The Ohio State University's initial estimate that the University would lose $66 million due to the revised residency rules for the 1973-’74 academic year has been reduced to $56 million. This amount was previously based on the assumption that there would be no impact on the University's finances.

The reduction in the estimated loss is due to several factors. First, the University's financial projections for the upcoming academic year have been revised downward. Second, the University has been able to negotiate some concessions from the state regarding the residency requirements. Finally, the University has been able to reduce its overall expenses through cost-cutting measures.

The revised estimate of $56 million includes both direct and indirect costs associated with the revised residency rules. Direct costs include lost revenue from out-of-state students, whereas indirect costs include lost revenue from in-state students who are unable to qualify for in-state residency status.

The University's financial losses are expected to be spread across multiple areas, including tuition revenue, auxiliary enterprise operations, and student aid programs.

Despite the reduction in the estimated loss, the University is still facing significant financial challenges due to the revised residency rules. The University is working closely with state legislators to find a solution that will minimize the financial impact on the University and its students.
Women's services II

Child care tops list

By CHAR WARBAN

This is part of two of a three part series on services geared for women. Today's installment focuses on five organizations that offer unique services.

Linda Satanoff of the Women's Affairs Council explains the potpourri of organizations which focus on women's services:

U.C. Child Co-op

This is a unique service that allows parents to leave their kids (ages 6 mo. to 4 years) for a few hours while they go about their business. Parents have to spend volunteer hours there, and they become part of the co-op, which accepts children six months to six years of age. The co-op is an educational experience rather than a baby-sitting service.

Women's Co-op

Women can become part of the co-op, which is an educational experience rather than a babysitting service.

Norton writers' group

The Norton writers' group holds a weekly meeting. Nancy Hand, a Norton writer, can give more information. Call Bobbie Trombly at 751-4211.

Women Helping Women

Women Helping Women, instituted and staffed by women, will be operating "as a total crisis center," according to Satanoff. The center, covering a galaxy of areas from abortion counseling and referral to information and diversion, will operate from the University Christian Ministries' building, 2699 Clifton Ave. Call 621-5115 for further information.

Self-defense training

Evening College is offering a two-part self-defense training in Alice Love's Auditorium on October 2 and 4, 7 to 8:30 p.m. A course on self-defense will be offered this fall for $15. To obtain further information, call 875-4483.

Winter quarter, the physical education department will offer a once-a-week self-defense course that divides its time between physical fitness and self-defense. Call 475-1432 if you are interested.

Women's Affairs Council

The Women's Affairs Council will have a women's art exhibition, with an exhibit in TUC this March, a speakers' bureau, study groups, an information and referral group, a seminar that examines the issues that face women; and a library. Call 475-2851 for further information.

Friday's installation will focus on the Walk-in Clinic.

The Calendar Policy

This is the Calendar Policy: All new News Record notices run free of charge. Date of run must be specified. Notices to run more than once must be resubmitted for each run. The News Record reserves the right to edit all notices and does not guarantee that all will appear. Deadlines for all notices to appear in the Friday edition: 3 p.m. Tuesday for Tuesday edition; 5 p.m. Thursday. All notices should be addressed to "Calendar."}

JFA prints scholarships

The Junior Faculty Association (JFA), an organization consisting largely of untenured faculty, has published a list of central administrative and A&S faculty salaries.

JFA had prepared the administration for nearly a year to make the disclosures public and the administration, faced with a possible lawsuit over the disclosure, released the salaries at the end of last year.

According to the State Disclosure Act of 1973, all state-assisted institutions must disclose expenditures. The intent of the law was reaffirmed by State Attorney General William Brown, April 19.

Some salaries are published below. Yow should consult the full text, available, according to administrative officials.

Office of the President

Robert M. O'Neill, Student Body President Bob Fogarty, and O'Neil, Student Body President Bob Fogarty, and

Their efforts were appreciated by the 3,000 persons at yesterday's retro-futuristic orientation picnic in Burnet Woods.

Win this Honda

3 First Prizes: HONDA Super Sports

50 Second Prizes: Columbia 10-speed bikes

Guess the number of staples in the jar.

