the intramural scene from now until June, with as many as four spring sports going on at one time. Softball, tennis, horseshoes, golf, and track will be offered, the five sports making up fully one-third of the intramural year.

First on the agenda will be softball, which will open action next Wednesday, May 1. The schedule calls for five league games, followed by a one-and-only championship for league champions and runner-up. A New Statistic
by Steve Weber
Sports Editor

While all phases of modern living are fast becoming dominated by the way-out world of mathematics ("I don't want to go to a big university because I like to be just a statistic"), nowhere is this truer than in sports, especially in baseball.

All hitters, for instance, can be classified by: games played, at-bats, runs, hits, total bases, doubles, triples, home run, runs batted-in, stolen bases, caught stealing, bases-on-balls, hit-by-pitch, strike-outs, ground-into-double-plays, slugging percentage, and batting average. To try and use baseball statistics this should read, G-AB-R-H-RBI-BB-SB-INT, BB-HBP-SB-Gr, Into DP-Slg. Pet. BA or Avg.

While each of these statistics tells something about a player's output in a certain aspect, none of them gives a total picture of his over-all offensive value. A combination of slugging percentage (AB divided into TB), runs (R) and runs-batted-in (RBI) gives a fairly accurate idea and overlooks such characters. Slugging percentage does not include stolen bases, bases-on-balls, etc., while runs and RBIs fail to take into consideration who batted in front of a batter and who behind.

To bridge these discrepancies I propose the statistics which will embrace all of a hitter's offensive prowess. These catch-all percent-ages will solve for all time those sizzling hot-stove controversies (e.g., the big Jim Pendleton vs. Rogers Hornaday debate). The basis for the new figures, to be known as the Dual Decimal System, is the fact that hitting can be divided into two parts: the ability for the player to advance himself (the bases-path, that is), and the ability for him to advance his teammates.

The first figure will show the player's proficiency at getting on base and into scoring position. The first statistic will be called the Base Advance Percentage (TBGUOI Pet.). The TBGUOI will include all bases gained (singled by 1B, doubles by 2B, triples by 3B, home runs by HR, walks by BB), hit-by-pitcher (HBP), stolen bases (SB), and I guess this year we better include bases gained on a fielder's choice (CS). In addition we add on the ground-into double-plays (because this is the one statistic that is needed to calculate the TBGUOI Pet.)

To get his percentage we would then have to calculate the total number of times he tried to advance himself. This figure would include official at bats (AB), plus walks and hit-by-pitcher (these are not included in official at-bats), and stolen bases attempted (SB plus C5). In addition we add on the ground-into double-plays (because this is the one statistic that is needed to calculate his TBGUOI Pet.). This figure is then divided into the TBGUOI and you get the TBGUOI Pet.

The second part of the new rating system measures the batter's ability to advance runners. If the batter comes up with the bases loaded he has three chances to advance runners. If he should walk, he has three chances to advance runners. If heidar should walk, he has three chances to advance runners. If he gets a hit, he has three chances to advance runners. If he hits a double, he has three chances to advance runners. If he hits a grand slam home run, he would advance 12 runners, or 36 if you take into account his own chances to score. This figure is then divided into the TBGUOI and you get the TBGUOI Pet.

The trouble here is that there are no official statistics in existence on balks.

Although minus three of its top options five times and the seven-run weightenam, the U.C. track team opened its dual meet season with an impressive 70-59 victory over the visiting DePauw track and field team.

Strong performances in the distance events also earned the 'Cats a victory over DePauw and took a first, second and third. Distance events, His jump of 6 feet 5 inches was particularly outstanding.

However Cusick and Habe made little difference in Cin cinnati's lone home match to date. Even with these two in action, Indiana's Big Ten contenders rolled over the inexperienced netmen, 9-0.

The Southern trip also began inauspiciously as the Citadel proved to be a discourteous host, surprising Stetson, winning six of the nine matches. Little Tom devoured his singles bout and teamed with basketeer Larry Shingleton, the only returnee from last year's MVC championship squad, to top their doubles match, as Marshall won 7-2.

The 'Cats budding winning streak was immediately halted, as Florida State started another whirlwind streak, shutting out the netmen. Georgia Tech was the final opponent of the tour and, like three of the other four, they shut out the netmen, 9-0.

Tennis Fortunes Down: One Win
In Seven Tries
by Ron Haneberg
Ohio, Indiana, and Kentucky may produce the best basketball players in the country, but the top tennis players are grown down South. And once again this year these Southern netmen took their counterparts the finer points of the game as the UC tennis team made its annual trek of Florida during the spring vacation.

