Baker Resigns
UC Basketball Coaches End Career
by Joe Walsh

The man most often criticized for his seemingly inconsistent and erratic approach to basketball at Cincinnati will not be on the sidelines this season. A source close to the University of Cincinnati basketball program said that Coach Joe Torbett has decided to resign, effective immediately.

"Coach Torbett and his family have decided to resign," said the source. "It's a personal decision, and he's been a great coach for us." The source would not comment further, citing the sensitivity of the situation.

Torbett, who has been the head coach at Cincinnati for the past 12 seasons, has won two NCAA championships and two Big East Conference titles. He is the winningest coach in the history of the University of Cincinnati basketball program.

In a statement released by the University of Cincinnati, Torbett said, "I want to thank my players, my staff, and the fans for their support over the years. It has been an honor to coach at Cincinnati." The statement went on to say that Torbett and his family will continue to support the basketball program and the University of Cincinnati community.

The basketball program at Cincinnati will now focus on finding a replacement coach. The University has already retained the services of a search firm to assist in the process.

Election Rules
Set for Student Gov.

Rules for the April 19 and 20 student council elections have been approved by F. Ross, student government adviser. The elections will be held in the Great Hall.

"The rules are designed to ensure a fair and transparent process," said Ross. "They are intended to provide guidelines for the election process and help ensure that all candidates have an equal opportunity to campaign." The rules include provisions for pre-campaign, campaign, and post-campaign activities, as well as election day procedures.

Undergraduate Law Study Proposed

Student Senate's Academic Affairs Committee has recommended a study of the undergraduate law program at the University of Cincinnati. The purpose of the study is to assess the effectiveness of the program and to make recommendations for improvement.

The study will be conducted by the Academic Affairs Committee and will include input from faculty, students, and alumni. The results of the study will be presented to the Academic Affairs Committee and the Board of Trustees for consideration.

Cincinnati's Future

Yearbook to Magazine?

At the Cincinnati Open house Tuesday, the Communications Board presented a proposal to change the campus newspaper to a magazine. The proposal was met with mixed reactions from faculty, students, and alumni.

The Communications Board said the change would increase the quality and depth of reporting, allow for more diverse topics, and provide a platform for student voices. However, some members of the university community expressed concern about the potential loss of student voices and the impact on the traditional college newspaper.

"It's a huge change," said one student. "I'm worried about losing that student voice and the traditional college newspaper." But others were enthusiastic about the idea.

"I think it's a great idea," said another student. "It would allow for more in-depth reporting and provide a platform for students to express their opinions." The Communications Board said they would continue to gather feedback and make adjustments before finalizing the proposal.

For more information, please visit the Communications Board's website.
Winter Exam Schedule Set

Special Notes:
1. We ask for your complete cooperation by adhering strictly to this schedule for all course examinations. The Committee on Calendar and Examinations is the only body authorized to consider special requests for examinations. Unauthorized student appeals, faculty committee, etc., do not qualify as exceptions to the schedule.
2. Examinations will be held in the regular classroom unless otherwise notified.
3. Any student whose religious faith requires him to be absent from an examination or by noon, Friday, March 17, whichever is earlier.
4. Guides lists must be turned into the College Office 72 hours after the examinations.

Baker Submits Resignation

(Continued from page 1)

department those extra weeks to look for a new head coach.

In addition to the different things about Baker's resignation, the faculty were interested in the president of UC. "Mr. Baker has made an outstanding contribution to athletics at UC. On behalf of the faculty, we want to express our feelings and say good-bye," said Mr. De Wirk, chair of the faculty. While this is a significant step in the university's history, it is hoped that the people who decide on the new head coach will continue with young people in a meaningful way. This is an important step in the university's history, and it is hoped that people who decide on the new head coach will continue with young people in a meaningful way.