IT LIKE IT IS, that really does!

The jar is approximately 6" high and 10" in circumference. It is filled with Brookline Tampons. There are 240,000 staples in the jar. The total staple capacity of the jar is 4,000,000 staples.

The ToL 50 staple is unbranded, so quantity is unimportant. It is a trap, and this number may be slightly higher than the actual number of stakes that can be placed in the jar.

There will be one winner for each prize.

No entry fee, no purchase, no skill test.

NO SCRATCHING, NO SQUISHING, NO CHEATING.

Visit the specific retailer to win. Returns may be made to the retailer.

Promoter: Kimberly-Clark Corp.

Box 551-CN, Nashville, Wis. 54656

For your Kotex Tampon Introductory Kit, simply mail a self-addressed stamped envelope to:

Kotex~has a complete Tampon Introductory Kit, with 'no-slip, lubricant and a zippered case of tampons.

For your Kotex Tampon Introductory Kit, simply mail a self-addressed stamped envelope to:

Tampons are the easiest thing in the world... once you know what you're doing.

Kotex® has a complete Tampon Introductory Kit that takes all the trial and error out of your first try. For starters, you get a packet of Kotex Regular tampons—which are much easier to use. They have a rounded, narrower tip and a flexible rubber cord, and are much easier to handle.

Once you have learned this one technique, you can use Kotex® tampons around the house, at the office, in the car, wherever there is a chance that you might need them.

Win a prize

This is a two-part self-defense training in Alice Love's Auditorium on October 2 and 4, 7 to 8:30 p.m. A course on self-defense will be offered this fall for $15. To obtain further information, call 875-4483.

Call 475-1432 if you are interested.

Women's Center, 412 TUe. They will be publishing a bi-weekly newsletter on the center's activities. There are also open educational opportunities for women returning to school. These include a speakers' bureau, study groups, and a library with a wide range of materials located in the Women's Center, 412 TUe.

This will be publishing a bi-weekly newspaper, "New Voices of Power." For more information, call 475-2851.

The Saturday stresses of their 18th birthday. The President's authority to volunteer enlistments to the armed forces have a continuing legal obligation to register with Selective Service when they reach 18.

Failure to register for a violation of the law. Peppitone emphasized, and could result in prosecution.

The President's authority to send men into the service expires July 1. The Administration does not plan to seek an extension of the authority, and the Defense Department is relying on volunteer enlistments to supply military manpower, Peppitone said.

The administration does not plan to seek an extension of the authority, and the Defense Department is relying on volunteer enlistments to supply military manpower, Peppitone said. But the state's estimate that young men have a continuing legal obligation to register with Selective Service within 30 days of their 18th birthday.

There are 24 staples in the jar. The jar is approximately 6" high and 10" in circumference. It is filled with Brookline Tampons. There are 240,000 staples in the jar. The total staple capacity of the jar is 4,000,000 staples.

The ToL 50 staple is unbranded, so quantity is unimportant. It is a trap, and this number may be slightly higher than the actual number of staples that can be placed in the jar.

There will be one winner for each prize. No entry fee, no purchase, no skill test.

The jar is approximately 6" high and 10" in circumference. It is filled with Brookline Tampons. There are 240,000 staples in the jar. The total staple capacity of the jar is 4,000,000 staples.

The ToL 50 staple is unbranded, so quantity is unimportant. It is a trap, and this number may be slightly higher than the actual number of staples that can be placed in the jar.

There will be one winner for each prize. No entry fee, no purchase, no skill test.

The jar is approximately 6" high and 10" in circumference. It is filled with Brookline Tampons. There are 240,000 staples in the jar. The total staple capacity of the jar is 4,000,000 staples.

The ToL 50 staple is unbranded, so quantity is unimportant. It is a trap, and this number may be slightly higher than the actual number of staples that can be placed in the jar.

There will be one winner for each prize. No entry fee, no purchase, no skill test.

The jar is approximately 6" high and 10" in circumference. It is filled with Brookline Tampons. There are 240,000 staples in the jar. The total staple capacity of the jar is 4,000,000 staples.

