The Board of Directors approved the change, which is consistent with the present lease of General Hospital to the Methodist Deaconess from Cincinnati City Council.

The new concept, recommended by the Board's Medical Center Committee, was to provide time to develop solutions to the problem of General Medical Care. The new committee has been formed to coordinate the work of the hospital with the university, and to review the current plans for the hospital.

The Board also elected its new officers for the coming year, Mr. John A. Beatty, a member of the Board since 1961, was elected chairman.
Bennis Urges Students To Confront Deans

By Andy Fleet
Staff Reporter

President Warren Bennis will hold open office hours every other Wednesday afternoon this quarter from 2:30-4:30 p.m. The first session was January 7.

At the alternate Wednesdays, informal, drop-in sessions will be held every other Wednesday from 2:30-4:30 p.m. Dr. Bennis will randomly call students into his office for a few minutes, and if the students want to talk about classes, questions will be solved, hopefully some problems and confusion will be clarified.

In his opening remarks, Dr. Bennis spoke about his 25 years of teaching at UC, starting in 1969 as chairman of the philosophy department. In 1969 he was cited of a girl with an infected appendix.

During his time as a gynecologist, she said, she was never able to find the infection. She went to her gynecologist, who diagnosed the infection and prescribed an antibiotic.

Dr. Bennis has served in a number of capacities at the university, including as director of the National Women's Committee, as director of the National Conference of Community and Religious Colleges, and as dean of women at the university.

Dr. Bennis has also been active in the community, serving on the board of the Women's Health Center and as a member of the Board of Directors of the University of Cincinnati Foundation.

Dr. Bennis said he enjoys working with students and helping them to reach their full potential.

He said he looks forward to the opportunity to meet with students and hear their concerns.

Dr. Bennis said he hopes to be able to help students solve problems and clarify issues.

ACR Supports Irradiation; Report Urges Continuation

by Randal F. Kleine
Staff Reporter

A report issued by the American College of Radiology (ACR) has given recognition to the whole-body irradiation study being conducted by the University of Cincinnati Medical Center at General Hospital. The report urged continuation of the irradiation program.

The report issued last Monday by the ACR was written by Dr. Edward Gall, chairman of the ACR's report committee and followed up. The report was written by and professional committees of the American College of Radiology have performed their duties during the past five years.

1. "The procedure was well studied; clinical investigation is the study of whole series on the subject. The irradiation program at the medical center is being carried out in a comprehensive way.

2. "The results of the study have been well received. We urge the support of the study.

Intro Courses

The sociology department has re-designed its introduction course which will improve the quality of the sociology program greatly over the last five years.

The existing program has courses numbered 141 and 142. This is a continuing course taught in the fall and spring quarters. In the new program, both 141 and 142 will be taught all three quarters. They will

Ticket Office

More Than Just Tickets

The Tic Ticket Office, second floor TUC, is a student service department which issues tickets for a variety of events.

The Tic ticket offices are located at the ticket office as well as tickets for campus activities, plays, and movies.

The tic ticket office also sells season tickets. They take subscriptions for and sell the subscription.

They sell "the Cincinnati Conference," which contains general information on Cincinnati and is the best way to stay informed on what is happening in Cincinnati, and they also sell campus books which give students a place to learn about the university.

Profits from the ticket office are paid to the student bodies of the students who work there.

Anyone who knows how to use up-coding free concerts, plays, and movies or making tickets for the future can obtain this information by calling the ticket office at 441-4052.

A Political Absurdity

The Democratic-Republican Coalition, under the leadership of Thomas Jefferson, is to be considered the predecessor of the modern Democratic Party. However, there was no formal organization or national party structure at this time. Instead, political factions and candidates built coalitions to elect candidates to public office. Thomas Jefferson was a leader in this coalition, often working as a candidate for the Democratic-Republican Party.

A Grade Idea

The Arts and Sciences Committee proposed a new grading system for Miami University, recommending the use of a new grading scale. This was an attempt to streamline the grading process and make it more consistent across different departments. The new system would have replaced the traditional A, B, C, D, F grading system with a scale of 1 to 4, with 4 being the highest. The grades would be calculated based on a point system, with different points assigned for different levels of performance. The proposal was met with mixed reactions, with some faculty members supporting the change and others expressing concerns about the new system. The change ultimately went through, and the new grading scale was adopted at Miami University.