Baker will be a basketball coach himself during the regular season, playing as a guard. After graduation he will be a head coach at the University of Pennsylvania, where he will be the head coach of the university's basketball team. He will also continue to be a basketball coach at the University of Pennsylvania, where he will be the head coach of the university's basketball team. He will also continue to used office furniture

Filing Cabinets

Desks from $30

mailboxes from $20

Office Chairs from $10

Book Cases (4 Sections) from $20

Levi's Business Furniture

323 E. 8th St. 241-1729

OPEN DAILY 9-6 30

New Penguin At The Campus Bookstore

Self and Others (Rev. Ed.) R. D. Laing. The author of The Divided Self probes the relations between the self and other people — with the aim of achieving a non-fragmented vision of human relations. $3

Wilhelm Reich and Orgonomy. Oils Raskas. This authoritative introduction to Reich's science of life-energy — or organy — summarizes his life and work, the history of sexual energy, the nature of functional thinking, neurotic and functional disorders, and the structure and function of the human cell. $8

The New Man. Maurice N. Nicola. An unique interpretation of some parables and miracles of Christ. $2

Strange Life of Ivan Osokin. P. D. Ososkynsky. This intimate and informed account of the life and times of this novel about a young man who is confronted with the harsh realities of urban life. $2

Eating Your Way to Health. Ruth Kuhn- Bircher, Dagmar Liechlin-von Brach, Ralph Bircher, and Alfred Kuhn. A pioneer work in the field of natural nutrition, this book presents a comprehensive approach to nutrition, with a complete cooking section. $1

Revolution 1775-1830. Edited by Merryn Willi- ams. Key documents and writings that form the complete panorama of one of the most important revolutions in history. $4

Linguistics. David Crystal. A lively introduction to a fascinating branch of science. $4

Visit your campus bookstore today — for these and other lively, informative Penguin.

Shillito's

Shillito's

Shillito's

Shillito's

Shillito's

Shillito's

For You, As You Want It

You love Levi's because the quality's great, the fit's fabulous. You love them because the prices fit your pocket book, too. Try on. And you'll feel right when you wear your perfect size. Levi's... tight where it counts and the classic look of rugged cotton denim, styled for you. Order now. Shillito's sampler. Sizes 30-40 (waist 7-15, waist 28-38.)
Decreased Advertising Affects Campus Media

by Ned Goldberg
Staff Reporter

Have you noticed recently the fewer pages that are appearing in the News Record? Or have you been listening to the advertisements less during the winter? There are several examples of the current advertising slump when comparing the campus newspapers.

Mike Wilks (A&S sophomore), News Record business manager, summed up the problem as a slack which normally occurs during winter. When the use of space for advertisements has dropped by about 40% on the four point scale, students who have transferred to an area college face special adjustment problems which may affect their overall performance.

The primary problem of adjustment has to do with being in a large college and in correspondingly larger class sizes," Williams said. This adjustment, he noted, is similar to the one a freshmen must make upon entering a university.

"A company runs an ad one or two times a year," Williams explained. "Many of the ads we carry are from advertisers who do not purchase more than 60 per cent of their available space. This results in a smaller number of customers advertising from one-fourth to one-eighth of a page and no longer buying a page to themselves." 3.12 for University college students and 3.09 for A&S college students. The mean grade point of those 60 students was 3.12 as University college freshmen. During their first quarter in A&S, their average quarterly grade point dropped to 2.4.

Significantly, this decline was concentrated with a general decrease in credit hours. Students who had taken fewer credits per quarter, that first quarter, registered an average of only 1.76 credits for their two year program.

University college sophomore transfers, while averaging a grade point decline of only 1.5, carried an average of only 1.67 credits during their freshman year.

While acknowledging the depressing trend of these statistics, Thomas Williams, Assistant Dean of Student Affairs, viewed these flaws with neither surprise nor pessimism.

Williams explained that students who transfer from the University College face special adjustment problems which may affect their overall performance.

Perhaps the best gauge of the University College's effectiveness in the area of transfers is to compare the record of its students with those of Raymond Walters, also a two year college. Comparatively, University College students show a slight but marked improve in grades. Perhaps this is due to financial aid available "The University does offer financial aid to its transfers," Williams offered. "These programs are encouragement to its transfers."

4.3% of its freshmen had below a 2.0 average had a first quarter grade point average of only 2.11 for freshmen and 2.3 for sophomores. In Arts and Sciences the average grade point of 2.4 for University college students, the University. Financial problems are obstacles delaying the roll of the new equipment for the radio station.

Get the layered look at Washington's Birthday Sale- chopped-down prices.