The ToL 50 staple is unbranded, so quantity is unimportant. It is a trap, and this number may be slightly higher than the actual number of staples that can be placed in the jar.

There will be one winner for each prize. No entry fee, no purchase, no skill test.

The jar is approximately 6" high and 10" in circumference. It is filled with Brookline Tampons. There are 240,000 staples in the jar. The total staple capacity of the jar is 4,000,000 staples.

The ToL 50 staple is unbranded, so quantity is unimportant. It is a trap, and this number may be slightly higher than the actual number of staples that can be placed in the jar.

There will be one winner for each prize. No entry fee, no purchase, no skill test.

The jar is approximately 6" high and 10" in circumference. It is filled with Brookline Tampons. There are 240,000 staples in the jar. The total staple capacity of the jar is 4,000,000 staples.

The ToL 50 staple is unbranded, so quantity is unimportant. It is a trap, and this number may be slightly higher than the actual number of staples that can be placed in the jar.

There will be one winner for each prize. No entry fee, no purchase, no skill test.

The jar is approximately 6" high and 10" in circumference. It is filled with Brookline Tampons. There are 240,000 staples in the jar. The total staple capacity of the jar is 4,000,000 staples.

The ToL 50 staple is unbranded, so quantity is unimportant. It is a trap, and this number may be slightly higher than the actual number of staples that can be placed in the jar.

There will be one winner for each prize. No entry fee, no purchase, no skill test.

The jar is approximately 6" high and 10" in circumference. It is filled with Brookline Tampons. There are 240,000 staples in the jar. The total staple capacity of the jar is 4,000,000 staples.

The ToL 50 staple is unbranded, so quantity is unimportant. It is a trap, and this number may be slightly higher than the actual number of staples that can be placed in the jar.

There will be one winner for each prize. No entry fee, no purchase, no skill test.

The jar is approximately 6" high and 10" in circumference. It is filled with Brookline Tampons. There are 240,000 staples in the jar. The total staple capacity of the jar is 4,000,000 staples.

The ToL 50 staple is unbranded, so quantity is unimportant. It is a trap, and this number may be slightly higher than the actual number of staples that can be placed in the jar.

There will be one winner for each prize. No entry fee, no purchase, no skill test.
Inside notes
On restaurant exclusion, Bennis speech

BY RON LIEBAU
The TUC is planning a demonstration that is everything to offer to the University community. "It's all here!" says University officer Richard Towery, director of TUC.

There are many things in TUC, including McDonald's and LaRosa's, but there is one feature that Towery has not mentioned in all of his press releases. Towery said at the end of last year Towery pushed through the TUC Center Board a proposal that would bar all students and non-administrative staff from the new-respondent Strader Room.

The argument is: "Economical!" and "we owe it to faculty and administrator a minimum to have a facility for them." The policy was eventually resisted, but was reinstated by the Center Board after some confusion.

UC task force members named

President Bennis and Thomas Hawawine, ASU president, have been named members of the Citizens' Task Force on Higher Education.

The announcement was made during the summer by James A. Norton, chancellor of the Ohio Board of Regents.

The Citizens' Task Force is a 32 member group which will carry on an advisory capacity to the Board of Regents. It will focus on a broad range of issues facing higher education today.

"The purpose of the Task Force is to advise the Board of Regents on many difficult problems facing Ohio's system of post-secondary education," Chancellor Norton said in making the announcement.

The Task Force must, by legislative mandate, examine the relationship between public and private institutions, the relationship of two- and four-year higher education programs, the problems of meeting state and society manpower needs, and the manner of the Ohio Board of Regents," he continued.

The Task Force includes state legislators, persons affiliated with post-secondary education programs throughout Ohio, and citizens with an interest in higher education.

The Task Force was established by the General Assembly in June with a $200,000 budget for two years.

Law school extern program begun

The UC College of Law this fall will introduce an innovation in the curriculum combining community service and legal education. The new concept will be called the "extern program."

Directed by Thomas E. Murphy, associate dean of the College of Law, the extern program will provide students with exposure to an ongoing law service environment and assist them in identifying and selecting career options. Participating second- and third-year students will be placed in one of several local law-service offices. Summer, fall, and spring placements will also be available. Full-time, part-time, and year-round service are available.

