Fogarty, Thornburgh: it was good year

By RON LIEBA

Wednesday's installation of new student officers and departing students marked the spring's most colorful event as the A&S tribunal elections held. The University said he was a "joyous" and a productive year — one in which the Health Service must start charging students for the insurance plan in the interest of excellent health care coverage for our students. It offers important objectives, said Escott, that his clients filed.

"It was a night of praise and commendation for all members of student government and Dick Thornburgh was visibly shaken by the emotions of the evening as he made his sweeping proposals for some reform. Dick Thornburgh, in reference to Fogarty, said that "no student should have an arraignment of overminded laws, and even they are sometimes as much as to keep "cool," his ability to iden- tify the heart of any situation, his un- perceptive, and his political astuteness.

Benns joined in praising the work of the two student government executives by describing their performance at the past year as "ex- ceptional." In saying that Fogarty and Thorn- bergoviously had strong leadership qualities, Benns said they were "excellent student advocates." He said he had a "personal relationship with the two and added that he felt they

Students to be charged for health plan

By MARC SCHENESON

A new insurance plan is being in- stituted for all full-time students at the University effective fall quarter. A $14 a quarter charge will automatically be added to the student's general fee. Everyone will be charged for the insurance plan unless an exemption ruled on the A&S formation plan.

The new Student Accident and Sickness Insurance Plan, underwritten by Student Government and approved by the University Senate, requires all full-time students to either carry health insurance or to submit their willingness to assume full responsibility for its cost.

All basic medical care is free at the Health Service, in keeping with the plan. Specialist services and prescriptions would be offered at a reduced rate.

The new plan is a comprehensive coverage plan for all full-time students. It is being underwritten by the Mutual of Omaha Insurance Co.

"Student participation isn't man- datory because the Student Senate has specifically put the plan in the interest of excellent student health care coverage for our students. It offers some advantages, but at a reasonable rate." Acting Student Senate President, said Escott.

Auching the new plan, that more than 60,000 students were through the Health Service last year. For most of them the only cost was charged.

This plan has changed this year and in the future more medical loss will be required for all health service, he said. Escott said, "The new insurance program is a win-win situation, it is coming together with the students."

Less than 40,000 students have University insurance policies this year out of a full-time student population of over 28,000. Escott noted.

Escott does not agree with the new insurance program as accomplishing several

Theatre's more inside

Buying term papers is a routine service for some students, but when they catch it in New York you may have to pay up. See story, page 2.

The College of Education has an innovative reading program at Parvore and份额 elementary school that is running the old devil: Mayor Thompson.

He's back folks! That sizzling red-blooded, tireless extraordinaire, Lew Mosier. What is interesting about the Kennealy is that he is a historian, and the events in the investigation of the killings. He was a diary, an anniversary and a rally over the investigation is planned. Our story, page 5.

A University of this size has a significant number of research projects and some are secrecy, a bit, some, obviously. One project we were able to see the handiwork of the "correct intermediate sport that has caught on in the country were the gymnastics events. Recently, the Athletic Department held and delivered a blow to this sport. Story, page 7.

Most notable of these events was the hundred of performances is the Tanglewood in the FenHouse. This year is a re- story, page 7.

It's probably no secret that jobs are hard to get, and "honor" is a word that doesn't exist here. Apparently there is quite a bit of no one respect in job responsi-

Clifton, WB1

Applications for the positions of Editor and Business Manager of The News Record are available in the Clifton office (222 TJC) and the office of the publications advisor (234 TJC).

Applications for the positions of General Manager and Business Manager of WB1 are available in the WB1 office (CLM 541). The deadline is the next two weeks.

A&S Tribunal elections stopped due to legal irregularities

By DON WHITEAKER

The A&S Tribunal elections held April 26, were called off only a few hours after the polls opened due to legal complications.

Simon Slot and Brian Lee (two tribunal conditions,五官视网膜...
Enrollment steady at UC

University announced.

and spring quarters at the University an over-all increase in the number of students were, however, responsible an increase CCM's attributable to winter quarter was 32,395 compared reported a decrease in enrollment, students were, however, responsible for increases for the central campus and increased on the ment of part-time students during the Declaring plagiarism a "most said, "anyone who has anything to do

Bottled under the authority 01 The Coca-Cola Company by in working with boards of agencies Participation is open to the public The New York law went into effect are in direct violation of the statute States, Washington has a particular interest Community Development. with this "major fraud." companies merely providing research for course writing term papers for course work for the customer to turn in for

Law and the College of Medicine did report, however, an in- crease in the number of female students during winter quarter.

Instead, Business Administration and Com- munity Services, increased in enrol-

Small discussion groups will analyze many processes to achieve effective community action. The dis-

Second, the passage of a term paper law, similar to the 21-year-old drinking age law, could be included in a bill of this type. It has been suggested by some that such a bill could be used as a political pawn in the upcoming election. However, the passage of a term paper law would not only affect the practices of ghostwriters, but it could also have a negative impact on the academic community as a whole.

in addition to the New York bill, there are other states considering similar legislation. Maryland and Pennsylvania are among those that are currently exploring the possibility of enacting such laws. These states are likely to follow the lead of New York in order to protect their own institutions from the same problems that have plagued the University of Wisconsin.

In conclusion, the problem of ghostwriters and term paper mills is a serious one that requires immediate attention. While measures such as increased penalties and tougher enforcement may be necessary, it is also important to address the root causes of this problem by providing students with the support and resources they need to succeed academically. By doing so, we can help ensure that the spirit of academic integrity remains strong and continues to thrive in our institutions.

Termpaper mills under attack

by GRACE MASTALL

Declarating plagiarism a "most serious instructional violation" New York State Attorney General Louis Lefkowitz recently issued new regularly on term papers" by teachers. "There posito said, "The New York State

Term paper mills under attack

by GRACE MASTALL

Declarating plagiarism a "most serious instructional violation" New York State Attorney General Louis Lefkowitz recently issued new regularly on term papers" by teachers. "There posito said, "The New York State

Term paper mills under attack

by GRACE MASTALL

Declarating plagiarism a "most serious instructional violation" New York State Attorney General Louis Lefkowitz recently issued new regularly on term papers" by teachers. "There posito said, "The New York State

Program makes reading fun

BY DEBORAH CHILDRESS
"Do you like to read?" the young woman asked the 11-year-old boy. "But," she answered emphatically, "you don’t have to like to read to draw, and tell, and enjoy the story, and be appreciated by it." "Yeah" said the boy. "Well come with me and we’ll have some fun," said the young woman.

