Coll. bargaining changes

Board finalizes election plans

As students completed their exams and added another year to their academic calendars, there were more changes announced in the collective bargaining process and the process that has caused confusion among the University's faculty.

UC's Board of Directors, which governs the university on all academic matters, June 4 and any group other than the Joint American University of Los Angeles Professor (AASP) which wants to be on the ballot must file a Senate report.

Stephanie Lien, past president of the Faculty Senate, is an ardent supporter of collaborative bargaining.

Faculty Senate, is an ardent sup-

Lowell Leek Jr., past president of the Board of Regents of the Faculty Senate, is an ardent supporter of collaborative bargaining.

Lowell Leek Jr., past president of the Faculty Senate, is an ardent supporter of collaborative bargaining.

Lowell Leek Jr., past president of the Board of Regents of the Faculty Senate, is an ardent supporter of collaborative bargaining.

Lowell Leek Jr., past president of the Board of Regents of the Faculty Senate, is an ardent supporter of collaborative bargaining.

Why the Drought?

Standard explanations for minority problems with minority groups include a host of limitations on the education and economic status of the needy. This also results from the fact that the neediest minority has black students.

Some critics, however, echo the view that the trend is being evidenced by violent demonstration behavior and political rhetoric.

The trend continues.

Minority enrollment programs have brought new evidence of a high dropout rate and a disproportionate level of failure among the minority graduates of professional schools.

ThexAC report noted the proportion of minority students to all institutions dropped from 14 to 12 percent for the class of '76 for the class of '77. Portal 1, the America for Black Americans at Harvard in 1969 demonstrated that the trend in minority academic qualifications was actually a political question. Their debate demonstrated that politics have changed.

Black enrollment in Harvard Law School dropped from 3 percent to 1 percent in 1972; менe in 1973.

Black admissions to Harvard College fell from 5 percent in 1967 to 2 percent in 1975.

Black admissions to Harvard College fell from 5 percent in 1967 to 2 percent in 1975.

Black admissions to Harvard College fell from 5 percent in 1967 to 2 percent in 1975.

Black admissions to Harvard College fell from 5 percent in 1967 to 2 percent in 1975.

Black admissions to Harvard College fell from 5 percent in 1967 to 2 percent in 1975.

Black admissions to Harvard College fell from 5 percent in 1967 to 2 percent in 1975.

Black admissions to Harvard College fell from 5 percent in 1967 to 2 percent in 1975.

Black admissions to Harvard College fell from 5 percent in 1967 to 2 percent in 1975.

Black admissions to Harvard College fell from 5 percent in 1967 to 2 percent in 1975.

The trend continues.

Minority enrollment programs have brought new evidence of a high dropout rate and a disproportionate level of failure among the minority graduates of professional schools.

ThexAC report noted the proportion of minority students to all institutions dropped from 14 to 12 percent for the class of '76 for the class of '77. Portal 1, the America for Black Americans at Harvard in 1969 demonstrated that the trend in minority academic qualifications was actually a political question. Their debate demonstrated that politics have changed.

Black enrollment in Harvard Law School dropped from 3 percent to 1 percent in 1972; men in 1973.

Black admissions to Harvard College fell from 5 percent in 1967 to 2 percent in 1975.

Black admissions to Harvard College fell from 5 percent in 1967 to 2 percent in 1975.

Black admissions to Harvard College fell from 5 percent in 1967 to 2 percent in 1975.

Black admissions to Harvard College fell from 5 percent in 1967 to 2 percent in 1975.

Black admissions to Harvard College fell from 5 percent in 1967 to 2 percent in 1975.

Black admissions to Harvard College fell from 5 percent in 1967 to 2 percent in 1975.

Black admissions to Harvard College fell from 5 percent in 1967 to 2 percent in 1975.

Black admissions to Harvard College fell from 5 percent in 1967 to 2 percent in 1975.

Black admissions to Harvard College fell from 5 percent in 1967 to 2 percent in 1975.

Black admissions to Harvard College fell from 5 percent in 1967 to 2 percent in 1975.

The trend continues.

Minority enrollment programs have brought new evidence of a high dropout rate and a disproportionate level of failure among the minority graduates of professional schools.

ThexAC report noted the proportion of minority students to all institutions dropped from 14 to 12 percent for the class of '76 for the class of '77. Portal 1, the America for Black Americans at Harvard in 1969 demonstrated that the trend in minority academic qualifications was actually a political question. Their debate demonstrated that politics have changed.

Black enrollment in Harvard Law School dropped from 3 percent to 1 percent in 1972; men in 1973.

Black admissions to Harvard College fell from 5 percent in 1967 to 2 percent in 1975.

Black admissions to Harvard College fell from 5 percent in 1967 to 2 percent in 1975.

Black admissions to Harvard College fell from 5 percent in 1967 to 2 percent in 1975.

Black admissions to Harvard College fell from 5 percent in 1967 to 2 percent in 1975.

Black admissions to Harvard College fell from 5 percent in 1967 to 2 percent in 1975.

Black admissions to Harvard College fell from 5 percent in 1967 to 2 percent in 1975.

Black admissions to Harvard College fell from 5 percent in 1967 to 2 percent in 1975.

Black admissions to Harvard College fell from 5 percent in 1967 to 2 percent in 1975.

Black admissions to Harvard College fell from 5 percent in 1967 to 2 percent in 1975.

Black admissions to Harvard College fell from 5 percent in 1967 to 2 percent in 1975.

The trend continues.