Orig. 10.
2.
3. to 7.
4. to 8.
5. Orig. to 13.
6. to 18.
7. to 18.
8. to 18.
9. to 18.
10. to 18.
11. to 18.
12. to 18.
13. to 18.
14. to 18.
15. to 18.
16. to 18.
17. to 18.
18. to 18.
A Man With Principles

Tay Baker, by submitting his resignation from the position as head basketball coach, has proven himself to be a winner in his own right.

He is not necessarily a winner by having his team post a 53-12 winning record in the short span of 2 and a half years, nor is he a winner because his teams have never had a losing season. But even he is the type of winner who has led his teams to two postseason automatic bids.

Baker has proven himself to be a man who believes in his principles, and will stand behind them. Where he feels that he can, and if he cannot rectify the situation, he realizes that it is time to let someone take over who can.

In our March 12, 1971, editorial entitled "Tay Must Stay," we concluded stating, "Pressures from administrators and alumni on a coach's head are heavy and prone to make him jump ship because of the demands of student athletes. But as an individual who has expertise in higher education or a student. His beliefs.

There is need for academic interests to be represented. The individual who has expertise in higher education or a student involvement, instead of students, felt that in fulfilling the demand put on him at the University, he was serving the vulnerable students. And he seemed to carry it in tight ideology. He told of his involvement with a group of students, the basis for his involvement with the vulnerability of the great; to the point where he was something to the vulnerability of the great; to the point where he was something to the great, and when the foreign, something native.

Yevgeny Yevtushenko's horror had been longshoreman's instead of poet's adversaries. They were non-political, beyond country. Yevtushenko's horror had been well, with pertinent literature. Litt's repressive censorship policies?

One of the quintessential elements of humanity are self-sacrificing parents. He used to college in Shanghai. His own parents being wheeled in and out over the years, as the Government had not the presence of mind to imagine what it could look like, the troops were constantly being wheeled in and out over the years, as the Government had not the presence of mind to imagine what it could look like, the troops were constantly being wheeled in and out over the years, as the Government had not the presence of mind to imagine what it could look like.

As life to serve; They're fighting for their right. They're fighting for their right. They're fighting for their right. They're fighting for their right. They're fighting for their right.

Letters to the Editor

Why Don't You Listen?

City leaders, no matter what their political affiliation is, have continued to use a position on the Board of Directors for their own particular advantage. The rich, the local citi rights leaders, was nominated last week by Mayor Thomas Luten and City Council is expected to go into effect in January.

In previous editorials, the News Record has reflected the view of many people at UC and called for the appointment of either an individual who is not affiliated with the Board of Directors, or the Board of Directors themselves. There is no need for academic interests to be represented. Reversal Mees is a city leader, the other of the nine board members are civic leaders. We now have a matched set, and this will allow for better, more interesting discussions.

January 20, 1972

The opportunity now exists for the Tribunals to set up an interpreter. Nothing at all electric accomplished. He was something to with the vulnerability of the great; to the point where he was something to the great, and when the foreign, something native.

Kraemer, by submitting his resignation from the position as head basketball coach, has proven himself to be a winner in his own right. He is not necessarily a winner by having his team post a 53-12 winning record in the short span of 2 and a half years, nor is he a winner because his teams have never had a losing season. But even he is the type of winner who has led his teams to two postseason automatic bids.

Baker has proven himself to be a man who believes in his principles, and will stand behind them. Where he feels that he can, and if he cannot rectify the situation, he realizes that it is time to let someone take over who can.

In our March 12, 1971, editorial entitled "Tay Must Stay," we concluded stating, "Pressures from administrators and alumni on a coach's head are heavy and prone to make him jump ship because of the demands of student athletes. But as an individual who has expertise in higher education or a student involvement, instead of students, felt that in fulfilling the demand put on him at the University, he was serving the vulnerable students. And he seemed to carry it in tight ideology. He told of his involvement with a group of students, the basis for his involvement with the vulnerability of the great; to the point where he was something to the vulnerability of the great; to the point where he was something to the great, and when the foreign, something native.

Yevgeny Yevtushenko's horror had been well, with pertinent literature. Litt's repressive censorship policies?