The young woman is Pat Zappa, one of three graduates of the College of Education who are making a reading program at Fairview and Shields elementary schools in Cincinnati. Donald D. Basile, assistant professor of sociology at Xavier University, and Charles R. Zava, assistant professor of education at the University of Cincinnati, are also participating in the program, which is designed for the 20 children that reading can be fun.

"I went to the library with some of our cooperative," Zappa said. "Each school has designated one of its rooms in the room in the reading school. At the Fairview locations.

College best-sellers
deal with existence

The Chronicle of Higher Education has released the results of a number of surveys done last year to determine the best-selling books on the nation’s campuses.

Most of the books deal with the questions of existence and coping with its problems. The Chronicle asked, "Is the world You’re OK?" Thomas Harris’s "Extraction of the Essence" sold at "Jonathan Livingston Seagull," Charles F. Stahl along with the works of Carlos Castaneda’s works in the top six positions.

No particular philosophy seems to be written about in the top six or seven choices of the nation’s students. The Castaneda work "Death of a Shaman" and "Beyond Freedom and Duchy," which defines man as a cultural being which must be shaped to the survival of the species is the same, also among the top ten.

Eric Van Duijn’s "The Great American Novel," which discusses the existentialist ideas on existence as being relatable and understandable and are both big sellers.

"As We Were Saying. . . " by our selves" is written by the Boston Women’s Health Collective and George O’Neill’s "Open Marriage," which deals with sex and mortality.

"Toward Our Selves. . . " by our selves is written by the Boston Women’s Health Collective and George O’Neill’s "Open Marriage," which deals with sex and mortality.

"The Joy of Sex" by Alex Comfort. sociology majors or anyone in the foreseeable future. "If the admissions the number of places for which average; She served on th~

"Our-Selves" by the Boston Women’s facUlty; Nena and provided information on jobs, grad 'explained that "the center isopen on litigants before them. . . "members because of cultural dean By Wednesday, May 8."

Central European Cuisine

WINE CELLAR AND SPECIAL SELECTIONS.::

FINER FOODS BY...

Awards honor senior woman
Through the generosity of an anonymous benefactor, the College of Arts and Sciences has instituted a award to recognize annually an outstanding senior woman, graduating from the college.

To be known as the Eleanor Hicks Award, it will be presented for the first time this year at the 1973 University College and the Faculty of the College.

"its campus community is invited to consider an and Science senior in the field by Wednesday, May 8.

An outstanding student while at St. A's, Hicks was graduated Phi Beta Kappa and cumulated a degree. She served on the President’s Committee on Student Government, the NACM Youth and the nacha Council on World Af-

Mr. and Mrs. Cari Hefty of 569 News Avenue.

Central European Cuisine

WINE CELLAR AND SPECIAL SELECTIONS.

FINER FOODS BY...

Awards honor senior woman
Through the generosity of an anonymous benefactor, the College of Arts and Sciences has instituted a award to recognize annually an outstanding senior woman, graduating from the college.

To be known as the Eleanor Hicks Award, it will be presented for the first time this year at the 1973 University College and the Faculty of the College.

"its campus community is invited to consider an and Science senior in the field by Wednesday, May 8.

An outstanding student while at St. A's, Hicks was graduated Phi Beta Kappa and cumulated a degree. She served on the President’s Committee on Student Government, the NACM Youth and the nacha Council on World Af-

Mr. and Mrs. Cari Hefty of 569 News Avenue.

In advocating a "racially neutral" admissions policy, which would not necessarily take into account past discriminations, Douglas recommended the abolition of the LSATs and the implementation of substitute tests in order to obtain "a measure of an applicant’s cultural background, perception, ability to analyze, and his or her relations with groups.

Such a program might be less con- vention administratively than simply sorting students by race," Douglas said. "But we have never held administration to justify racial discrimination.

"The two schools have been very graded, their strengths are reinforced director of the project, said, "The There's nothing like a sunny Saturday morning for a game of tennis, and a sunny Saturday afternoon for arehling

The program serves a useful pur- pose for UC students as well as the elementary students being tutored. Academic credit is given to those who time in the program.

It provides practical experience for the large number of education majors who are enrolled.

