Two Assaults, Incident Occur in Brodie Halls

A student and one incident in the Brodie Science Complex's were recently discovered and one incident was discovered.

According to the students, the first occurred at 1:30 p.m. when a man approached a woman walking between A-4 and A-3. The woman refused to talk to him and was then knocked down and sprayed in the face.

At approximately 4:45 a.m., another incident occurred on a female student walking down the sixth floor of A-4. The suspect reportedly threatened the woman and "said nothing." The suspect was not located.

Both women involved were quoted as stating that their assailant was a male student. The first incident was reportedly an unprovoked assault.

A special meeting of the University Senate was held Monday to discuss the assaults. The Senate decided to form a special committee to investigate the incidents.

The Senate also decided to take steps to increase safety measures, such as installing additional security cameras and increasing the number of security personnel on campus.

Elections Board Dismisses Charges Against Foster

Delores Bell (CONTRIBUTING EDITOR)

Elections Board removed a student from the campus list of eligible voters following a hearing on charges of violating the student conduct code. The student had been accused of distributing campaign material on University premises without permission.

The student had been campaigning for Michael Dam (CI), the current student body president. The student was charged with violating the Student Conduct Code by distributing campaign materials on University premises.

The hearing was held on Tuesday, with the student and witnesses testifying. The student was found guilty of the charge and was subsequently removed from the campus list of eligible voters.

The case is currently under appeal, and the student is expected to file a formal appeal within the next few weeks.

The case is a reminder of the importance of upholding the University's policies and regulations, especially during election season.
Schnure: Avoid Strike Backlash; Better Ways to Show Disgust

By Rich Bender Staff Reporter

A presentation by Neil Armstrong, astronaut of space engineering and the first human to set foot on another world, on October 25th, was met with enthusiasm and respect from the faculty members. This presentation was part of the "Man: The Time Is Now," symposium, where Armstrong spoke of his experiences in space and the future of space exploration.

Learn to be a pilot. Fly in your spare time.

Flying—what a great way to spend your vacation time. Many people are discovering that Private Pilot Training (PIT) is the Air Force Reserve Program that trains those who qualify to become Air Force pilots with a minimum of interruption from their jobs, home life, etc.

Qualifications include: being between 20 and 35 years of age, having completed a physical examination, and having at least a high school degree.

Air Force Reserve Pilots receive 3 weeks of training at Lackland AFB, Texas, and then attend Officer Training for 4 weeks. Upon being commissioned and stationed in the Air Force Reserve, you will return to your own home state, follow the civilian career you've chosen, and be with your local Air Force Reserve unit, during your weekends.

Find yourself flying in the Air Force Reserve.

Instructional Policies Studied by Faculty

The Subcommittee on Improvement of Instructional Policies, a subcommittee of the Faculty Senate, has distributed questionnaires to all faculty members to find ways to improve instructional policies at UC.

The

Margaret Armstrong, director of instructional improvement, said that the information gathered from the questionnaires will help to improve the quality of instruction at UC.

A&S are also members of the committee.

"We hope that we will get students involved in the process of change," Armstrong said. "We hope that students will see the importance of improving our classrooms and instructional policies."
Bennis Supports School Levis In Primary

May Primary Will Decide Changes in State Government

By Jean Davidson
Staff Reporter

Ohioans will vote in the May 2 primary on a proposed amendment, issue 1A, on the ballot, which specifies at least 14 changes in state government, easily in the opinion of the legislature.

The proposed amendment is one of two being admitted to the voters. The other, issue 1B, would allow the state to operate lottery.

A major change proposed in issue 1A is the election of the governor and the lieutenant governor as a team. Under the present system, each is elected separately.

The amendment currently has less than 10 percent support of general vote, despite the support of its sponsors, said Bennis. "It is a complex proposal that goes against the established doctrines and programs." The legislation considered and rejected a proposal that the candidates for governor and lieutenant governor be shown as a team in the primary. This would have given greater freedom to general vote in the selection of their running mate. Instead, it was left up to the legislature to decide at each election whether the candidates would be chosen as a team in the primary.

Another highly discussed proposal in issue 1A would allow legislative expense accounts.

Members of the legislature now receive $12,500 a year and 10 cents a mile for one round trip to Columbus while in session. They must pay Cole expenses, including hotels and meals in Columbus.

The proposed amendment would allow legislators their "reasonable and necessary expenses" while stimulating services in Columbus. This proposal reflects attempts to make the office structure enough to appear to a broad cross section of people.

The proposal does not set a dollar amount for expenses, but does contain a safeguard against legislative agencies directly authorizing expenses for themselves. It provides that one legislative authority other expenses for the next. This means that all legislators except senators minority in their four year term would have to face the voters before benefiting from an expense authorization.

The amendment, if adopted, would give greater additional duties to the lieutenant governor, whose primary duty at present is to preside over Ohio Senate. This function would be taken over by a senator, elected by his fellow senators. This would make the lieutenant governor to the same way the house elects a speaker to preside.

The lieutenant governor would become a member of the executive instead of lieutenant branch. It would handle duties assigned to him by the governor’s spokesman in dealing with state boards and commissions.

A number of additional changes have been proposed, most to smooth out existing law and practice. Others include three obsolete sections of the constitution.

One change would specify that a bill could not be voted on until all copies of it had been distributed to all members. Bills heavily changed in committees generally are ignored.

This amendment would also require that they necessarily must be. It is in an effort to induce the Ohio changes in legislature during the race for appointment.

