President Langsam Issues Annual Freshman Message

It is always pleasant to welcome Freshmen and new students to join the exciting aspect of the educational experience that is offered by the Uni-sity of Cincinnati. I am grateful for the opportunity.

The University of Cincinnati has the spirit and excitement of a era of academic education, where the knowledge to draw from the academic experience is not merely numbers. During your years at the University, you will come to realize the full potential of your education.

New students come Freshmen and other new students to join the exciting mass of alumni. I am grateful to Mr.
Humphrey for his speaking enthusiasm and his ability to Motivate students. The Vice-President of the United States will speak before students and faculty at Wilson Auditorium. The program will begin at 12:45 with a short speech by the Vice-Preident and will be followed by a terest and answer period, in which Mr. Humphrey will discuss major national issues with a spontaneous attitude and insight into students. The Vice-President will then answer any questions posed by the audience.

Mr. Humphrey’s speaking engagement has been arranged by the Orientation Board, under Miss Jean Vierck, and the legal and sciences Tribunal. “We think that it is important to the University,” said Herbert Curry, faculty advisor to the Tribunal.

“Students have a chance to become acquainted with national issues at first hand, and programs like this one can only develop a better understanding of our time.”

The Vice-President is certainly in a position to speak with au-tority on practically every maj-er national issue. The Vice-President has spent a great portion of his life in municipal, state, and national political tissues.

Attended Denver College
Became Freshman at Wilson May 27, 1931, Mr. Humphrey attended Denver College of Pharmacy and received a degree in 1933. Mr. Humphrey earned his B.A. from the University of Minnesota in 1939, and his M.A.
from Louisiana State University in 1940.

He was elected Mayor of Min-nepolis in 1945 and 1947. In 1948, he was re-elected in 1954 and 1960. His democratic colleagues in the United States Senate selected him as the Assistant Majority Leader in 1964.

Mr. Humphrey’s speaking engagement is scheduled to be held on Thursday, September 28, at 12:45 in Wilson Auditorium.

The most important changes, however, will be in the attitudes and the expectations of the players. The returning letterman will all be lighter and quicker than they were last year, and most of them were still developing during the first part of the season. The newcomers were stirred up by their opponent, and will now start a new year.

Coach Homer Rice will have the team operating from a "flexible" formation, which will stress a balanced and potent attack.

The new quarterback has shown all the signs of being an exciting player. Greg Cook spent most of his sophomore season nursing an injury but this season he seems ready to release his fine passing arm. Rice has moved to top offensive lineman Ron Nelson to defense, leaving guard Ed Nemlan as the offensive line leader. Tom Jack-on, who filled in at quarterback last year, will get a whirl at tailback, can also play the defensive secondary.

The defense features UC’s top returnee, Bob Amburgey, at safety. He was an all-MVCL choice last season, and is certain to get better. Rice looks for some outstanding work from linebackers Bill Balkum and Mike Barrett, also.
Lerry Elson looks as if he may develop into the top-notch "tack-eter" or "bearcat" as the UC system refers to him.
New '104' Form Needed
For II-S Student Deferment

The Selective Service System has two basic requirements for information they must receive before they can consider student deferments, according to Joseph Davis, UC's Assistant Registrar.

1. The new form 104 for requesting a II-S deferment must be completed and signed by the student and given to his local board.
2. The student must complete, sign, and return his green authorization card and form 109-103 to the registrar's office if he wishes the necessary information sent to his local board. The green card need not be filled out more than once, but forms 109-103 must be completed and signed annually.

Reach Full Academic Potential

'Free' Class Starts Wednesday

Registration for the Autumn quarter in Effective Reading and Study Habits will be held Monday, September 25, and Tuesday, September 26, in room 323 Pharmacy Building, 8:00 to 5:00. Classes begin Wednesday, September 27, and end Friday, December 1. These classes are designed to help students realize their potentialities for academic achievement.