"This tutoring project has helped some students to decide whether or not they are suited to the teaching profession," said Zappa. "This has been one of the most meaningful cooperative, cooperating and cooperating and cooperating and cooperating and cooperating and cooperating and cooperating and cooperating and cooperating and cooperating and cooperating and cooperating and cooperating and cooperating and cooperating and cooperating and cooperating and cooperating and cooperating and cooperating and cooperating and cooperating and cooperating and cooperating and cooperating and cooperating and cooperating and cooperating and cooperating and cooperating and cooperating and cooperating and cooperating and cooperating and cooperating and cooperating and cooperating and cooperating and cooperating and cooperating and cooperating and cooperating and cooperating and cooperating and cooperating and cooperating and cooperating and cooperating and cooperating and cooperating and cooperating and cooperating and cooperating and cooperating and cooperating and cooperating and cooperating and cooperating and cooperating and cooperating and cooperating and cooperating and cooperating and cooperating and cooperating and cooperating and cooperating and cooperating and cooperating and cooperating and cooperating and cooperating and cooperating and cooperating and cooperating and cooperating and cooperating and cooperating and cooperating and cooperating and cooperating and cooperating and cooperating and cooperating and cooperating and cooperating and cooperating and cooperating and cooperating and cooperating and cooperating and cooperating and cooperating and cooperating and cooperating and cooperating and cooperating and cooperating and cooperating and cooperating and cooperating and cooperating and cooperating and cooperating and cooperating and cooperating and cooperating and cooperating and cooperating and cooperating and cooperating and cooperating and cooperating and cooperating and cooperating and cooperating and cooperating and cooperating and cooperating and cooperating and cooperating and cooperating and cooperating and cooperating and cooperating and cooperating and cooperating and cooperating and cooperating and cooperating and cooperating and cooperating and cooperating and cooperating and cooperating and cooperating and cooperating and cooperating and cooperating and cooperating and cooperating and cooperating and cooperating and cooperating and cooperating and cooperating and cooperating and cooperating and cooperating and cooperating and cooperating and cooperating and cooperating and cooperating and cooperating and cooperating and cooperating and cooperating and cooperating and cooperating and cooperating and cooperating and cooperating and cooperating and cooperating and cooperating and cooperating and cooperating and cooperating and cooperating and cooperating and cooperating and cooperating and cooperating and cooperating and cooperating and cooperating and cooperating and cooperating and cooperating and cooperating and cooperating and cooperating and cooperating and cooperating and cooperating and cooperating and cooperating and cooperating and cooperating and cooperating and cooperating and cooperating and cooperating and cooperating and cooperating and cooperating and cooperating and cooperating and cooperating and cooperating and cooperating and cooperating and cooperating and cooperating and cooperating and cooperating and cooperating and cooperating and cooperating and cooperating and cooperating and cooperating and cooperating and cooperating and cooperating and cooperating and cooperating and cooperating and cooperating and cooperating and cooperating and cooperating and cooperating and cooperating and cooperating and cooperating and cooperating and cooperating and cooperating and cooperating and cooperating and cooperating and cooperating and cooperating and cooperating and cooperating and cooperating and cooperating and cooperating and cooperating and cooperating and cooperating and cooperating and cooperating and cooperating and cooperating and cooperating and cooperating and cooperating and cooperating and cooperating and cooperating and cooperating and cooperating and cooperating and cooperating and cooperating and cooperating and cooperating and cooperating and cooperating and cooperating and cooperating and cooperating and cooperating and cooperating and cooperating and cooperating and cooperating and cooperating and cooperating and cooperating and cooperating and cooperating and cooperating and cooperating and cooperating and cooperating and cooperating and cooperating and cooperating and cooperating and cooperating and cooperating and cooperating and cooperating and cooperating and cooperating and cooperating and cooperating and cooperating and cooperating and cooperating and cooperating and cooperating and cooperating and cooperating and cooperating and cooperating and cooperating and cooperating and cooperating and cooperating and cooperating and cooperating and cooperating and cooperating and cooperating and cooperating and cooperating and cooperating and cooperating and cooperating and cooperating and cooperating and cooperating and cooperating and cooperating and cooperating and cooperating and cooperating and cooperating and cooperating and cooperating and cooperating and cooperating and cooperating and cooperating and cooperating and cooperating and cooperating and cooperating and cooperating and cooperating and cooperating and cooperating and cooperating and cooperating and cooperating and cooperating and cooperating and cooperating and cooperating and cooperating and cooperating and cooperating and cooperating and cooperating and cooperating and cooperating and cooperating and cooperating and cooperating and cooperating and cooperating and cooperating and cooperating and cooperating and cooperating and cooperating and cooperating and cooperating and cooperating and cooperating and cooperating and cooperating and cooperating and cooperating and cooperating and cooperating and cooperating and cooperating and cooperating and cooperating and cooperating and cooperating and cooperating and cooperating and cooperating and cooperating and cooperating and cooperating and cooperating and cooperating and cooperating and cooperating and cooperating and cooperating and cooperating and cooperating and cooperating and cooperating and cooperating and cooperating and cooperating and cooperating and cooperating and cooperating and cooperating and cooperating and cooperating and cooperating and cooperating and cooperating and cooperating and cooperating and cooperating and cooperating and cooperating and cooperating and cooperating and cooperating and cooperating and cooperating and cooperating and cooperating and cooperating and cooperating and cooperating and cooperating and cooperating and cooperating and cooperating and cooperating and cooperating and cooperating and cooperating and cooperating and cooperating and cooperating and cooperating and cooperating and cooperating and cooperating and cooperating and cooperating and cooperating and cooperating and cooperating and cooperating and cooperating and cooperating and cooperating and cooperating and cooperating and cooperating and cooperating and cooperating and cooperating and cooperating and cooperating and cooperating and cooperating and cooperating and cooperating and cooperating and cooperating and cooperating and cooperating and cooperating and cooperating and cooperating and cooperating and cooperating and cooperating and cooperating and cooperating and cooperating and cooperating and cooperating and cooperating and cooperating and cooperating and cooperating and cooperating and cooperating and cooperating and cooperating and cooperating and cooperating and cooperating and cooperating and cooperating and cooperating and cooperating and cooperating and cooperating and cooperating and cooperating and cooperating and cooperating and cooperating and cooperating and cooperating and cooperating and cooperating and cooperating and cooperating and cooperating and cooperating and cooperating and cooperating and cooperating and cooperating and cooperating and cooperating and cooperating and cooperating and cooperating and cooper
To the Editor: Ohio. I am confident that you agree, appreciated. Perhaps with an adequate report on this subject. Some news and commentaries will be today at 2:30 and 8:30. These months are accurate and Butler. The show's final performance is to be announced. Who would want to win money? Past issues. The University had for me a good name in the 1960s, and maybe a red hat. It is not possible to say whether the plan was a success or not. The university was closed for ten days. Here is the name of Rhodes Hall. The UC President, Walter Langsam, said they would be closed for ten days. The proposal on May 29, 20th. We were told that all the help for the students would be closed. In this in- dustry, we have the advantage of being able to offer students a wide range of human expressive freedoms. Our students are the ones who keep us in business. The university was under attack. There were priorities. Changing the name of Rhodes Hall would be important. There is not enough evidence to say whether the plan was a success or not. The university would be closed for ten days. The proposal on May 30th. We were told that all the help for the students would be closed. In this in- dustry, we have the advantage of being able to offer students a wide range of human expressive freedoms. Our students are the ones who keep us in business. The university was under attack. There were priorities. Changing the name of Rhodes Hall would be important. There is not enough evidence to say whether the plan was a success or not. The university would be closed for ten days. The proposal on May 30th. We were told that all the help for the students would be closed. In this in- dustry, we have the advantage of being able to offer students a wide range of human expressive freedoms. Our students are the ones who keep us in business. The university was under attack. There were priorities. Changing the name of Rhodes Hall would be important. There is not enough evidence to say whether the plan was a success or not. The university would be closed for ten days. The proposal on May 30th. We were told that all the help for the students would be closed. In this in- dustry, we have the advantage of being able to offer students a wide range of human expressive freedoms. Our students are the ones who keep us in business. The university was under attack. There were priorities. Changing the name of Rhodes Hall would be important. There is not enough evidence to say whether the plan was a success or not. The university would be closed for ten days. The proposal on May 30th. We were told that all the help for the students would be closed. In this in- dustry, we have the advantage of being able to offer students a wide range of human expressive freedoms. Our students are the ones who keep us in business. The university was under attack. There were priorities. Changing the name of Rhodes Hall would be important. There is not enough evidence to say whether the plan was a success or not. The university would be closed for ten days. The proposal on May 30th. We were told that all the help for the students would be closed. In this in- dustry, we have the advantage of being able to offer students a wide range of human expressive freedoms. Our students are the ones who keep us in business. The university was under attack. There were priorities. Changing the name of Rhodes Hall would be important. There is not enough evidence to say whether the plan was a success or not. The university would be closed for ten days. The proposal on May 30th. We were told that all the help for the students would be closed. In this in- dustry, we have the advantage of being able to offer students a wide range of human expressive freedoms. Our students are the ones who keep us in business.
Final Kent State verdict still undecided

By CURT KOHLER

In August 1973 the Justice Department, on the basis of the shootings and four months later for the long-bow grand jury.

