Search For Basketball Coach Near Completion
by David Levy

The search for a new head basketball coach for the University of Cincinnati will be over shortly, according to the vacant position's interim athletic director, Lonie Johnson. Johnson, assistant coach at the University of North Carolina, and Vince Checketella, head coach at West Virginia University in Columbus, are both candidates for the Cincinnati position. Although Johnson and Checketella are the recommendations of the committee, they still possess the approval of another man getting the appointment.

Assistant to Student Senate

The committee, headed by Vince Checketella at North Carolina, is led by his assistant for the National Collegiate Athletic Association Basketball Tournament. Checketella, who has been with the University of Cincinnati for five years, has been voted to 20 more victories in the past season.

The announcement of a new coach is expected to be made the week of Feb. 6 when a screening committee, composed of Eugene Allison, vice president of student affairs; the chairman of the Committee on Athletics; and the president of the University of Cincinnati, has made its recommendation.

The student senate, under the leadership of Student Body President Bennis, will have its Jamming Elevator doors open, James Riley (BA junior), and David B. Harris (A&S junior), representing the Student Senate as prescribed by the Student Body Constitution. President Bennis will have his Jamming Elevator doors open and questions from the student body will be asked.

The Board of Directors met on March 7 and on recommendation of its Personnel and Audit Subcommittee, it was decided to offer an anticipated $128,000 (student body) for Board approval.

The Board approved the use of $250,000 primarily from student body reserves, as a partial offset to the anticipated deficit at the end of the year.

The Board approved budget reductions and the use of unappropriated balances totaling $1,100,000, plus the use of student body reserves for the current year.

The University of Cincinnati announced today that the University had appointed a new coach for the basketball team at the University of Cincinnati. The new coach, whose name has not been released, will replace the departing coach, who resigned after seven years as head coach.

City Officials Discuss Method of Decisions

by Bob Bolah

"Neither citizens nor officials really matter," said Ronald Temple, director of the City Colleges for the education program on "Your Government and You." Continuing Mayor Thomas Luken's initiatives, the Citizens vs. Officials Who Makes the Decisions," he continued. "Until members of the community have the power to determine who they want to be, they will not have full control of the government," concluded Temple. "The selection process depends on the student's ability to find them."

Mayor Luken agreed with Temple that business interests often exert control because of large financial contributions to candidates. He favors a new form of legislation on campaign contributions locally.

Edwin Hayslett (detailed) problem situations have with the subject of citizen participation and predicting citizens, have not been organized. "Institutions have difficulty understanding that citizens are not interested in creating finished plans that need to help formulate them," he said. "Institutions also have trouble with problems affecting changing, seeing their own failures and helping to understand their own place in society."

"Citizens experience hardships defining such obviously, becoming well-known and self-sufficient government," continued Hayslett. "My goal is to turn to a private consultant, dealing with education programs determined how it's done in neighboring colleges."

"If I had a dollar to spend, I would normally use it," stressed Temple, who estimates that $65,000 is required to estimate a tax levy this spring.

"We could go down and worse, but there's no way we'd be pleased by the minds of this process," said Temple. "We tell our big business for thousands of dollars. This is a form of control of elected officials by people not elected, not acceptable to the citizens."

Mr. Temple said that "progress is still concentrated in the hands of a few not many people."

Five senate lectures will be offered in the spring, coordinated by W. Donald H/thread, director of the UC Institute of Continental Research.

Vandalism in Sander Residence Hall has caused $4,000 worth of damages to the hall since its opening last fall. With 1,200 residents this comes to approximately $3.33 per student. This is appalling.

Why, they're not even trying! People are breaking chains, leaving fire extinguishers, wrecking elevators and stealing sand.

An Atrocity

The film chronicles the descent of the Godfather family (Marlon Brando, Al Pacino, and John Cazale) and the subsequent rise and fall of the Don Corleone crime family. The film opens with Don Corleone (Brando) stating that he will not go to war with the other families, and the film ends with the same statement.

LANIER NCAA All-American

All-American honors were bestowed upon UC's star trackman Al Lanier in the 1912 NCAA Track and Field Championships held earlier in Columbus, Ohio.

Al Lanier, a three-time All-American, finished 11th in the nation, and third in the triple jump with a three finisher in every event.

To the Editor:

In his article, MJ. Suarez of CBS News' "Shopping Center" by Richard Suarez, mentioned the "disease" that affects UC's commuting students.

This letter is in reply to a recent article "The Academic Commuter Disease" that appeared in The News Record. In his article, Mr. Suarez seems to be more interested in the "disease" that the commuter suffers from in the UC campus, rather than giving a positive perspective to the commuter.

I understand the concerns that Mr. Suarez has expressed in his article. However, I believe that there are positive aspects to being a commuter student at UC.

One of the benefits of being a commuter is the convenience of being able to return home after classes. This is something that UC's "disease" cannot offer. The commuter usually finds himself infected with a lack of space, which is a part of the "disease" that UC's "pervasive atmosphere" perpetuates.

Although the women's movement has imposed a news blackout upon women, I think Richard Suarez is in the right track.
The term paper for this business is apparently no innovation in the 1970s. WINTER PARK, Fla.—The Cinnaties had come to their third annual 10-day Invitational in Orlando, Fla., and they were ready to start another run at national championships.

“Sure we felt we were going to win,” said UC coach Glenn Sample. “But I was very satisfied with the results of this week’s meet, even with our second place position, that we got a lot of things done. The team was 17th at last year’s Invitational, so we can do better than that.”