Admission to the course is open to full time students without charge. No credit will be given. All reading classes will meet three hours per week for a period of one quarter. Each class is limited to 20 students. If there are any questions concerning these classes, contact Mrs. Alma Marnie, Reading Center, 324 Pharmacy, Ext. 3372.

Campus Activities On Display

Two Dances, Picnic Also Set

Several dances, a picnic and an activities fair are of social interest to freshmen during Orientation Week. The calendar of events can be consulted for more thorough scheduling.

The Activities Fair gives the freshman a look at most of UC's activities and their leaders. All clubs, societies, and publications will have booths erected on Wednesday, Sept. 20. A TUF dance will be held on the Union Bridge, Friday, Sept. 22, from 9:00 to 10:00 p.m. Music will be provided by the Sacred Mushrooms. In case of rain the dance will be held in the great hall.

The Men's and Women's Residence Halls will sponsor a picnic on Friday, Sept. 22 at Oak Ridge Lodge for all new students in the college of pharmacy. Time is from 10 a.m. - 4 p.m.

It's For You

Orientation week is a time of learning, of acquainting yourself with a new way of life. It is the first step in the long walk through college and, if you use it wisely, will open many shortcuts to make that walk easier and more pleasant.

Those who enter orientation with the "I know what's happening, I don't need any help" attitude will miss many chances to make their college life more meaningful and interesting.

A lesson can be learned from the over 300 student advisors who use the last week of vacation to assist the incoming students in understanding and adjusting to college life. They are the ones who realize the true value of having someone who knows what college life is about around to help when the newness piles up.

Orientation offers numerous chances to become acquainted with the various facets of university life. The Activities Fair acquaints the incoming students with the extra-curricular activities available to the students. Student advisors help acquaint the new students with life on the Cincinnati campus, and offer advice and direction gained through the last part of student involvement. The correspondence and tours offer a valuable introduction to the campus itself, and most importantly, to the new academic life to be faced. Of course, the social aspects are included in the mixers and fraternities and sororities rush of the first weeks of fall.

Involvement is a major part of the educational process, and orientation week is the introduction to involvement in college life.

Freshmen, Help!

We may not be able to give you a draft deferment for having a vital occupation, but you can be of an uncrowded and enviable group, on that basis, you have achieved an entry into the world of known and respected student leaders, and have the team working hard to accomplish that objective.

One of the most important qualities that Rice possesses is his vital interest in all around him. He is an intense, dedicated, and very receptive to ideas, but he has an idea of how football should be run, and sticks to it.

Many of his ideas are developed on the team, and a conversation with the players will show that he has gained their respect, one of the most important things that a coach can accomplish.

Rice will fill an exciting and spirited team, and hopes for the student leadership and what he's trying to do and support the team and the University.

To Mom And Dad: What You Didn’t Notice

You didn’t notice it when you brought me here the other day, you don’t notice it until you go from building to building. All you do is go up and down! Steps, steps, steps, and then some more steps.

And, almost worse than this, as you race from class to class, to lunch and back, is that inevitable "bull-dozed" Dad. I’ve never seen so much construction in my life! I’m in a hurry to get to class, but I believe the University officials are in a bigger hurry to double the size of the University before I graduate.

Construction Happening

I noticed a favorite word among the students is a "happening" — there sure is a lot of construction "happening" around here. Let me tell you about some of it.

Engineering and Science has always been outstanding at UC and presently some $33 mill. worth of buildings are under construction. The complex consists of a 16-story research tower, a Satory undergraduate Chemistry Laboratory building, and a small linking building containing a library and stock room.

Other colleges are growing too — a new classroom/auditorium building just opened for the College of Music.

A new community or 3-year college just opened in the northern part of the country, some 20 miles north of the Clifton Campus. Some 600 students go there.

Housing for men and women is a big problem too. This fall two residence halls, one for men and one for women, partially opened. I understand there was a lengthy series of labor union strikes that prevented the completion of the dorm.