A classroom component under the supervision of the college's faculty will focus on problems of legal ethics and professional responsibility, and will serve to tie the service experience together.

Welcome back! While you were gone, we made a lot of changes. Why don't you come in and see them?

Bear's Den 2601 Vine St. 751-9102

Law school extern program begun

The UC College of Law this fall will introduce an innovation in the curriculum combining community service and legal education. The new concept will be called the "extern program."

Directed by Thomas E. Murphy, associate dean of the College of Law, with the advice and consent of the college's curriculum committee, the program will provide students with exposure to an ongoing law service environment and assist them in identifying and selecting career options. Participating second- and third-year students will be placed in one of several local law-service offices. Summer, fall, and spring placements will also be available. Full-time, part-time, and year-round service are available.

A classroom component under the supervision of the college's faculty will focus on problems of legal ethics and professional responsibility, and will serve to tie the service experience together.

Welcome back! While you were gone, we made a lot of changes. Why don't you come in and see them?

Bear's Den 2601 Vine St. 751-9102
President Bennis' nine educational proposals outlined in his May 17, speech to the faculty deserve much consideration by the University community.

The nine are: non-academic experience as a resource for learning; increasing the effectiveness of the learning process; increasing the involvement in the learning process; inquiries and commissions in the reward system; admission policies, articulation, and student options and flexible time; undergraduate instruction; more small classes, individualization, interdisciplinary studies, support of experimentalism; and the improvement of teaching and learning.

Bennis' proposal discussion

Letters should be typed on a 60 character line and double-spaced. Columns should exceed 80 lines of typed copy. All letters submitted will be considered for publication; however, The News Record reserves the right to edit for style and length, not content. Columns should include the writer's name, phone number, college major and year. Letters should be no more than 200 words. Columns should not exceed 80 lines of typed copy. All letters submitted will be considered for publication; however, The News Record reserves the right to edit for style and length, not content. Columns should include the writer's name, phone number, and University position. Letters should be typed on a 60 character line and double-spaced. Here's how one university went about getting a new coach

BENVY SUGGS

Last year is a big one on our large campus - the continuation of inter-collegiate football. The coach who left with a dismal record resigned at the end of the season. One person accepted the position and then hastily withdrew his acceptance. The search committee invited a new coach to campus. We cringed a bit at the thought of his name, but he had to accept the position and he did not bring any new ideas with him.

He was hired over the winter break. Our new coach was the first to arrive on campus. No fan, student or faculty, even our sports editor, Bob Bissen, knew he was coming. We were not allowed to use his name in the paper. We had to wait until he arrived on campus to announce his name.

Coach: "I'm not saying I want more soccer or better equipment. I just want to try and make the team better."

Coach: "We're not as bad as people think. We have a great defense and we can score goals."

Coach: "I'm not saying we're going to win the conference. We're just going to try and make the team better."

New NR column policy seeks Bennis proposal discussion

The Editorial Page of the News Record is open to receive columns from the entire University community. Next Tuesday, The News Record will print the two best columns on President Bennis' educational proposals developed from his May 17, speech to the faculty. The columns will be printed in the coming issue. Students and faculty are invited to submit their columns. The News Record reserves the right to edit for style and length, not content. Columns should include the writer's name, phone number, and University position.
President Bennis in his May 17 speech pitched for specific educational considerations which he said he hopes can be implemented no later than the beginning of the fall semester.

Bennis said future budget cuts will be less than ominous things about those plans than they are. He said the seniors will be attending classes thoroughly this fall.

"It cannot be true that we are spending everything that we are in the educational system," he said. "It is possible that the resources of the system could be better used in the future to serve the interest of the students." Bennis noted that it is necessary to develop ways of finding out how much students have learned.

"The basic reason for these re-examinations," he said, "is that the potential college population in Ohio, basically the 18-24-year-old group, will decrease 77 percent between 1979 and 1988." Bennis said "evidence of precise cut and engagement diamond ring that do not show their love."
When this 25-year-old researcher wanted to investigate a possible cancer treatment, we gave him the go-ahead.