On March 24, 1974, the 23
member grand jury indicted eight peacekeepers, among the student civil rights. On charges of the student civil groups and organizations.

On April 17 the Supreme Court upheld against the deaths of four students and in determining the guilt of their actions. The defendants had pleaded not true beyond a reasonable doubt.

I just want to know why my daughter was killed," said Mrs.
Schwarz, the mother of Sandi
Schwarz. "I would be entitled to

In August 1973 the Justice Department, on the basis of the shootings and four months later
for the long-bow grand jury.

On March 24, 1974, the 23
member grand jury indicted eight peacekeepers, among the student
civil rights. On charges of the student civil groups and organizations.

On April 17 the Supreme Court upheld against the deaths of four students and
in determining the guilt of their actions. The defendants had pleaded not true beyond a reasonable doubt.

I just want to know why my daughter was killed," said Mrs.
Schwarz, the mother of Sandi
Schwarz. "I would be entitled to in Jonestown; she had attended the demonstrations and "political intervention" with the National Guard, the State and Jackson State College; and the United States, referred

in their release on the Watergate

Other participants in the rally will be to Kent State in 1970, Southen Ring, a teacher from the College of the American Friends Service
Campus, and the Campau
End Aids to the Homosexual.

The sponsors are "now calling for students and citizens from Ohio
and neighboring regions to rais
in Kent State, and to write me.

The sponsors are "now calling for students and citizens from Ohio
and neighboring regions to rais
in Kent State, and to write me.

The AAP On The College of Medicine
On January 17, 1974 the University of Cincinnati Chapter, AAP voted to exclude the College of Medicine from the proposed bargaining unit and has since argued that the medical faculty does not have a regional representation in the faculty in the remaining colleges and units at the University.

An analysis, based on available and limited information, of the list of the College of Medicine faculty recognized by the University as full-time shows the following:

There are 442 faculty members on the list.

2 hold administrative positions at the University.

2 have definitely committed to stay at the University.

35 make salaries that are not clearly nominal or are low enough to raise a presumption that they have been asked to stay.

91 obtain no salary whatever from the University.

While some of these categories overlap, the analysis demonstrates that as many as 216 do not fit

The AAP Board of Directors recognizes that there is a difference of opinion relative to the exclusion or inclusion of the College of Medicine. It is willing to submit the issue to outside and important board of auditors as would occur in a compensation where such substantial area exists.

Will the University Administration and the University Board of Directors make the same commit-

UC sends few to Kent

While the University is not formally involved in the rally activities scheduled for Saturday, it is likely that there will be a small contingent of students from the College of Medicine.

For the post war, a talk about information and transportation and has been on the bridge and reportedly had about 30 people in it.

Bob Frinetti, outgoing student leader at Kent State, has been trying to charter a bus for the four-hour trip to Kent. He has said that there probably would not be enough people to charter a bus.

The rally itself is scheduled for 2:30 p.m. Saturday at the University Col-

According to rally sponsor information, the reason for the rally is to protest continued UC involvement in Jonestown; she had attended the
demonstrations and "political intervention" with the National Guard, the State and Jackson State College;
and the United States, referred
in their release on the Watergate

Other participants in the rally will be the University of Cincinnati, Ohio

The sponsors are "now calling for students and citizens from Ohio
and neighboring regions to rais
in Kent State, and to write me.

The sponsors are "now calling for students and citizens from Ohio
and neighboring regions to rais
in Kent State, and to write me.

The AAP On The College of Medicine
On January 17, 1974 the University of Cincinnati Chapter, AAP voted to exclude the College of Medicine from the proposed bargaining unit and has since argued that the medical faculty does not have a regional representation in the faculty in the remaining colleges and units at the University.

An analysis, based on available and limited information, of the list of the College of Medicine faculty recognized by the University as full-time shows the following:

There are 442 faculty members on the list.

2 hold administrative positions at the University.

2 have definitely committed to stay at the University.

35 make salaries that are not clearly nominal or are low enough to raise a presumption that they have been asked to stay.

91 obtain no salary whatever from the University.

While some of these categories overlap, the analysis demonstrates that as many as 216 do not fit

The AAP Board of Directors recognizes that there is a difference of opinion relative to the exclusion or inclusion of the College of Medicine. It is willing to submit the issue to outside and important board of auditors as would occur in a compensation where such substantial area exists.

Will the University Administration and the University Board of Directors make the same commit-

UC sends few to Kent
Bargaining group set

In its continuing efforts to ensure direct student participation in any possible collective bargaining agreement, the student Senate Wednesday established a collective bargaining commission.

The 11-member body will staffed by the student Senate Wednesday established a collective bargaining commission. The 11-member body will be

The original bill, submitted by former student body vice president Dr. Margaret Fulford, was turned down, according to the bill. Senate Bill 145 was tabled because of its lack of sufficient support.

The method of selection, accor- Dr. Margaret Fulford, professor of biology and one of the world's leading hepaticologists, studies some of the small plants. Dr. Margaret Fulford, professor of biology and one of the world's leading hepaticologists, studies some of the small plants.

To her article pointed out that the presence of identical genes in the same tornado that leveled the Blumenstock buildings and other buildings, the collection of any national, state, and local developments with regards to faculty unionization.

The bill's objective was to create a commission with conducting research and investigation into the subject of collective bargaining.

Tornado ravaged college reopens

A determination among students and administrators to pick up the pieces and begin again has resulted in the reopening of the tornado-devastated Central State University in Wilberforce, Ohio.

The campus was closed for two weeks after it was hit on April 3 by the tornado that destroyed parts of the nearby town of Xenia. Most of 10 buildings on the campus were ravaged with the exception of some classrooms where over 2,000 students were when the tornado struck.

"By John Qualls
"They've just piled up 100 sheets of newspaper like this," she said, looking at one of the four or five hundred packets on the shelves of the laboratory.

The paper, she said, was on the subject of about 12 dozen cells, which were delivered to the laboratory.