I understand from the fellows and girls that live in these two places, once the work is completed it will be a swingin’ place to live. The men’s hall is over 1,000 ft. above sea level and provides a dramatic view of Cincinnati, Kentucky, the Ohio River and as much as 50 miles in some directions.

These new residence halls are air-conditioned which means the central heating and cooling plant is also being expanded.

Athletic Fields

For recreation, a series of athletic fields are now approaching completion and will provide space for the fraternity and residence hall intramural teams to play. The fields are illuminated so it can be a nighttime activity as well.

With all these stairs — who needs recreation! Speaking of stairs, at a recent Freshman convention, it was explained to us that the planners for the University are trying to "level" the campus with a series of bridges and tunnels.

Nurses Domain

I mentioned off-campus construction earlier. About a quarter mile from the heart of the campus a new home for the College of Nursing and Health is rising. This building is located half way between the main campus and the Cincinnati General Hospital. The nursing four years in each location. I understand the new Alumni Center! Someday I sure hope to join the ranks of the Alumni. I wonder if the Alumni Center will be built before I join the ranks.

Goodbye for now everybody — it’s time to go eat — I don’t want to miss that — time for those steps ’n more steps — hey, look out for that bull-dozer!

P. S. About that automobile, dad — the University is building more and more parking lots and parking structures, so parking won’t be a problem. Right now there are 1,584 structured spaces, and 2,466 spaces on the ground. So don’t forget, I’m still interested in that car!

WESLEY

"EXPERIENCE SATURDAY"

In concurrence with our theme, "The Great Leap Forward," the Wesley Foundation will be taking off for the new year with an open house that will be both an "experience" and a "happening." On Saturday, September 23rd, after the Dayton football game (about 9:30 p.m.), all students are invited to be part of an existential involvement which will be completely "out of sight." This will be a trip which will blow your mind and turn you on for the year to follow.

The nation's largest group of apparel shops catering exclusively to college students
By Bob Plorf in

One of the most important programs sponsored by the UC athletic Department will kick off with the promise of bigger and better things coming. The completion of the new athletic fields will add to the already fine Intramural program, under the capable new leadership of baseball coach Glen Sample.

In an interview last week, Mr. Sample outlined many of the new changes, emphasizing the importance of the program, and released many key dates that interested parties should keep in mind.

New Fields

With the addition of the new fields all participants will enjoy increased efficiency in the handling of the games. There are lights which will allow night games and late starts. And most of all the fields are at last convenient to all students.

The program is open to all students and campus organizations. Fraternities and local clubs have long entered teams in competition, and lately the dorms have joined in. A running point total is kept, and a trophy awarded to the winner of the most points for the entire year.

Fall quarter activities include baseball, swimming, and volleyball, as well as the King of Intramural sports, touch football. All those wishing to enter teams in football competition this season must attend a meeting at 4:30 Oct. 3rd in Laurence Hall. Those interested in working as officials should be in Laurence Hall at 7:30 p.m. on Oct. 3rd for a complete rules rundown.

Once again this year, the NEWS-RECORD sports department will run an All-Star team for the top IM football players and feature expanded coverage of all the scheduled events.

The new revised Intramural Handbook will be available to all parties after the Oct. 3rd meeting. Many new procedures and rules will be fully explained, and a listing of all sports included in the program can be found there.

Sample Takes Over

Coach Sample replaces Royals' basketball coach Ed Jucker in the IM Department, and he has taken on new wrestling coach Jim Mahan as his permanent assistant. This means that someone will always be available for information. They will be helped out by Denny Woodruff, Bill Ilg, and Al Porkolab, who will run the leagues and schedule the games and officials.

Watch following editions of the NEWS-RECORD for further details on the Intramurals.
Metro Men Sponsor Picnic
To Create Spirit, Support

Free pom-poms, a buffet dinner on the mall between the University Center and Nippert Stadium, and entertainment are all part of the finale to UC's Freshman Orientation Week, the Freshman Spirit Banquet, Saturday, Sept. 22 at 5:00 p.m.

