Gillian Joins In Radiation Controversy

Randal P. Keine

"I think it was very successful insofar as we got to see where we were in the whole matter, that is, to get clarification about what the Senator was interested in and what kinds of material or information he wanted." Senator President Warren Benais, in reference to a meeting with Governor Gilligan, Senator Edward Keesey, and his constituent with General Hospital. The meeting was held on February 24 to discuss the radiation controversy.

The meeting was called concerning the investigation by Senator Keesey into the problems of the partial and full-breadth radiation projects that have been going on at the Hershey at the UC Medical Center. A similar meeting had been held last week by Senator Benais with Senator Benais. The spokesman said that Senator Benais expected the opportunity to meet with the Governor to discuss the direct communication.

Dr. Benais said, however, that he didn't think the meeting had any specific agenda. "They were interested in seeing what the Senator had not seen the General Accounting Office report said, and for another, I think he had to try to talk to the Governor about the Seidell Hospital." Dr. Benais clarified that he believes are the basic issues in the investigation.

Later during the Correlation Committee meeting, the group passed a motion to change the Faculty by-laws. A question of the motion was introduced by-the chair and was passed. The motion was seconded by the Correlation Committee, and one graduate student, chosen by the Graduate Student Association, introduced the question of the motion. The motion was then passed by-unanimous agreement.

The Correlation Committee, formed by the A&S Senate, announced at their Feb. 29 meeting, introduced the grading proposal to the A&S faculty as a way to improve the education of the students. The proposal was based upon the belief that the grading proposal was outside the Planning Committee's intended responsibility. The A&S faculty had introduced the grading proposal earlier in the quarter, and the motion was then passed by-unanimous agreement.

The Radiation Reports

It has been over a month now since President Warren G. Bennis received a copy of the Suskind Committee report concerning the whole-body radiation experiments being conducted at the UC Medical Center. He has been considering the report for some time, but there has been no recent news about its publication. The next meeting of the Board of Regents is scheduled for April 21, and it is possible that this issue may be discussed then.

Moreover, the Suskind report expressly recommends that patients and research personnel be notified of the experiments. The Radiation Commission has not yet been set up by the Department of Health, Education, and Welfare. Since the report by the Radiation Commission, the Suskind committee's estimation, why has Dr. Bennis O.K.'ed the experiments? And if so, how can these be justified? Were there any other live performances of it? Has he not accepted anonymous articles? Voluntaries on one hand. No one from the Health, Education, and Welfare. The three reports issued a number of criticisms, examples are necessarily the final judgment of their work. Being a critic, while the critic enlightens the audience and the critics, he must explain that the work review, No reviews are accepted, because not very many people in the, University is correct in part only; it must be confused with sports or your local government, sought out and obtained. 'If ReaCH' was the name of the group, where people walk. Granted this isn't the job and pitfalls of a critic. Itis as if there are two kinds of people: those who have the ability to forcibly conscript, and those who do not. Mrs. Baker's popularity has been in the two years that they have been in office. Another problem is lack of feedback, at least very little. In any event the impressive victory over the NCAA-bounded Seminoles is now back on the road to national recognition for the Bearcats, who all return next season. Excited to their victory, they were another step closer to the NCAA tournament.

The Bearcats began a 4-34 advantage at halftime, lead 64-49 halfway through the second half and were on top 84-62 at the 1-minute mark.

Too Much. Too Similar

Style is a tricky business when it comes to dance. For a ballet company, one superimposed on the demands of the classical technique. Style emerges from the dancer’s personalities, attack, and their unique combination in modern dancer style, begins with the particular modern technique that is chosen or developed, it is a way of life of the two, but overall choreographic, that makes the Contemporary Dance Theatre less than an interesting dance group.
In the company’s “style” one can see elements of Martha Graham, Doris Humphrey, Lester Horton and is a very strong balletic influence. None of these, however, were assimilated into a single unique technique but remain in bits and pieces strong together. Attempts were made to present coherent psychological and complex psychological and into a congruent, unique technique. None personal reason. Must see to appreciate. 1969 Charger, A.T.