Another change would forbid legislators from holding any type of other office. Now they are only forbidden to hold any office that carries some type of pay.

A proposal allowing the pending officers of the House and Senate to call special legislative sessions is included in the package. This can now be done only by the governor, who would also continue to have the right.

Generally, changes proposed in issue 1A "follor the recommendations of the National Citizens’ Conference on State Legislatures, an independent foundation based on Kansas City, which has made exhaustive studies of state legislatures to suggest ways to make them more responsive to the needs of the people."

All proposed changes would become effective immediately upon approval by voters with the exception of the one concerning the elections of the lieutenant and lieutenant governor as a team, which would become effective the second Monday in January 1975, allowing the present governor and lieutenant governor to run separately for re-election. (It is a general procedure to assure that amendments do not affect officers in office when they are adopted.)

Humphrey For Ohio

Hubert Humphrey is a man of vision and courage. We support him in Tuesday's Ohio Democratic Primary. Some say that, at 63, Humphrey has labored for far too long. We say that he has been ahead of the times for 24 years. He has fought with courage for civil rights. He helped draft the 1963 Medicare law. He introduced the first comprehensive national health insurance bill in 1949 that became part of the 1965 Medicare law. He proposed the 1960 Civil Rights Act. He sponsored the 1963 Voting Rights Act. In 1951 and 1952, the Nixon administration, under Hubert Humphrey, was the first to begin the process of desegregating the Armed Forces. In 1954, the Supreme Court declared school segregation to be illegal. In 1955, Humphrey introduced the Fair Employment Practices Act. In 1965, he sponsored the Elementary and Secondary Education Act, which helped provide educational opportunities for minorities.

Humphrey has been ahead of his time in many other areas. He was the first to introduce the concept of national parks in the 1930s, and he helped to shape the modern environmental movement. He was the first to introduce the idea of a national health care system in the 1950s, and he helped to shape the modern health care system. He was the first to introduce the idea of a national health care system in the 1950s, and he helped to shape the modern health care system.

President Bennis will not comment on a recent statement by president of the eight by Lehigh universities and the Mennonite Institute of Technology about the renewed bombing in Vietnam and anti-war demonstrations protecting the war.

Student Affairs Restructured; Three Deans to Be Appointed

by Carlie Raye

Student Affairs Division—Just what does that ominous title mean? It certainly is the most recent and definitely one of the most exciting recent modifications that the University of Cincinnati has undergone in recent years.

Providing a more understandable answer to important questions is the role of Student Affairs. Who are they and what do they deal with? What is their ultimate goal? What does that ominous title mean? Let us try to answer those questions.

The entire division consists of many different parts which have, in the past, had their own goals and objectives. Specialized services have been created to deal with a certain problem. Now, however, this trend is being reversed. A new and more efficient structure, more focused on the student, is being implemented.

The overall goal of this transition is to focus on the needs of students in a changing, temporary society. The traditional structure of student affairs has been restructured to meet the needs of students in a changing, temporary society. This summer you can afford to go to America.

Introducing the Hostel Plan for students who fly American.

Go European without leaving the country. Fly with us. And stay there for only $4 to $8 a night. In student kinds of places. At student kinds of prices. With your kind of friends. And American Airlines, who have been doing it for years.

Now you can do it here on the American Airlines Hostel Plan. For students who fly (naturally) American Airlines. If you’re headed to any of our six biggest east and west coast cities, you’ll find cheap, conveniently located spots to hang your hat. At a cost that won’t hang you up.

The fun is that you’ll find them at some of the hottest universities in America. In Boston, Washington, D.C., San Francisco, Los Angeles, San Diego, and New York City. You’ll get fresh linens when you check in. A comfortable double room. And, depending on the hostel, air conditioning, pools, tennis courts, a games room, a coffee shop, whatever’s happening on campus.

To help you get around, we’ll fly your bike whenever you fly for just 50¢. Or you won’t have to rent a Ford Pinto for only $3 a day, $6 a week (if you’re over 21).

This summer, get a Youth Fare card if you’re under 22 and fly for less with American Airlines. To go all the way and stay for less too, call American Airlines reservations office. And ask about the universities on the Hostel Plan.

UC Soph 'Lifts' Way to High National Prestige

Galen Gogolenko, a 20-year old UC sophomore in Art, finished 3rd in the 1972 National A.A.U. College Powerlifting Championships he held last weekend at Texas Christian University in Ft. Worth.

Competing with over 100 lifts from across the country, Gogolenko won the 170 lbs. category for the second year in a row. The Bearcat won, against Indiana St. and Wright State, and placed 5th overall.

The club would have to finance itself for the first two years. This involves a minimal expense of $1600.00 a year.

Kaufman Resigns
Research Council
Announces Policy
Bruce R. Kaufman, director of UC Libraries, has resigned effective July 31. Kaufman was originally named assistant director in September 1968. He was named Director of the UC Libraries, February 1, 1970.
University Provost Robert O’Neal, announced that a search committee will be formed to begin screening applicants for the position.
It was also announced that the University Research Council, which was established last October, has formulated policies and guidelines for 36 percent of research applications. The Council has also set down procedures for the preparation and submission of applications.
In the policy paper, the Research Council announced the qualifications for eligibility:
In defining the eligibility of an applicant, the paper said, “To each case a full member of the University Faculty must be a Pittsburgh investigator, of equal standing in his or her discipline.”
Practically will be based on eight points, including innovativeness and a request for funds that would not exceed $1,000. The Council hopes that the money grant will be used as “seed money” to initiate basic work from which additional support from outside sources could later be sought.