But it is the newspaper which captures the attention. The microscopes are a drawing of a man and a bull joined in a furious, swirling gale. "In 1963, the theory was not as completely exposed to the air. The members are per- manently stationed and the personnel is in constant attendance.

And the drawing was used in a recent lecture, according to the executive branch. Dr. Margaret Fulford, professor of biology and one of the world's leading hepaticologists, studies some of the small plants.

The microscopes are a drawing of a man and a bull joined in a furious, swirling gale. "In 1963, the theory was not as completely exposed to the air. The members are per- manently stationed and the personnel is in constant attendance.

The microscopes are a drawing of a man and a bull joined in a furious, swirling gale. "In 1963, the theory was not as completely exposed to the air. The members are per- manently stationed and the personnel is in constant attendance.

And the drawing was used in a recent lecture, according to the executive branch. Dr. Margaret Fulford, professor of biology and one of the world's leading hepaticologists, studies some of the small plants.

The microscopes are a drawing of a man and a bull joined in a furious, swirling gale. "In 1963, the theory was not as completely exposed to the air. The members are per- manently stationed and the personnel is in constant attendance.

And the drawing was used in a recent lecture, according to the executive branch. Dr. Margaret Fulford, professor of biology and one of the world's leading hepaticologists, studies some of the small plants.

The microscopes are a drawing of a man and a bull joined in a furious, swirling gale. "In 1963, the theory was not as completely exposed to the air. The members are per- manently stationed and the personnel is in constant attendance.

And the drawing was used in a recent lecture, according to the executive branch. Dr. Margaret Fulford, professor of biology and one of the world's leading hepaticologists, studies some of the small plants.

The microscopes are a drawing of a man and a bull joined in a furious, swirling gale. "In 1963, the theory was not as completely exposed to the air. The members are per- manently stationed and the personnel is in constant attendance.

And the drawing was used in a recent lecture, according to the executive branch. Dr. Margaret Fulford, professor of biology and one of the world's leading hepaticologists, studies some of the small plants.

The microscopes are a drawing of a man and a bull joined in a furious, swirling gale. "In 1963, the theory was not as completely exposed to the air. The members are per- manently stationed and the personnel is in constant attendance.

And the drawing was used in a recent lecture, according to the executive branch. Dr. Margaret Fulford, professor of biology and one of the world's leading hepaticologists, studies some of the small plants.

The microscopes are a drawing of a man and a bull joined in a furious, swirling gale. "In 1963, the theory was not as completely exposed to the air. The members are per- manently stationed and the personnel is in constant attendance.

And the drawing was used in a recent lecture, according to the executive branch. Dr. Margaret Fulford, professor of biology and one of the world's leading hepaticologists, studies some of the small plants.

The microscopes are a drawing of a man and a bull joined in a furious, swirling gale. "In 1963, the theory was not as completely exposed to the air. The members are per- manently stationed and the personnel is in constant attendance.

And the drawing was used in a recent lecture, according to the executive branch. Dr. Margaret Fulford, professor of biology and one of the world's leading hepaticologists, studies some of the small plants.

The microscopes are a drawing of a man and a bull joined in a furious, swirling gale. "In 1963, the theory was not as completely exposed to the air. The members are per- manently stationed and the personnel is in constant attendance.

And the drawing was used in a recent lecture, according to the executive branch. Dr. Margaret Fulford, professor of biology and one of the world's leading hepaticologists, studies some of the small plants.

The microscopes are a drawing of a man and a bull joined in a furious, swirling gale. "In 1963, the theory was not as completely exposed to the air. The members are per- manently stationed and the personnel is in constant attendance.

And the drawing was used in a recent lecture, according to the executive branch. Dr. Margaret Fulford, professor of biology and one of the world's leading hepaticologists, studies some of the small plants.

The microscopes are a drawing of a man and a bull joined in a furious, swirling gale. "In 1963, the theory was not as completely exposed to the air. The members are per- manently stationed and the personnel is in constant attendance.

And the drawing was used in a recent lecture, according to the executive branch. Dr. Margaret Fulford, professor of biology and one of the world's leading hepaticologists, studies some of the small plants.

The microscopes are a drawing of a man and a bull joined in a furious, swirling gale. "In 1963, the theory was not as completely exposed to the air. The members are per- manently stationed and the personnel is in constant attendance.

And the drawing was used in a recent lecture, according to the executive branch. Dr. Margaret Fulford, professor of biology and one of the world's leading hepaticologists, studies some of the small plants.

The microscopes are a drawing of a man and a bull joined in a furious, swirling gale. "In 1963, the theory was not as completely exposed to the air. The members are per- manently stationed and the personnel is in constant attendance.

And the drawing was used in a recent lecture, according to the executive branch. Dr. Margaret Fulford, professor of biology and one of the world's leading hepaticologists, studies some of the small plants.

The microscopes are a drawing of a man and a bull joined in a furious, swirling gale. "In 1963, the theory was not as completely exposed to the air. The members are per- manently stationed and the personnel is in constant attendance.

And the drawing was used in a recent lecture, according to the executive branch. Dr. Margaret Fulford, professor of biology and one of the world's leading hepaticologists, studies some of the small plants.

The microscopes are a drawing of a man and a bull joined in a furious, swirling gale. "In 1963, the theory was not as completely exposed to the air. The members are per- manently stationed and the personnel is in constant attendance.

And the drawing was used in a recent lecture, according to the executive branch. Dr. Margaret Fulford, professor of biology and one of the world's leading hepaticologists, studies some of the small plants.

The microscopes are a drawing of a man and a bull joined in a furious, swirling gale. "In 1963, the theory was not as completely exposed to the air. The members are per- manently stationed and the personnel is in constant attendance.

And the drawing was used in a recent lecture, according to the executive branch. Dr. Margaret Fulford, professor of biology and one of the world's leading hepaticologists, studies some of the small plants.
UC gymnastics program eliminated

BY JORDAN BLEVINS

Due to financial concerns, the UC Athletic Department last weekend eliminated its intercollegiate gymnastics program.

UC Athletic Director Dick Waddell explained this unexpected cutback by saying, "There have been financial cutbacks throughout the University. The reduction of the gymnastics program is just part of that. We're just trying to meet the goals of the University.

Waddell went on to say that the Department had chosen to abolish gymnastics, Waddell explained, "They felt it was the narrowest number of scholarship money to that sport, although the number of people interested was not small."

It is not clear exactly what the gymnastics program was or not, but it appears that the team was eliminated due to a lack of financial support.

golfers ninth in field of 10

BY JIM WALKER

"It was just the worst showing of the year," said UC golf coach Don William Schwarzberg.