Before beginning the trip, the betters played two matches up here in the Northern wastelands. In the opening encounter Bob Taylor won his singles bout and teamed with basketeer Larry Shingleton, the only returnee from last year's MVL championship squad, to top their doubles match, as Marshall won 7-2.

New Jersey Vacation
For Army ROTC Band

by Bruce Raymond

During spring vacation the Army ROTC Band competed in the National Association's competition.

Accompanying the band were Major Morris, Sg t. 1st Class Johnson, and Master Sergeant Laverty of the UC military faculty and Mr. Al Guinn, Acting Director of the UC Bands. Miss Helen Sekinger, Band Queen and Sponsor, also went along to provide moral support and to represent the band in some official functions.

The band was complimented by three members from the Concert Band, Hank Graycraft, Charlie Clum, and Bob Schutte. They helped in the competition and the jam sessions on the bus.

The seventeen hour bus ride could have been boring, but speculation on what was being planned in "Jersey" and a re-enactment of the happenings in New York city kept everyone interested when they weren't making up for lost sleep.

At 12:30 Saturday morning ten members of the group left the barracks to the sound of Miss Sekinger's quarters. Unfortunately, the group was going on misleading information and headed for the wrong part of the camp. After thoroughly searching for two miles the group decided to ask two enlisted men who were sitting nearby. The information received was rather appalling. The building was approximately one hundred yards from the barracks and thirty minutes had been wasted. But, a twenty-five minute serenade to Miss Sekinger and two other band queens was given. The house of General Alger, the commanding general of the twentieth Army Corps, was "right next to the queens" and his bedroom lights went on as the singing began and went off as it stopped.

Of course this frivolity was of secondary importance in relation to the competition. Friday and Saturday mornings were filled with practices. The concert phase of the competition was held in Jersey City on Friday night.

The UC band performed its two numbers as well as anyone had hoped. The competition was so tight that just a few decimal points separated the first and last place bands. Saturday the marching part of the competition was held in a brisk wind of forty miles per hour. Howard University of Washington, D. C., was the overall winner, but again just a few decimal points were the difference between first and last place.

Sabin Speaks On Possible Ways Of Detecting Viruses

New methods for the possible detection of viruses that might be the causative agents of some of the diseases described were demonstrated Monday in Washington, D.C., by Dr. Albert B. Sabin, University of Cincinnati Medical Center Distinguished Service professor of research pediatrics, at the 100th annual meeting of the National Academy of Sciences.

Their possible application to the study of human cancer makes the methods significant, according to Dr. Sabin.

The procedure, which makes it possible to detect infectious virus in tumor cells that otherwise seemed to have none, includes prolonged cultivation of the tumor cells on glass outside the body, intimate contact with the highly susceptible rhesus monkey cells in tissue culture, and, under special conditions, x-rays.

"Although no human cancer has as yet been shown to be caused by virus, the research goes on because viruses have been proved to cause naturally occurring cancers in lower animals, and because naturally occurring, seemingly harmless viruses of mice, monkeys and human beings have by highly artificial methods produced experimental cancers in mice or hamsters or both," Dr. Sabin explained.

Cincy’s Noted College of Law Plans Expansion Of Its Plant

Historically the oldest west of the Alleghenies and one of the nation’s oldest, the University of Cincinnati’s noted College of Law is about to have a large expansion of its physical plant.

Details of the proposed $42,000 Robert S. Marx Law Library, to be added to Alphonso Taft Hall of the College of Law, were announced by UC.

The Marx addition was financed by the Robert S. Marx Testamentary Trust. The structure will be a memorial to the late Judge Robert S. Marx, graduate and faculty member of the UC law college, World War I veteran, and trial lawyer and judge.

The four-story addition, adjoining Taft Hall to the rear or east, will contain 18,533 square feet and 224,000 cubic feet. With a book capacity of 100,000, the library will also have new faculty offices and individual study carrels for students.

Also in the addition will be a study lounge and typing room and a small and intimate cabaret room for the UC college’s collection of valuable volumes. This room also can be used as a faculty and conference seminar room. Judge Marx memorials will be displayed here.

Need Volunteers

June graduates with degrees in physical education or recreation will find ample opportunities to use their skills and training in Peace Corps service. Requests for volunteers with experience in these fields have doubled for 1963 as emerging nations look to the Peace Corps to supply persons with this specialized knowledge.

Ten countries have appealed to the Peace Corps for sports educators. They will serve as teachers and coaches in elementary and secondary schools, on the university level and some will also work in general athletic programs.