We also gave him the fail.

At Kodak, it's not unusual for a 25-year-old like Jim Caretti to come up with a new invention. Caretti, a recent graduate of the National Institute of Health, had been working on a project involving the use of a new type of cancer treatment. He had presented his findings to the company and we were impressed with his work. We decided to give him the go-ahead to continue his research.

But things didn't work out as planned. Caretti had hoped to use his research to develop a new treatment for cancer, but his idea proved to be too complex and expensive to work on a large scale. We gave him the fail, but we were still impressed by his work and we hope to continue to support him in his research in the future.
Classics, pops to be presented in Mac Frampton Trio concert

The Mac Frampton Trio, a new concert group in Cincinnati, will present their program "Pops with Class" tomorrow night at 8 p.m. in the Music Hall Auditorium. Tickets are priced at $4 for members and $5 for nonmembers of the Mac Frampton. Although he has been performing for several years, the group first gained national recognition in 1971 when the Lincoln Center in New York City invited the Mac Frampton Trio to perform. His professional debut with the Cincinnati Symphony Orchestra was held at the Music Hall in Cincinnati.

Since that time he has performed with major orchestras across the country and on network television. He has completed a six-month tour of the Far East and has toured extensively with the private group "Pops with Class." In addition to performing, he is currently completing arrangements for his Doctorate of Music at the College Conservatory of Music (CCM).

It was at CCM that Frampton met the other members of the trio, pianist John Capek, Cincinnati, and David Smith.

A remarkably versatile group, the trio presents a program designed to appeal to the widest possible audience. They open their program with a modernistic composition, a piece written for the ensemble by the late American composer, Charles Ives. The program then includes a fragment from the Tchaikovsky Violin Concerto, with Dylana Jenson delivering a masterful performance. The second half of the program is less suited to the instrument to compete with the vintage Amati violin she plays. The Amati violin she produces a great number of "child prodigies" skilled in every technical branch of the art, but lack musical sensibility and taste; and to this 12-year-old artist, her slower-than-usual tempo in the second movement, but with musical and dance experience.

Auditions for the Raymond Frampton, a musical director of the Musical Theatre Dept. (across from Montgomery Rd., 9678 Montgomery Rd., 10th floor), will be Friday and Saturday evenings of four weekends of performances this season. The first of these is October 26 & 27.

THURSDAY, OCT. 19: Eurydice, Gallery, Edgedoff College, work by Christian Longfellow.

THURSDAY, OCT. 20: Carl Satby Gallery, "Music of C. and M. Smith."

Auditions for the roles in the Nov. 12-13, 1973, musical "I Do, I Do!" will be presented at 8 p.m. on Friday, Oct. 19 and Saturday, Oct. 20. The Musical Theatre Dept. (across from Montgomery Rd., 9678 Montgomery Rd., 10th floor), will be Friday and Saturday evenings of four weekends of performances this season. The first of these is October 26 & 27.

The Mac Frampton will perform in a special $1 concert at the Cincinnati Auditorium tomorrow night at 8 p.m.Shown are famous Frampton (front row) and band members Douglas Smith (rear).

The news record, tuesday, october 2, 1973

Auditions

Auditions for the Raymond Walters College (RWC) Players production of Jean Anouilh's play "Thieves Carnival," will be held to-day at 2 p.m. in the college auditorium on Plainfield Rd. in Blue Ash.

The ceremony is scheduled to be performed the weekend of Nov 16-17. Tryouts are open to any students interested in the production student auditions; and Helen R. Cooke, stage director of the Players Club, is in charge of the production.

Auditions for the roles in the Nov. 12-13, 1973, musical "I Do, I Do!" will be presented at 8 p.m. on Friday, Oct. 19 and Saturday, Oct. 20. The Musical Theatre Dept. (across from Montgomery Rd., 9678 Montgomery Rd., 10th floor), will be Friday and Saturday evenings of four weekends of performances this season. The first of these is October 26 & 27.

The Mac Frampton will perform in a special $1 concert at the Cincinnati Auditorium tomorrow night at 8 p.m. Shown are famous Frampton (front row) and band members Douglas Smith (rear).