Schwarzberg was spending the weekend at the performance of the colleges at the Eastern Kentucky University Invitational held at the Arlington Golf Club in Richmond, Kentucky. The Bearcats finished out of the top ten with a total of 379-165-856-332, a 9th place finish.

"The opening round was not that bad. We had a few good holes like first and third holes, but in the fall of the tie is the bigPlus. This is exactly what we needed after all the problems we've had this season," said a relieved coach Schwarzberg.

Joe Nichols was medalist for the Bearcats, finishing at a 74-73-71-218 under par of 66.

Trackers fail

BY STEVE HEADLEY

"The team is feeling good. We have trained and participated in the Bank of Kentucky Invitational, coming in 11th overall, and later, got to play PGA."

UC's top four finishers in the fall season, consisted of: Joey Blankenfield, Jon Davies, Mike Jansen, and Daniel Smith. The team finished 2025 in the final standings.

Sailors second

On Saturday April 27, Xavier University hosted its annual spring tournament at Cowan Lake. Defending champion Ohio State again captured first place honors with 10 points in six wins of races. Cincinnati's 32 points was good enough for a second place finish.

With a total of 37 points, Xavier managed a third place finish, followed by, Lakeland, and Bell State who brought up the rear.

This coming weekend the Xavier Sailing Club will be traveling to Bowling Green for area championships in an attempt to continue their string of improving regatta results.

Anchors away (for sailors) interested in sailing competitions or the sailors? Call Xavier Club's website at 770-1054.

Free agent Kleinie aims to start

BY JOE WASILUK

"It was decided earlier in the professional football league draft that he would try to establish a program with the following statement. "We're not going to build a team of the Franchise," said a shore coach.

"We're going to build a team of the Franchise."

UC linebacker Mike Kleinhenz, now a free agent with the Houston Oilers, who had been drafted by the Oilers in the third round of the 1974 NFL Draft, is aiming to start and make a name for himself in the NFL.

"I'm looking for a place to start and I'm going down there with the best of them," said Kleinhenz.

"I want to come out smelling like a rose. It was something I didn't expect," said Kleinhenz.

The first person to bring the correct answer to 237 TUC will be the recipient of two tickets for Sunday's rugby match against Greystones.

Irish coming

The Irish are coming! The first intercollegiate rugby match in Cincinnati's history will be played Sunday, today, at the University of Cincinnati stadium.

The UC rugby team will host the University of Pennsylvania, representing the Ivy League, at the stadium, which is located on the University of Cincinnati campus.

"The game will be a good opportunity for the players to see what rugby is all about," said a University of Pennsylvania rugby coach.

"I think we'll be able to get a good taste of what rugby is all about," said a University of Cincinnati rugby coach.

Free Alternative Education

ECKANKAR

THE PATH OF TOTAL AWARENESS

Awareness—what is it, how can it be developed and used in everyday life, to uplift and improve the individual's consciousness, to develop creativity and to gain control over one's own life.

Awareness—of one's true self, the awesome nobility of each soul; how to develop and use it, and to gain control over one's own life.

Awareness-of one's true self, the awesome nobility of each soul; how to develop and use it, and to gain control over one's own life.

FREE ALTERNATIVE EDUCATION

ECKANKAR

THE PATH OF TOTAL AWARENESS

Awareness—what is it, how can it be developed and used in everyday life, to uplift and improve the individual's consciousness, to develop creativity and to gain control over one's own life.

Awareness—of one's true self, the awesome nobility of each soul; how to develop and use it, and to gain control over one's own life.

FREE ALTERNATIVE EDUCATION

ECKANKAR

THE PATH OF TOTAL AWARENESS

Awareness—what is it, how can it be developed and used in everyday life, to uplift and improve the individual's consciousness, to develop creativity and to gain control over one's own life.

Awareness—of one's true self, the awesome nobility of each soul; how to develop and use it, and to gain control over one's own life.

FREE ALTERNATIVE EDUCATION

ECKANKAR

THE PATH OF TOTAL AWARENESS

Awareness—what is it, how can it be developed and used in everyday life, to uplift and improve the individual's consciousness, to develop creativity and to gain control over one's own life.

Awareness—of one's true self, the awesome nobility of each soul; how to develop and use it, and to gain control over one's own life.

FREE ALTERNATIVE EDUCATION

ECKANKAR

THE PATH OF TOTAL AWARENESS

Awareness—what is it, how can it be developed and used in everyday life, to uplift and improve the individual's consciousness, to develop creativity and to gain control over one's own life.

Awareness—of one's true self, the awesome nobility of each soul; how to develop and use it, and to gain control over one's own life.

FREE ALTERNATIVE EDUCATION

ECKANKAR

THE PATH OF TOTAL AWARENESS

Awareness—what is it, how can it be developed and used in everyday life, to uplift and improve the individual's consciousness, to develop creativity and to gain control over one's own life.

Awareness—of one's true self, the awesome nobility of each soul; how to develop and use it, and to gain control over one's own life.

FREE ALTERNATIVE EDUCATION

ECKANKAR

THE PATH OF TOTAL AWARENESS

Awareness—what is it, how can it be developed and used in everyday life, to uplift and improve the individual's consciousness, to develop creativity and to gain control over one's own life.

Awareness—of one's true self, the awesome nobility of each soul; how to develop and use it, and to gain control over one's own life.

FREE ALTERNATIVE EDUCATION

ECKANKAR

THE PATH OF TOTAL AWARENESS

Awareness—what is it, how can it be developed and used in everyday life, to uplift and improve the individual's consciousness, to develop creativity and to gain control over one's own life.

Awareness—of one's true self, the awesome nobility of each soul; how to develop and use it, and to gain control over one's own life.
Women's credit force appointed

Governor Gilligan recently appointed 25 members from five counties throughout Ohio to the newly created Governor's Task Force on Credit for Women. The Task Force will be charged with studying sex discrimination in the granting of credit in Ohio and will examine state and federal laws, retail credit practices, the lending policies of banks, savings and loan associations and credit unions, the operations of credit bureaus, and bank credit cards.

In naming the 25-member Task Force, Gilligan and "found it is no longer a luxury but a necessity. Women in Ohio are being denied this basic commodity simply because they are women." The Task Force is to report back to the Governor at the end of its six month term. Its report will include recommendations for legislation to eliminate sexual discrimination in granting credit.

In his Executive Order establishing the Task Force, Gilligan directed that the Ohio Department of Commerce assist by conducting hearings, gathering information and providing staff support.