The men of Metro are sponsoring the picnic to show the freshmen that UC has spirit and is supporting the new coaching staff and team.

The University is giving its support to the picnic by closing all University eating facilities during the picnic. Anyone who is participating in the University meal plan will be admitted to the picnic. Students other than residence hall students will be charged $1.00 each.

Tickets will be sold during Orientation Week by Metro men and at the University Center Information Desk on Wednesday and Thursday. Tickets will also be available at a booth at the Activities Fair, Wednesday (Sept. 20).

Master of Ceremonies for the program will be Dave Allman, a member of Metro. Homer Rice, UC's head football coach, and other members of the coaching staff will be present at the program. The cheerleaders, the "Bearcats," and the band will be at the picnic to help to create enthusiasm and spirit for the game.

Freshmen, ROTC Offers Challenge
Leadership Development Key Aspect

A challenge, strictly speaking, is the summons to a contest. A college career in any institution is a challenge upon the student's intellect, to try upon his ability to think and reason and it taxes his intellectual drive to a maximum.

Some students fail to meet this challenge - not that they do not succeed in their field of concentration, but rather in the area of judgment. Many come to University saying "I'm going to go into this or that". To this individual a sorrowful note is sounded, for he has failed to gain all that his mind is capable of comprehending.

The Army As Leader

An ROTC Cadet, from a military standpoint, can never be a failure because he cannot afford to put out just enough to get by. He is trained as a leader - and as such he is initiated into the concept of organization, military and clear, concise thinking; so vital to any young man in this complex society. But perhaps the most important aspect of all, is the challenge of leadership.

A cadet must demonstrate his ability to lead in order to be trained. The Corps is faced with the challenge of training a young man who has learned to be a leader of men, an Army professional man. per experience and opportunity in the Army and by demonstrating the sense of full cooperation between the student to all areas of experience and opportunity in the Army and by demonstrating the sense of full cooperation between these different phases. They share the heritage of Duty, Honor and Country and bring this heritage to the classroom. Their goal is to develop character and leadership in the student by the exacting of steadfastness under pressure, self expression, and integrity. They want the student to develop these qualities and to seek a commission through the ROTC program if he can measure up to the high standards.

The Program

The ROTC Program is specifically designed to give college men on-campus training and experience in the art of organizing, motivating, and leading others. It includes instruction to develop self discipline, physical stamina and learning qualities that are an important part of leadership and that contribute to success in any kind of career. The young man who wants training that will help to make him a leader during his college years and for the rest of his life should learn about Army ROTC.

Army on maneuvers on Union Bridge

The program includes studies in organization, military history, marksmanship, tactics, military law and a continuing study in "the way to lead", which is conducted principally in the form of actual practice on the drill field. The training offered by Army ROTC is not duplicated by other courses on the campus. The training that qualifies the college student to be an officer is an asset to any young man whether he plans to become a teacher, a public servant, a businessman, or a professional man.

The ability to motivate men, to win their confidence, and to effectively supervise them has been attributed by many civilian leaders to training received through ROTC. A recent analysis of several groups of national leaders indicates a definite relationship between success and Army ROTC training. From the relatively small number - approximately five per cent of college graduates who had the benefits of this training came seventy-four percent of the governors of our fifty states, military academy at West Point. They are career officers and their time in service range from eight to twenty-nine years. They are veterans of World War II, Korea, and most recently Vietnam.

The University of Cincinnati officers come from various branches of the Army - Artillery, Infantry, Medical Service Corps, Corps of Engineers, and Armor. The variation in backgrounds enhances the ROTC program by exposing the student to all areas of experience and opportunity in the Army and by demonstrating the sense of full cooperation between these different phases. They share the heritage of Duty, Honor and Country and bring this heritage to the classroom. Their goal is to develop character and leadership in the student by the exacting of steadfastness under pressure, self expression, and integrity. They want the student to develop these qualities and to seek a commission through the ARMY ROTC program if he can measure up to the high standards.