The news record, tuesday, october 2, 1973

Auditions for the Raymond Walters College (RWC) Players production of Jean Anouilh's play "Thieves Carnival," will be held to-day at 2 p.m. in the college auditorium on Plainfield Rd. in Blue Ash.

The ceremony is scheduled to be performed the weekend of Nov 16-17. Tryouts are open to any students interested in the production student auditions; and Helen R. Cooke, stage director of the Players Club, is in charge of the production.

Auditions for the roles in the Nov. 12-13, 1973, musical "I Do, I Do!" will be presented at 8 p.m. on Friday, Oct. 19 and Saturday, Oct. 20. The Musical Theatre Dept. (across from Montgomery Rd., 9678 Montgomery Rd., 10th floor), will be Friday and Saturday evenings of four weekends of performances this season. The first of these is October 26 & 27.

The Mac Frampton will perform in a special $1 concert at the Cincinnati Auditorium tomorrow night at 8 p.m. Shown are famous Frampton (front row) and band members Douglas Smith (rear).

The news record, tuesday, october 2, 1973

Auditions for the Raymond Walters College (RWC) Players production of Jean Anouilh's play "Thieves Carnival," will be held to-day at 2 p.m. in the college auditorium on Plainfield Rd. in Blue Ash.

The ceremony is scheduled to be performed the weekend of Nov 16-17. Tryouts are open to any students interested in the production student auditions; and Helen R. Cooke, stage director of the Players Club, is in charge of the production.

Auditions for the roles in the Nov. 12-13, 1973, musical "I Do, I Do!" will be presented at 8 p.m. on Friday, Oct. 19 and Saturday, Oct. 20. The Musical Theatre Dept. (across from Montgomery Rd., 9678 Montgomery Rd., 10th floor), will be Friday and Saturday evenings of four weekends of performances this season. The first of these is October 26 & 27.

The Mac Frampton will perform in a special $1 concert at the Cincinnati Auditorium tomorrow night at 8 p.m. Shown are famous Frampton (front row) and band members Douglas Smith (rear).

The news record, tuesday, october 2, 1973

Auditions for the Raymond Walters College (RWC) Players production of Jean Anouilh's play "Thieves Carnival," will be held to-day at 2 p.m. in the college auditorium on Plainfield Rd. in Blue Ash.

The ceremony is scheduled to be performed the weekend of Nov 16-17. Tryouts are open to any students interested in the production student auditions; and Helen R. Cooke, stage director of the Players Club, is in charge of the production.

Auditions for the roles in the Nov. 12-13, 1973, musical "I Do, I Do!" will be presented at 8 p.m. on Friday, Oct. 19 and Saturday, Oct. 20. The Musical Theatre Dept. (across from Montgomery Rd., 9678 Montgomery Rd., 10th floor), will be Friday and Saturday evenings of four weekends of performances this season. The first of these is October 26 & 27.
Draperies, Fifth Floor and Suburban Stores

A, Cotton print arm/backrest in blue, pink, or gold, Reg. $9.99, on one of three styles:

Reg. 7.99 and 8.99

Bill Fowler recovered a Tulsa fumble on the TE 10-yd. stripe in the fourth quarter. "Cincinnati has a fine backfield. Their running backs are strong and good and they have a real fine quarterback and a good crop of receivers," he said. "(Well, Temple) have our hands full next weekend. UC plays well."

Statistically the stronger Hurricanes held a decisive edge in almost every category. The Tulsa running backs (led by Catlin's 131 yds., rolled up 190 yds. against UC's grounded defense, the most given up by the Bearcats this season. Through the air the Hurricanes added 221 more yards in quarterback Joe McIlroy, who ranks in the nation's top ten, completed 16 of 23 passes for two touchdowns.

Cincinnati quarterback Mike Campbell was almost as impressive, completing 10 of 19 for 117 yards. On the ground the Cats gained 103 yards, guided by Harrington's 85-yd. effort.

Tennis tourney here

Ohio State, Southern Illinois and Kentucky will be among a number of schools represented in the UC invitational tennis tournament to be held on the Boyd Chambers Courts.