It's Time for the Monkey Wrench

As the political climate changed, so did the approach to the use of the Monkey Wrench. The Monkey Wrench was a slang term for a weapon or implement used for resistance against authorities or systems. In the context of the new political climate, it referred to the use of new technologies and tools to challenge the status quo. This could include the use of information technology, social media, or other means to disrupt or undermine the authority of established institutions. The term was used to describe the use of these tools as a form of resistance or rebellion.

Wizard of Odds

In the context of the new political climate, the Wizard of Odds was a symbol of the power of financial institutions and the influence they held over society. It referred to the idea that financial systems and institutions had become so complex and interconnected that they were difficult to understand or control. The Wizard of Odds represented the idea that these systems were like a wizard, capable of influencing events and outcomes in ways that were hard to predict or control. The term was used to describe the power and influence of financial institutions in the post-Cold War world.

The Private I

The Private I was a movie that was released in the context of the new political climate. It was a film about a man named I, who is on a journey to understand his own identity and the nature of reality. The film explores themes such as self-discovery and the search for meaning in a world that is often confusing and impersonal. The Private I was released in 1997, and it became a critical and commercial success, receiving positive reviews for its unique take on the world and its characters.

Game Room Activities Varied Greatly; TUC Seen as Web of University Life

By Kathy Barlow
Staff Reporter

The two TUC game rooms are much more interesting and active than most students usually realize.

Far from existing as drab, smoke-filled corners, they are caught up in the web of university and community life.

"Quite a bit of use is made of the present facilities...mostly by students, but also by some members of the faculty and their guests," stated Nick Wheeler (B.A., junior), resident manager of the Game Rooms.

Seminars, festivals, and other events may aid special benefits, and the two TUC game rooms are open to parties, for hours of $1.50 per person; table tennis players, 55c per hour.

The Game Rooms allow students, faculty, and staff to play free of charge. The hours when the rooms are open are varied, allowing even those with the busiest schedules to take advantage of the facilities. The rooms are open Monday through Thursday, 6 a.m.-11 p.m., Friday, 6 a.m.-2 a.m., Saturday, 8 a.m.-11 p.m., Sunday, 12 noon-11 p.m.

"The Game Rooms are open to the University community," stated Nick Wheeler (B.A., junior), resident manager of the Game Rooms.

Any further suggestions for game room activities are welcomed. The Game Rooms are located in the Student Community Center. The hours for the rooms are Monday through Thursday, 6 a.m.-11 p.m., Friday, 6 a.m.-2 a.m., Saturday, 8 a.m.-11 p.m., Sunday, 12 noon-11 p.m.

The Game Rooms are open to the University community. Orders are typically placed between 6 a.m. and 11 p.m. for the nights, and between 8 a.m. and 2 a.m. for the weekends. Services are provided free of charge.

Pursuit Of Musical Art

by Cliff Radee

Record Review

The bizarre art that superbly scores recent album covers, nearly stifling their antipathy, is an artistic phenomenon that is hard to ignore. What is there to do but smile, shake the head, and move on.

Yet, at least for some, this phenomenon has an underlying rationale. It is the medium of the graphic image, the thing that helps us look, see, and understand the music that otherwise might not be so easily recognized.

The essence of this phenomenon is the ability of the graphic image to enhance the value of the recording. Perhaps it is the fact that the graphic image is the first thing we see, that it is the first thing we perceive, that it is the first thing that we respond to. It is not just the graphic image itself, but the way it is used, that is important.

The graphic image is used to enhance the recording. It is used to make it easier for us to understand the music, to make it more accessible, to make it more enjoyable. It is not just a pretty face, but a tool.

Films Of Interest To Be Seen Here This Weekend

Three performances of "PERFORMANCE" will be presented November 17th through 19th.