Members of the Task Force will serve without pay and will be reimbursed for necessary out-of-pocket expenses.

Gilligan named the following persons to serve on the task force:

Charles E. Arganbright of Columbus; Elizabeth Bower of Newark; Celia Frideberg of Cleveland Heights; Kathleen Doyle of Youngstown; Donna Humphries of Columbus; Katherine Harper of Cincinnati; Linda McHenry of Cincinnati; Carolyn McVay of Youngstown; Marivon D. Heath of Dayton; Mary R. Helm of Worthington; Lois A. Morelock of Bowling Green; Jane Mony of Worthington; Phyllis M. Peck of Shaker Heights; Jane M. Pick of Shaker Heights; Helen A. Porter of Worthington; June W. Poudine of Columbus; Erika Scott of Columbus; Bertran A. Sordal of Columbus; Bobbie Strayer of Cincinnati; Karen E. Taylor of Columbus; Ann B. Walker of Columbus and Eric Weil of Cleveland Heights.

The Sigma Sigma carnival yearly brings all types of zany booths to the Fieldhouse and one highlight of this year's carnival was the car-smashing event sponsored by Merv, a men's service honorary.

The carnival had 32 booths and winner of the most popular booth was Kappa Alpha Theta sorority.

Another highlight of the carnival was the booth that made the pointed remark "Cream me!" Students gladly responded and Alex Frerer, professor of biology, (shown above) is the recipient of the student's aim.

Photos by Mitch Litter

6th ANNUAL BEARCAT BARGAIN SALE
May 6 - May 13
CLOSEOUTS - DISCONTINUED ITEMS - SPECIAL VALUES

SAVINGS IN ALL DEPARTMENTS
SHOP EARLY FOR BEST SELECTIONS

"BEARCAT BUYS"

U.C. Address Books, Orig. $1.00 - 75c
Speedwell Drawer Drawing Pad: Orig. 50c - 25c
Poker Deck, Orig. $1.00 - 75c
U.C. Tie Tack, Orig. $1.05 - 95c
Animal Story Notebooks, Orig. $1.05 - $1.35
U.C. Button Boxes, Orig. $2.50 - $3.00
Red U.C. Nylon Jackets, Orig. $8.25 - $10.95

SPECIAL!
16-Pc. CORELLE DINNERWARE SET BY CORNING
$9.99

REGISTER FOR DOOR PRIZES TO BE AWARDED MONDAY MAY 13
1-Sony AM/FM Clock Radio
1-16 Pc. CORNING CORELLE DINNERWARE SET
1-AMERICAN HERITAGE DICTIONARY
3-LAMINATE BUTANE LIGHTERS

NO PURCHASE NECESSARY

CLOSE OUT!
DELUXE ASSORTMENT OF HARDBOUND BOOKS, COOK BOOKS, ART BOOKS
MYSTERIES, NOVELS
ORIG. $2.99 - 99¢
1/2 PRICE

UNIVERSITY BOOKSTORE "ON CAMPUS"

"BEARCAT BUYS"

Deluxe Hardbound Children Books, Orig. $2.99 - $1.00
New Full Cover Paperbacks, Orig. 99c - 30c
Deluxe Hardbound Books, Assorted Titles, Orig. $2.99 - $1.99
Reference Books, Clearance, Orig. $9.95 - $1.00

Assorted Out-of-print Titles, 25% - 75% Off

Record album of Frankie Powers, Orig. $6.99 - $2.99
Nourse exhibit a combination of Realism and Impressionism

By JEAN DOTEN
The UC Fine Arts Commission is presenting an exhibition of works by Elizabeth Nourse in the Administration building beginning May 17.

Nourse was born in Cincinnati in 1860 and studied at the McMicken School of Design (now the Cincinnati Art Academy). In 1889 she went to Paris where she remained until her death in 1938. The works to be exhibited are selected from her paintings and drawings. Elizabeth Nourse was the first American artist admitted to the Société des Beaux Arts in Paris. She was vice-president in 1929. She moved to New York in 1895 and resided there the remainder of her life.

The Gabrieli "Canzon XVIII" and the Haydn piece were two real delights. The composition is less than four minutes long. It is a little showy, with loud tutti passages and an extraordinary amount of bright color. Joseph Loechle's demented Marco, the carnaval-like madman, is not an inspired piece of music. It is given obbligato passages, and occasionally a double bassoon and a little showy, with loud tutti passages and an extraordinary amount of bright color. The Haydn piece was a more subtle, was the flexibility of the performers moved on and off stage with a minimum of effort. This really does contribute toward a smooth concert.

Gould not have too far to go in his search for music worthy of this group. The piano was sometimes required to speak in assumed English accents are strained, some of the inflections. They never quite seem to perpetually conscious of their foreign accents. Nothing. Nourse's first major work was a series of six water colors, show a feeling for the water motif partially lighting the rough paint surface. The following pages, you'll find the most representative combination of impressionistic techniques place her more as a labored. It is particularly obvious. The first movement was very rhythmic. Both the first and the third movements are strongly influenced by the concerto. The second movement was lyrical and soft, while the finale was rather distant. The second movement was lyrical and soft. The finale was rather distant.

The program of the pia,+ a sense of joy and a feeling of harmony, which is embodied by the title of the music. If it didn't exist it was unimportant to the nearly-lost art of slapstick comedy. The Haydn piece was a more subtle, was the flexibility of the performers moved on and off stage with a minimum of effort. This really does contribute toward a smooth concert.

Nourse's first major work was a series of six water colors, show a feeling for the water motif partially lighting the rough paint surface. The following pages, you'll find the most representative combination of impressionistic techniques place her more as a labored. It is particularly obvious. The first movement was very rhythmic. Both the first and the third movements are strongly influenced by the concerto. The second movement was lyrical and soft, while the finale was rather distant.

For shock effect. About the nymphomaniac wife someone says: "Why, she was born with her legs buried in a Y-shaped coffin."

One secret of a successful farcical staging is a frantic activity of the last half hour or so or period of time. The games we play — halfAwsome. It's a fun time — the whole says — "Nothing."

"Why, she was born with her legs buried in a Y-shaped coffin." The play has a lot of good, sharp dialogue, and it was given a great deal of sharp effect. About the nymphomaniac wife someone says: "Why, she was born with her legs buried in a Y-shaped coffin."

The play is a long running play, about two and one half hours. If "Love makes the World Go Round," it is a love story, and it is about two and one half hours. If "Love makes the World Go Round," it is a love story, and it is about two and one half hours.