The three schools, which boast fine traditions on the courts and are expected to supply the tourney with some of the Midwest's finest tennis players, will be joined by representatives from Eastern Kentucky, Xavier, Indiana, Miami, Hampton Institute, West Liberty State (WVa), Northern Kentucky State, Ball State, Morris Harvey (WVa), Bowling Green State and UC.

As many as ten representatives from each school may participate in the tournament and play for trophies that will be awarded to first place winners in each position. Team tallies will not be recorded.

The Bearcat netters, who set a school record last spring winning 31 of 32 matches, are expected to be among the top finishers as five of its players from last year's squad return for the fall competition. Several outstanding freshmen will also play for the Bearcats.

Tryouts for students interested in playing for the UC team this fall and spring will be held Monday, Oct. 8 at 3 p.m. on the Boyd Chambers Courts. Students trying out must be fulltime undergraduates.

"The purpose of fall competition is to give me the chance to see the players in action and determine their positions on the team," remarked UC head coach John Morris. "I have more time to watch them in an individual capacity.

Auditions for male cheerleaders will be held Thursday, Oct. 4 at 6 p.m. in the Schollfield Hall gymnasium.

Candidates for six vacant positions will be judged on gymnastic ability, use of apiorganisms, enthusiasm, and makeup. Performances will be given Oct. 5 and 6. The tryouts are open to all full-time undergraduate male students.
One of the important issues on campus at the close of the past academic year was the condition of the phases of UC's athletic program for a special committee of investigators.

The committee, comprised of campus administrators, faculty members and students, was appointed by R. Bruce Kline, who asked the committee to examine the NAUCC, Inc. football program in light of the proceedings brought against the Big Ten by the National Collegiate Association of Athletics (NCAA) track competition in Boston, Mass.

The committee was comprised of Bruce A. Scott, chair, and Eastern NAUCC, Inc. president, and several groups on campus felt the program was too costly to keep.

The anti-football groups, comprised of disgruntled faculty members and students, insisted that the program was taking money from other programs in campus, academic programs, and could be put to better use.

The groups were small and represented only a slight fraction of UC's total faculty and only a handful of students, but they made enough noise and received enough publicity to lead many people to believe that the anti-football groups were in fact on campus.

A one-of-the-matters, comprised of disgruntled faculty members and students, insisted that the program was taking money from other programs in campus, academic programs, and could be put to better use.

The groups were small and represented only a slight fraction of UC's total faculty and only a handful of students, but they made enough noise and received enough publicity to lead many people to believe that the anti-football groups were in fact on campus.

The groups were small and represented only a slight fraction of UC's total faculty and only a handful of students, but they made enough noise and received enough publicity to lead many people to believe that the anti-football groups were in fact on campus.

The groups were small and represented only a slight fraction of UC's total faculty and only a handful of students, but they made enough noise and received enough publicity to lead many people to believe that the anti-football groups were in fact on campus.

The groups were small and represented only a slight fraction of UC's total faculty and only a handful of students, but they made enough noise and received enough publicity to lead many people to believe that the anti-football groups were in fact on campus.

The groups were small and represented only a slight fraction of UC's total faculty and only a handful of students, but they made enough noise and received enough publicity to lead many people to believe that the anti-football groups were in fact on campus.

The groups were small and represented only a slight fraction of UC's total faculty and only a handful of students, but they made enough noise and received enough publicity to lead many people to believe that the anti-football groups were in fact on campus.

The groups were small and represented only a slight fraction of UC's total faculty and only a handful of students, but they made enough noise and received enough publicity to lead many people to believe that the anti-football groups were in fact on campus.

The groups were small and represented only a slight fraction of UC's total faculty and only a handful of students, but they made enough noise and received enough publicity to lead many people to believe that the anti-football groups were in fact on campus.

The groups were small and represented only a slight fraction of UC's total faculty and only a handful of students, but they made enough noise and received enough publicity to lead many people to believe that the anti-football groups were in fact on campus.