On Saturday night at 7:00 p.m. in the TUC Great Hall of the University of Cincinnati, a fascinating and thought-provoking film will be presented. The film is "PERFORMANCE," a two-hour long, full-length feature film that explores the relationship between dance and theater. The film is a fascinating study of the relationship between the two arts, and it is a study that is not just for scholars, but for anyone interested in the arts.

On Sunday afternoon at 2:00 p.m. in the same location, a screening of "THE PASSION OF" JOAN OF ARC," will be shown. Carl Dryer's film, shot in 1922, is a highly personal tone-poem with brilliant acting and a haunting score. It is a film that is not just a historical drama, but a film that explores the human spirit.

On Monday evening at 7:30 p.m., the Film Society will present "THE TWINKLING OF AN EYE," a Russian short film by Georges Franju. This film is a study of death and its effects on the human mind. It is a film that is not just a study of death, but a film that explores the human condition.

FREE THEATRE will present two one-act plays tonight and tomorrow at 8 p.m. in ZAYAT Coffeehouse. For information, please call 555-1234.

Film Society Reports Good First Quarter

by Richard Keene

The Film Society's program of films has had overwhelming success so far this year. At scheduled Friday night showings in the Great Hall, TUC, the Film Society shows recent films. Screenings are scheduled at 7:30 p.m. and 9:30 p.m. and attendance has been so great that an 11:30 midnight showing usually has to be added. Attendance is up.

Stuart Cohens, chairman of the Film Society, states that up to 1500 people attend the Friday night showings. Mr. Cohens says that the initial $1000 budget loan secured from the Student Student Association Board at the beginning of the year has been paid off and the society is now self-supporting.

"We are working as hard as we can for a film program that consists of high quality, recent films," stated Mr. Cohens. "We are not planning to go anywhere.”

Attention! This is one of the better weeks that can be used to describe Louisville, Ohio State, Indiana, and East Carolina basketball teams. Currently sporting an 8-1 record, which includes the highly prestigious New York City Holiday Festival tournament championship, the Cats are ranked 17 in the nation and 4 in the Big East.

Tonight at 8:00 the Bearcats host the Terrific Twosome in one of the biggest games of the 1972 season. "Louisville is one of the five best teams in the country," I've seen several California and Big East teams. I've been saying that Louisville is better than both of those clubs," remarked Cincy coach Terry Baker.

Cincy's young Bearcats currently possess a 7-3 record but have shown inconsistency getting there. "I'm trying to develop consistency," commented UC head coach Tay Baker.

The Cats also defeated Kent State, 78-74, while they were on the road last weekend. "I would have wrestled them the Bearcats were their first place finishers in the meet. Tim added the DC mentor."

UC's gymnasts are on the road tomorrow to face a tough Eastern Michigan team. It will be stern test for the Cincinnati gentlemen who are performing better than ever.

The most important victory for the Cincinnati citizens was last year's victory over Bowling Green State. Four of our students performed to victory. "I'm trying to develop consistency," commented UC head coach Tay Baker.

"It takes great, constant hard work to win," said Baker. "For two foot-loose months. So with low air fares, you shell out $130, and get a Student-Railpass."

Clancy’s Red and Black locomotive provided loud basketball fans with some exciting action last month, but inexplicably still posed some problems.

Since the last time the student body saw the Cats in action, a 95-64 romp over Cleveland State, the UC basketballmen have won six of nine games during the Christmas vacation and are now over a very fine 7-3 record.

Even though the Cats are winning, head coach Jim Pike is still a bit unhappy with their performance. He places the blame on the team and not the opponents.

“We have not progressed as rapidly as we should have,” he said. “The team is still inconsistent and it has been shown in recent games.”

Probably the biggest disappointment for the UC team during the vacation was the 79-75 loss to Butler in Indianapolis.

“There was just no excuse for the loss to Butler,” Pike said. “We were poorly prepared and executed poorly. We just took the game too lightly.”

Outstanding performers of the UC basketball and cross country teams were honored at award banquets as the final day of the 1971-72 season was celebrated.

CATS TO MEET THE FALCONS AT BOWLING GREEN

BGSU is coming off a mediocre 6-7 record last year and was hoping to improve their log with the backing of experienced starters.