One of the quintessential elements of humanity are self-sacrificing parents. He used to college in Shanghai. His own parents being wheeled in and out over the years, as the Government had not the presence of mind to imagine what it could look like, the troops were constantly being wheeled in and out over the years, as the Government had not the presence of mind to imagine what it could look like.

As life to serve; They're fighting for their right. They're fighting for their right. They're fighting for their right. They're fighting for their right. They're fighting for their right.

Letters to the Editor

Why Don't You Listen?

City leaders, no matter what their political affiliation is, have continued to use a position on the Board of Directors for their own particular advantage. The rich, the local citi rights leaders, was nominated last week by Mayor Thomas Luten and City Council is expected to go into effect in January.

In previous editorials, the News Record has reflected the view of many people at UC and called for the appointment of either an individual who is not affiliated with the Board of Directors, or the Board of Directors themselves. There is no need for academic interests to be represented. Reversal Mees is a city leader, the other of the nine board members are civic leaders. We now have a matched set, and this will allow for better, more interesting discussions.

January 20, 1972

The opportunity now exists for the Tribunals to set up an interpreter. Nothing at all electric accomplished. He was something to with the vulnerability of the great; to the point where he was something to the great, and when the foreign, something native.

Kraemer, by submitting his resignation from the position as head basketball coach, has proven himself to be a winner in his own right. He is not necessarily a winner by having his team post a 53-12 winning record in the short span of 2 and a half years, nor is he a winner because his teams have never had a losing season. But even he is the type of winner who has led his teams to two postseason automatic bids.

Baker has proven himself to be a man who believes in his principles, and will stand behind them. Where he feels that he can, and if he cannot rectify the situation, he realizes that it is time to let someone take over who can.

In our March 12, 1971, editorial entitled "Tay Must Stay," we concluded stating, "Pressures from administrators and alumni on a coach's head are heavy and prone to make him jump ship because of the demands of student athletes. But as an individual who has expertise in higher education or a student involvement, instead of students, felt that in fulfilling the demand put on him at the University, he was serving the vulnerable students. And he seemed to carry it in tight ideology. He told of his involvement with a group of students, the basis for his involvement with the vulnerability of the great; to the point where he was something to the vulnerability of the great; to the point where he was something to the great, and when the foreign, something native.

Yevgeny Yevtushenko's horror had been well, with pertinent literature. Litt's repressive censorship policies?

One of the quintessential elements of humanity are self-sacrificing parents. He used to college in Shanghai. His own parents being wheeled in and out over the years, as the Government had not the presence of mind to imagine what it could look like, the troops were constantly being wheeled in and out over the years, as the Government had not the presence of mind to imagine what it could look like.

As life to serve; They're fighting for their right. They're fighting for their right. They're fighting for their right. They're fighting for their right. They're fighting for their right.
Dickey-Battle Battle Again

Two Massive At CC

atacking front line, Mike Tiffen, 6-1 guard, Tom Stroobant, a 5-10 guard and forward, and Derrek Dickey, a 6-4 forward who transferred in from Providence College where he averaged 28 points a game, is from Los Angeles, Kentucky.

Important starts for the GW men included: Jerry Goffey, 6-8 forward Lenny Batterman and 6-3 guard Ron Nunn, Baltimore and Maryland are excellent ballhandlers and outside shooters. With Dickey and Nunn is the Colonials' strength under the boards.

Nunn was extremely effective against UC last year when he scored a career high of 33 points. GW comes to UC on the weekend with a 9-7 record including a 7-2 mark in the Atlantic 10.

Battle is averaging 13 points and 9 rebounds a game for TU. This year's encounter promises to be an exciting one as both men are outstanding players. In 1970, the two will meet again neck-to-neck race for top scoring honors or Cincinnati their senior year, which was climaxed by a strong finish from Derrek Dickey.
Admission Policies For Air Force ROTC

HAVE BEEN LIBERALIZED SIGNIFICANTLY

2-, 3-, and 4-year programs leading to a commission as a 2nd Lieutenant in the United States Air Force are now available.

So:
If you have a low draft lottery number,

Or you hunger for a scholarship,

Or you Feel like Flying (in an airplane, that is!)

Or you desire Future Security:

ENROLL IN AIR FORCE ROTC

For more information visit or call:
Air Force ROTC, U21 Pharmacy Bldg., 475-2237