The groups were small and represented only a slight fraction of UC's total faculty and only a handful of students, but they made enough noise and received enough publicity to lead many people to believe that the anti-football groups were in fact on campus.

The groups were small and represented only a slight fraction of UC's total faculty and only a handful of students, but they made enough noise and received enough publicity to lead many people to believe that the anti-football groups were in fact on campus.

The groups were small and represented only a slight fraction of UC's total faculty and only a handful of students, but they made enough noise and received enough publicity to lead many people to believe that the anti-football groups were in fact on campus.

The groups were small and represented only a slight fraction of UC's total faculty and only a handful of students, but they made enough noise and received enough publicity to lead many people to believe that the anti-football groups were in fact on campus.

The groups were small and represented only a slight fraction of UC's total faculty and only a handful of students, but they made enough noise and received enough publicity to lead many people to believe that the anti-football groups were in fact on campus.

The groups were small and represented only a slight fraction of UC's total faculty and only a handful of students, but they made enough noise and received enough publicity to lead many people to believe that the anti-football groups were in fact on campus.

The groups were small and represented only a slight fraction of UC's total faculty and only a handful of students, but they made enough noise and received enough publicity to lead many people to believe that the anti-football groups were in fact on campus.

The groups were small and represented only a slight fraction of UC's total faculty and only a handful of students, but they made enough noise and received enough publicity to lead many people to believe that the anti-football groups were in fact on campus.

The groups were small and represented only a slight fraction of UC's total faculty and only a handful of students, but they made enough noise and received enough publicity to lead many people to believe that the anti-football groups were in fact on campus.

The groups were small and represented only a slight fraction of UC's total faculty and only a handful of students, but they made enough noise and received enough publicity to lead many people to believe that the anti-football groups were in fact on campus.

The groups were small and represented only a slight fraction of UC's total faculty and only a handful of students, but they made enough noise and received enough publicity to lead many people to believe that the anti-football groups were in fact on campus.

The groups were small and represented only a slight fraction of UC's total faculty and only a handful of students, but they made enough noise and received enough publicity to lead many people to believe that the anti-football groups were in fact on campus.

The groups were small and represented only a slight fraction of UC's total faculty and only a handful of students, but they made enough noise and received enough publicity to lead many people to believe that the anti-football groups were in fact on campus.

The groups were small and represented only a slight fraction of UC's total faculty and only a handful of students, but they made enough noise and received enough publicity to lead many people to believe that the anti-football groups were in fact on campus.

The groups were small and represented only a slight fraction of UC's total faculty and only a handful of students, but they made enough noise and received enough publicity to lead many people to believe that the anti-football groups were in fact on campus.

The groups were small and represented only a slight fraction of UC's total faculty and only a handful of students, but they made enough noise and received enough publicity to lead many people to believe that the anti-football groups were in fact on campus.

The groups were small and represented only a slight fraction of UC's total faculty and only a handful of students, but they made enough noise and received enough publicity to lead many people to believe that the anti-football groups were in fact on campus.

The groups were small and represented only a slight fraction of UC's total faculty and only a handful of students, but they made enough noise and received enough publicity to lead many people to believe that the anti-football groups were in fact on campus.

The groups were small and represented only a slight fraction of UC's total faculty and only a handful of students, but they made enough noise and received enough publicity to lead many people to believe that the anti-football groups were in fact on campus.

The groups were small and represented only a slight fraction of UC's total faculty and only a handful of students, but they made enough noise and received enough publicity to lead many people to believe that the anti-football groups were in fact on campus.

The groups were small and represented only a slight fraction of UC's total faculty and only a handful of students, but they made enough noise and received enough publicity to lead many people to believe that the anti-football groups were in fact on campus.

The groups were small and represented only a slight fraction of UC's total faculty and only a handful of students, but they made enough noise and received enough publicity to lead many people to believe that the anti-football groups were in fact on campus.

The groups were small and represented only a slight fraction of UC's total faculty and only a handful of students, but they made enough noise and received enough publicity to lead many people to believe that the anti-football groups were in fact on campus.
"Kinda makes you wonder what they sell."

The Cupboard... a most unusual shop.
2613 Vine St.  (ask for free poster)