Minority enrollment programs have brought new evidence of a high dropout rate and a disproportionate level of failure among the minority graduates of professional schools.

ThexAC report noted the proportion of minority students to all institutions dropped from 14 to 12 percent for the class of '76 for the class of '77. Portal 1, the America for Black Americans at Harvard in 1969 demonstrated that the trend in minority academic qualifications was actually a political question. Their debate demonstrated that politics have changed.

Black enrollment in Harvard Law School dropped from 3 percent to 1 percent in 1972; men in 1973.

Black admissions to Harvard College fell from 5 percent in 1967 to 2 percent in 1975.

Black admissions to Harvard College fell from 5 percent in 1967 to 2 percent in 1975.

Black admissions to Harvard College fell from 5 percent in 1967 to 2 percent in 1975.

Black admissions to Harvard College fell from 5 percent in 1967 to 2 percent in 1975.

Black admissions to Harvard College fell from 5 percent in 1967 to 2 percent in 1975.

Black admissions to Harvard College fell from 5 percent in 1967 to 2 percent in 1975.

Black admissions to Harvard College fell from 5 percent in 1967 to 2 percent in 1975.

Black admissions to Harvard College fell from 5 percent in 1967 to 2 percent in 1975.

Black admissions to Harvard College fell from 5 percent in 1967 to 2 percent in 1975.

The trend continues.
Ervin uprohs Constitution before UC graduates

By KITTH GLASKER

President Nixon should listen to all Watergate-related evidence before he makes any judgment about the Fifth Amendment, declared Senator John E. Stennis, a Georgia Democrat, at a pre-inaugural press conference yesterday.

"The purpose of the press conference is to make sure that the evidence is heard," said Stennis, who is a member of the Senate Government Operations Committee.

"The evidence must be presented to the President," he said. "The President is a lawyer, too."
Full text not provided.
Intramurals into full swing this week

BY DEBBIE COPPLELAND

Gambrills 1 is closed during the summer months, but Mike Pleva, recreation director, says information on outdoor recreation activities and facilities can be obtained through the recreation center.

The Intramural Department is sponsoring a week of soccer. Approximately 30 teams are registered for the soccer tournament. The games will be played Monday through Thursday and Monday through Friday.

The颓amous crees to be played will be soccer, basketball, volleyball, and baseball. The games will be played in the Recreation Center.

The Intramural Department is also sponsoring a week of golf. Approximately 30 teams are registered for the golf tournament. The games will be played Monday through Thursday and Monday through Friday.

The颓amous crees to be played will be golf, tennis, and softball. The games will be played in the Recreation Center.

The Intramural Department is also sponsoring a week of basketball. Approximately 30 teams are registered for the basketball tournament. The games will be played Monday through Thursday and Monday through Friday.

The颓amous crees to be played will be basketball, volleyball, and softball. The games will be played in the Recreation Center.

The Intramural Department is also sponsoring a week of volleyball. Approximately 30 teams are registered for the volleyball tournament. The games will be played Monday through Thursday and Monday through Friday.

The颓amous crees to be played will be volleyball, basketball, and softball. The games will be played in the Recreation Center.

The Intramural Department is also sponsoring a week of softball. Approximately 30 teams are registered for the softball tournament. The games will be played Monday through Thursday and Monday through Friday.

The颓amous crees to be played will be softball, basketball, and volleyball. The games will be played in the Recreation Center.

The Intramural Department is also sponsoring a week of tennis. Approximately 30 teams are registered for the tennis tournament. The games will be played Monday through Thursday and Monday through Friday.

The颓amous crees to be played will be tennis, basketball, and softball. The games will be played in the Recreation Center.

The Intramural Department is also sponsoring a week of baseball. Approximately 30 teams are registered for the baseball tournament. The games will be played Monday through Thursday and Monday through Friday.

The颓amous crees to be played will be baseball, softball, and volleyball. The games will be played in the Recreation Center.

The Intramural Department is also sponsoring a week of softball. Approximately 30 teams are registered for the softball tournament. The games will be played Monday through Thursday and Monday through Friday.

The颓amous crees to be played will be softball, basketball, and volleyball. The games will be played in the Recreation Center.

The Intramural Department is also sponsoring a week of basketball. Approximately 30 teams are registered for the basketball tournament. The games will be played Monday through Thursday and Monday through Friday.

The颓amous crees to be played will be basketball, volleyball, and softball. The games will be played in the Recreation Center.

The Intramural Department is also sponsoring a week of volleyball. Approximately 30 teams are registered for the volleyball tournament. The games will be played Monday through Thursday and Monday through Friday.

The颓amous crees to be played will be volleyball, basketball, and softball. The games will be played in the Recreation Center.

The Intramural Department is also sponsoring a week of tennis. Approximately 30 teams are registered for the tennis tournament. The games will be played Monday through Thursday and Monday through Friday.

The颓amous crees to be played will be tennis, basketball, and softball. The games will be played in the Recreation Center.

The Intramural Department is also sponsoring a week of baseball. Approximately 30 teams are registered for the baseball tournament. The games will be played Monday through Thursday and Monday through Friday.

The颓amous crees to be played will be baseball, softball, and volleyball. The games will be played in the Recreation Center.

The Intramural Department is also sponsoring a week of softball. Approximately 30 teams are registered for the softball tournament. The games will be played Monday through Thursday and Monday through Friday.

The颓amous crees to be played will be softball, basketball, and volleyball. The games will be played in the Recreation Center.

THE COLLEGE GAZETTE