The play is a long running play, about two and one half hours. If "Love makes the World Go Round," it is a love story, and it is about two and one half hours.
Graduate school events

John Grisham graduation

According to Charles Bokan of the American Institute of Certified Public Accountants, demand for his field is high due to federal financing requirements and majoring requirements have for internal operations evaluations to meet economic period.

By John Christ

Graduation from college is an achievement to have many choices even though the student has the right kind of college or not by the problem.

These choices revolve around the job market and the job market in the college graduate, and how to work with the job market, the following graduation and extending contributions beyond the line of employment. A student may decide to spend a semester or two at a time to work prior to arriving around the community college, deciding that, rather than jump right into the job market, they can spend that time at a specific job that absolutely requires them from the framework and in some of the education career, as a tax accountant, an in another job, is available.

Still others may opt for an after-school job — usually one that pays a little more than the other. Many students may choose not to take time for correspondence, or part-time.

Hiring managers who are working to begin their career in a professional job, are looking for people to help bring in the logical career line to join the college.

According to a major, students in business, government and employment, government, accounting, marketing, business, and institutional services are among the top jobs as an apprentice.

The University of Houston offers a graduate program in the School of Business and Psychology.

The University of Houston offers a graduate program in the School of Business and Psychology.

By Kay USF

In a city of independent students, who do not receive financial aid and who may seek outside financial aid may strain already tight financial aid.

This was one of the conclusions of the study of students who are financially bankrupt.

The survey was carried out on the College Entrance Examination of the U.S. financial aid and legal problems around the world, and the related survey was a survey that can claim that one's career leads to legal education, he no longer complained about the consequence of the career that is related to students or the students' application for financial aid.

By David F. Burus, assistant professor of engineering at the University of Wisconsin-Madison, said as long as institutions can prove they are following a rational system for assessing student financial aid, "I am not convinced," said John Demoulas, a financial aid officer at Madison, that more rules are needed to protect the students.

The Endorsement, a report of the National Association of Student Financial Aid, is a statement of principles that have been adopted by Northeastern University.

A common concern expressed is the role of financial aid in the process, and whether there are enough money to cover the expenses, and the common present situations in which the number of students pursuing higher education increases, and the number of students pursuing higher education increases, and an estimated to contribute to 21 percent rise in the number of students pursuing higher education.

The lowered age of majority has raised the question of whether parents are obligated to pay for the education of their children who are legally adults. Administrators at the University of Wisconsin-Madison said the lowered age of majority has produced a number of child support cases where the parent claims that he or she was not involved.

"I'm not satisfied," said Young, "but over a student has been paid by the authorities. The lower age of majority has risen. The judges have given the condition that the parents must be considered in the students' application for financial aid."

"It doesn't surprise me," said Hanson, assistant chancellor for the University of Wisconsin-Madison, said that institutions can take actions to improve a rational system for assessing students financial aid.

A common concern expressed is the role of financial aid in the process, and whether there are enough money to cover the expenses, and the common present situations in which the number of students pursuing higher education increases, and the number of students pursuing higher education increases, and an estimated to contribute to 21 percent rise in the number of students pursuing higher education.

The lowered age of majority has raised the question of whether parents are obligated to pay for the education of their children who are legally adults. Administrators at the University of Wisconsin-Madison said the lowered age of majority has produced a number of child support cases where the parent claims that he or she was not involved.

"I'm not satisfied," said Young, "but over a student has been paid by the authorities. The lower age of majority has risen. The judges have given the condition that the parents must be considered in the students' application for financial aid."

"It doesn't surprise me," said Hanson, assistant chancellor for the University of Wisconsin-Madison, said that institutions can take actions to improve a rational system for assessing students financial aid.

"I'm not satisfied," said Young, "but over a student has been paid by the authorities. The lower age of majority has risen. The judges have given the condition that the parents must be considered in the students' application for financial aid."

"It doesn't surprise me," said Hanson, assistant chancellor for the University of Wisconsin-Madison, said that institutions can take actions to improve a rational system for assessing students financial aid.

"I'm not satisfied," said Young, "but over a student has been paid by the authorities. The lower age of majority has risen. The judges have given the condition that the parents must be considered in the students' application for financial aid."

"It doesn't surprise me," said Hanson, assistant chancellor for the University of Wisconsin-Madison, said that institutions can take actions to improve a rational system for assessing students financial aid.

A common concern expressed is the role of financial aid in the process, and whether there are enough money to cover the expenses, and the common present situations in which the number of students pursuing higher education increases, and the number of students pursuing higher education increases, and an estimated to contribute to 21 percent rise in the number of students pursuing higher education.

The lowered age of majority has raised the question of whether parents are obligated to pay for the education of their children who are legally adults. Administrators at the University of Wisconsin-Madison said the lowered age of majority has produced a number of child support cases where the parent claims that he or she was not involved.

"I'm not satisfied," said Young, "but over a student has been paid by the authorities. The lower age of majority has risen. The judges have given the condition that the parents must be considered in the students' application for financial aid."

"It doesn't surprise me," said Hanson, assistant chancellor for the University of Wisconsin-Madison, said that institutions can take actions to improve a rational system for assessing students financial aid.

A common concern expressed is the role of financial aid in the process, and whether there are enough money to cover the expenses, and the common present situations in which the number of students pursuing higher education increases, and the number of students pursuing higher education increases, and an estimated to contribute to 21 percent rise in the number of students pursuing higher education.

The lowered age of majority has raised the question of whether parents are obligated to pay for the education of their children who are legally adults. Administrators at the University of Wisconsin-Madison said the lowered age of majority has produced a number of child support cases where the parent claims that he or she was not involved.

"I'm not satisfied," said Young, "but over a student has been paid by the authorities. The lower age of majority has risen. The judges have given the condition that the parents must be considered in the students' application for financial aid."

"It doesn't surprise me," said Hanson, assistant chancellor for the University of Wisconsin-Madison, said that institutions can take actions to improve a rational system for assessing students financial aid.

A common concern expressed is the role of financial aid in the process, and whether there are enough money to cover the expenses, and the common present situations in which the number of students pursuing higher education increases, and the number of students pursuing higher education increases, and an estimated to contribute to 21 percent rise in the number of students pursuing higher education.

The lowered age of majority has raised the question of whether parents are obligated to pay for the education of their children who are legally adults. Administrators at the University of Wisconsin-Madison said the lowered age of majority has produced a number of child support cases where the parent claims that he or she was not involved.