Specifically, the volunteers will be assigned to develop physical education curricula, supervise and administer sports programs and organize teams to participate in local, regional or international competitions.

To qualify for any of these Peace Corps projects you should have a degree in physical education or recreation. Teachers with degrees in other academic majors, but who have worked in recreation or physical education are also eligible. Experience in professional education, either through coaching or organizing team competition is highly desirable.

“Personal with sports training who do not have college degrees would be eligible for some of these projects,” Jules Pagano, Director of the Peace Corps’ Professional and Technical Division, has stated.

Plans Are Underway For Jazz Festival

Leo Hendrick, University of Cincinnati Conservatory of Music, is the liaison man between New York and Cincinnati for this year's Ohio Valley Jazz Festival. The festival celebrates its second year with the annual festival, and he will be handling publicity for the Ohio Valley and especially the University of Cincinnati campus, under the direction of George Weinz, Director-producer of the festival.

Weinz announced the establishment of a permanent Jazz Festivals Office in Cincinnati in Room 125 of the Sheraton-Gibson Hotel. All inquiries should be directed to this office and not to the Carriage or ticket offices, Weinz pointed out.

Officially, last year's Ohio Valley Jazz Festival grossed $80,000 and was attended by 17,437 persons. The Jazz Festival will be announced for this year.

Dr. Rowell

Dr. Lewis E. Rowell, Bloomington, Ind., musician, educator, composer, author and lecturer, September 1, 1963, will become assistant dean and associate professor of music in the UC College of Music.

Born in Fairport, N. Y., Dr. Rowell in 1965 received the Board of Music degree with distinction and in 1950 the Doctor of Philosophy degree, both from the Eastman School of Music, Rochester, N. Y. Each degree was taken in the field of music theory.

During 1960-61 he was visiting assistant professor of music history and theory at the University of Oklahoma. Appointed instructor in music at Indiana in 1956, he later was promoted to his present rank.

Among Dr. Rowell's compositions for organ, voice, orchestra, and chamber ensembles are these two for orchestra: Overture to "The Eumenides" and "Symphony in One Movement."

Active as a church and concert organist, he currently is at St. Mark's Methodist Church, Bloomington. He also has been in charge of music at First Methodist Church, Columbus.

May Festival At Music Hall

Boehm's Minor Mass will be presented on May 16 in Music Hall to open the 90th anniversary May Festival. This major musical presentation will continue with outstanding programs on May 18, 24, and 31.

All performances will be at 8:30 p.m.

The combined voices of 400 singers will present a performance of the Minor Mass. They are under the direction of chorus master Robert Sayre, a University of Cincinnati graduate. The chorus members will be selected from the students of the University of Cincinnati.

The concert will present a well-known work by Verdi, the Requiem aeternam for soloists, chorus, and orchestra. Verdi's masterful setting of the Dies Irae is one of the most popular choral works of all time.

The program also will feature a new work commissioned by the Cincinnati Symphony Orchestra, "The Hostage" at the Playhouse in the Park. During the first intermission, the trio will perform the Andante and Menuetto from Mozart's Divertimento in E-flat by Mozart.

The concert will close with the performance of the Andante and Menuetto from Mozart's Divertimento in E-flat by Mozart.

The novel, A Death In the Family is not so much as that question, can the reader catch up in its warmth and passion and unspoiled, with little concern to his conscious wishes, to read on to the end.

The plot is very simple; it is the story of Jay Follett, his wife, Mary, their children, and the family's reaction to Jay's unexpected death.

A Death In the Family is not the story of any special family or of any special people. Agee does not spend his time slowly adding layer upon layer of characterization until the people of the story stand out as perfect, realistic, portraits, yet his characterization lives and breathes. UC Engineering Students, Alumni Win Most Places

College of Engineering student and alumni representatives of the University of Cincinnati won more first-place prizes than those of any other Ohio college or university in the February Engineering in Training examinations of the Ohio State Board of Registration for Professional Engineers and Surveyors. UC's engineering dean Cornelius Wamack reported.

Only other institution to take more than one first place was the Ohio State University, with four. UC representatives received the second and third highest grades of all taking the exams—one and two points behind the highest.

Bringing the honors to UC: Alvin McParland, Mansfield, aeronautical engineering; William Blank, chemical engineering; and David Taylor, Trenton, metallurgical engineering.

From the top—Corvette Sting Ray Sport Coupe and Convertible, Corvair Monza Spyder Club Coupe and Convertible, Chevy II Nova 400 SS and Convertible, Chevrolet Impala SS Sport Coupe and Convertible, Super Sport and Spyder equipment optional at extra cost.
